Action Taken by Utah Senate

Bill Withdrawing Ratification of Six-State Agreement Passed Unanimously

Wyoming Governor Seeks Conference for States of Upper Basin

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 17. (AP)—By a unanimous vote the Utah Senate today passed the Norbeck bill, repealing Utah's ratification of the six-State Colorado River compact, which was passed by the unanimous vote of the Utah State Senate on January 9, after it had been amended to eliminate all reference to the seven-State compact.

The vote on the passage of the measure was 21 Senators voting for it, none voting against it and one absent. The action of the Senate in passing the bill was taken after suspension of rules.

Governor H. Dern, in his communication to the Senate, called attention in his message to the Legislature, in which he discussed the Colorado River subject and expressed his views.

It could be had foreshadowed in this message the possible necessity of taking action now requested by the Utah delegation, repealing ratification of the six-State compact, although he had noted that such action might be averted by negotiations between California and Arizona which would result in the ratification of the seven-State compact by those two States.

Action of the House, which is necessary to complete the passage of the Norbeck bill, probably will be taken tomorrow.

WYOMING GOVERNOR SEEKS FOR CONFERENCE

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Governor Frank C. Emerson today asked the Governors of Utah, Colorado and New Mexico to attend a Colorado River conference here in the near future.

"I understand the Utah Legislature is considering revocation of actions of other legislators in approving the Colorado River compact under both the Hoover and six-States plans," Governor Emerson telegraphed Gov. George H. Dern of Utah.

"Pending such action would be unwise in the circumstances that exist, I urge serious study before any further legislative action is taken. Wyoming is practically in the same position as Utah in this matter and should have the opportunity of considering same."

Governor Dern followed the telegram with a letter explaining his attitude. Speaking of the proposal by Utah to make the seven States compact, Governor Dern said: "I cannot believe it will have serious consideration

Local Addition in List of Plans

Joint Committee Finds Need for $176,000,000 Building Throughout Nation

Sum of $3,000,000 Declared to be Necessity Here for Larger Structure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—An addition to the Federal Building in Los Angeles to cost $3,000,000 is proposed in the report of the joint Committee on Treasury and Postoffice Building submitted to Congress today by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and P.M.-Gen. New.

The minimum building requirements of the two departments throughout the country, the committee estimated, will reach $176,000,000. Secretary Mellon and P.M.-Gen. New anticipate that action by Congress will increase the authorization to $200,000,000.

Of the total sum suggested in the committee report, California cities have been allocated more than $10,000,000, the largest proposed expenditure being for San Francisco, where it is planned to spend $5,000,000 for an office building to house various Federal activities. The report states that San Francisco requires no additional facilities for the accommodation of the postal service.

GREAT GROWTH CITED

Discussing the situation in Los Angeles the committee draws attention to the fact that the population in 1920 was 319,198 and that the estimated population for 1926 was 1,211,333. Postal receipts for Los Angeles climbed from $2,377,043 in 1916 to $8,474,872 in 1926.

The report proceeds:

"In so far as the postal service is concerned, there is need only at the present time for sufficient space to relieve the financial section of the postoffice now located in the Federal Building. Activities of the Postoffice Department are carried on principally in the Arcade station, located near the Southern Pacific-Union Pacific depot which station contains 140,000 square feet of space and costs $125,750 a year in rental.

"The lease on this station runs until 1943 and contains a cancelable clause. No action is recommended concerning the disturbance of the lease.

"There are a number of activities other than postal now renting space at a cost of $60,468 all of which could be housed in the Federal Building if provision were made for their accommodation. A joint survey was made of conditions in Los Angeles

PERU TURNS DOWN PLAN OF KELLOGG

Proposal to Cede Tacna and Arica Areas to Bolivia Rejected in Lengthy Note

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Peru has rejected the proposal of Secretary Kellogg that the disputed provinces of Tacna and Arica be ceded to Bolivia.

The State Department was so advised in a lengthy memorandum delivered to Mr. Kellogg today by Ambassador Velarde. The text of the communication was made public at the department tonight.

Declaring that because a plebiscite has not been held the two provinces 'continue to be Peruvian," the memorandum said:

"Peru cannot accept the proposed cession of the territory of Tacna and Arica to anyone, whether by purchase or by any other methods, because he who has been defending for more than forty years his rights over said territories cannot convert them into a merchandise subject to a price however large this may be."

LAUSANNE PACT FOES WIN TEST

Administration Fails to Muster Two-thirds Vote on Turkish Capitulations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—In the first test of strength on the Lausanne treaty administration forces today failed to muster a two-thirds majority which would be necessary for ratification of the pact for re-establishment of diplomatic and commercial relations with Turkey.

The test came in executive session on the second article of the treaty relating to capitulations. This was approved by a vote reported to have been 50 to 33.

A final vote on the treaty itself is expected tomorrow with opponents predicting its rejection.

New Antitrust Policy Declared to be Justified

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Results obtained under the antitrust policy adopted about a year ago by the Department of Justice, under which preliminary examinations are made into proposed mergers of competing corporations engaged in the same lines of business "fully justify" such a policy, in the belief of William J. Donovan, assistant to the Attorney-General.

Donovan showed that during the last fiscal year fines totaling $520,301 were imposed in antitrust cases; eleven equity decrees were entered, and sixteen cases were instituted involving many manufactured commodities.

Kansas Senator Threatens War on Mince Pies

TOPEKA (Kan.) Jan. 17. (AP)—If the law forbidding the sale of cigarettes remains on the Kansas statute books State Senator Finley will introduce a bill forbidding the "making, selling, serving or owning of mince pie."

"If the people of Kansas want the Legislature to prescribe rules for everyone I don't want to sidestep my responsibility," Senator Finley said today. "The eating of mince pie is one of our great national evils. I am fond of it, but it really doesn't agree with me. Mince pie gives many a child nightmare, and loss of sleep stunts growth and causes nervousness."

Thousands Hear Mrs. McPherson Close in Denver

DENVER, Jan. 17. (AP)—The seating capacity of the Denver Auditorium was overtaxed tonight when Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist opened her fourth and concluding meeting in Denver. A crowd of 12,000 people assembled to listen to her sermon, and many were turned away from the Auditorium doors.

At the afternoon meeting a large crowd listened to the evangelist's exposition of "divine healing," many joining her when she prayed for more than 2000 afflicted persons.

Forester Puts State Fire Loss at $1,800,000

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17. (AP)—California last year had 3002 forest and field fires in State and Federal-patrolled areas, which burned over a total of 1,195,816 acres and caused a loss of $1,800,000, according to a report of the 1926 fire situation made public today by State Forester M. B. Pratt.

In amount of loss, the year 1926 was exceeded only by the record fire year of 1924 and the number of fires was the greatest in the history of the State Forestry Board.

Smoking, Pratt's report shows, caused 26 per cent of the fires.

COLD WAVE MOVING ON MIDWEST

Snow Flurries and Zero Temperature Forecast in Central States Area

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Renewed cold weather was hastening upon the Middle West tonight with a promise of snow flurries and zero weather by morning. The intense cold will last until tomorrow night or Wednesday morning, said the weather forecaster, and it still will be cold Thursday.

Right back of that cold wave is another one, moving in from the Mackenzie River basin, and already making itself felt in the border States of the Northwest.

In the Southwest a cold wave warning was issued, with a forecast of temperatures of from 5 to 10 deg. above zero, accompanied by a light snow, beginning tonight. Today moderating temperatures gave a respite to most of the Middle West.

The weather map today showed two low-pressure storm areas which had centers in the northern lakes region and the Far Southwest.

Virtually all the northern tier of States reported precipitation, but the South was dry.

Several Canadian stations reported subzero temperatures, but Williston, N. D., was the coldest place in the United States with minus 12.

SUPREME COURT TO RECESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Supreme Court will recess from next Monday until February 21, when it will render opinions in a number of accumulated cases.

WHIP GIVEN CONGRESS

Daugherty Must Heed Summons

Supreme Court Decides That Both Houses Have Right to Call a Witness

Issue of Enforced Testimony and Document Demands Untouched in Case

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—The power of Congress to compel the attendance of witnesses at investigations or hearings was upheld today by the Supreme Court in a unanimous opinion.

The decision was rendered in the case of Mal S. Daugherty of Washington Courthouse, O., who refused to appear before the special Senate committee authorized to investigate the administration of the Department of Justice under his brother, Harry M. Daugherty, as Attorney-General.

The court did not pass on the question of the power of Congress to compel witnesses either to answer questions or to produce books and papers demanded by committees. It held that these two questions were not raised in this particular case.

READY TO BE STERN

The effect of the decision is to clear the way for the court to bring Mal Daugherty before its bar or before a committee, and there propound to him such questions as its investigating committee had in mind to ask him.

Should he then fail to make responses the Senate undoubtedly would follow the same couse it did in the case of Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil producer, who now is under indictment in the District of Columbia Supreme Court for contempt of the Senate by reason of his failure to answer questions in the Teapot Dome investigation.

The Sinclair case is a broader one than that on which the court passed today, in that the oil man specifically refused, on the advice of counsel, to answer specific questions put to him by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the inquiry.

LEADERS PLEASED

Receiving the decision of the court with expressions of deep satisfaction, Senate leaders regarded it also as clearing the pathway for action against Robert E. Crowe, State's Attorney for Cook county, Illinois, and others who declined to answer certain questions propounded to them by the Senate Campaign Funds Committee during its investigation of the Illinois and Pennsylvania Senatorial primaries last summer.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, indicated to the Senate today that his committee will report the facts in the near future for such action as the Senate may desire to take.

Senator Reed told the committee that the action of the court is "of far-reaching importance."

When Daugherty originally was subpoenaed, he was directed to appear as a witness and bring certain books and papers of his bank. He refused to come to Washington and a second subpoena was issued, in which all reference to books and papers was omitted, and a subcommittee went to Ohio armed with that order.

REFUSES AGAIN

He again refused to appear and the Senate adopted a resolution holding him in contempt in which no reference was made to books and papers. Under these circumstances, the court found that the question before it had been narrowed to the power of Congress to compel witnesses to appear and testify, and that there was no occasion for it to pass on the power of Congress or a committee to require the production of books and papers.

Having concluded that the investigation was legitimate, the court declared that Daugherty "had wrongfully refused to appear and testify before the committee and was lawfully attached; that the Senate is entitled to have him give testimony pertinent to the inquiry, either at its bar or before the committee and that the District Court erred in discharging him, from custody."

The decision was construed in Congressional circles as leaving open for future court construction the pertinency and legitimacy of specific questions asked witnesses, making it necessary, as in the Sinclair case, for the courts to determine whether the witness should be compelled to answer certain questions asked him.

MAL DAUGHERTY REFUSES TO COMMENT

WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE (O.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Mal S. Daugherty, who refused in 1924 to testify before the Senate committee investigating activities of his brother, Harry M. Daugherty, former United States Attorney-General, tonight adopted a noncommittal attitude on the Supreme Court's order that he be returned to the Senate for whatever action it may take toward his punishment.

His only comment was, "I have nothing to say. All I know about it is what I read in the papers. I have no plans."

PRELATE LEADS HOLY WAR OF MEXICANS AS 100 DIE

Archbishop Takes Field Against Federals in Jalisco While Many Rebels Lose Lives in Fray

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 17. (AP)—More than 100 rebels have been killed by the Federals in a battle near Tepatitan, State of Jalisco. These casualties are in addition to the 100 reported yesterday by the War Department. According to dispatches to the War Department, the Catholic Archbishop Francisco Orozcoy Jiminez of Guadalajara personally has taken the field in this section at the head of a revolutionary army under the banner: "Viva Cristo Rey," (long live Christ the King).

Catholic headquarters in Mexico City is without confirmation that the archbishop is fighting as leader of the rebels; there is fear that, if true, he is likely to be killed.

MORE TROOPS TO GO

The War Department today ordered Federal reinforcements to entrain for the State of Jalisco, after receiving reports indicating that the "Catholic rebellion" there has assumed serious proportions.

Government troops and revolutionists are battling in several States in addition to Jalisco, where, together with Durango, the rebellion appears to have made the most headway.

From Durango special dispatches report a battle has been going on since Saturday at San Partolo between Federal forces commanded by Gen. Lopez and a band of rebels under Tiroo Guzrok and Damaso Barraza. Three hundred rebels are reported to be fighting desperately against 250 soldiers.

Barraza, described in the special dispatches as a prominent Catholic leader, who, with Gurrola revolted in the Mesquital district under the banner "For My God and My Country," was killed in the battle at San Partolo, his body being exhibited at Durango City.

The combat lasted for several hours. Details still are lacking.

SOME SURRENDER

Gurrola and Barraza were victorious in an encounter with Federal troops ten days ago, defeating a column commanded by Gen. Leon.

Puebla dispatches say that Isabel and Toribio Guerrero, brothers, who have been active rebellious leaders in the States of Puebla and Tlaxcala, have surrendered unconditionally with the men under their command, giving up their arms.

The Mexican government is arming peasants in the States where rebellious elements are active, following on the offer of the agrarian communities to support the government. Minister of Agriculture Leon, attending an agricultural exposition at Celaya, State of Guanajuato, distributed 1000 rifles among the agrarians. Two thousand rifles and 500,000 cartridges a thousand rifles and former Gov. Zuno during a mass meeting of agrarians at Guadalajara City.

Speaking in behalf of President Calles, Zuno told the peasants that the reactionary agitation fostered by the clergy" will not succeed because, besides arms and loyalty, the Mexican government has the patriotic support of the Mexican worker and peasant.

PRIESTS ARRIVE

Twenty Catholic priests have arrived in Mexico City from the State of Durango. That State at the present time is without priests in accordance with instructions of the Department of Interior ordering concentration in Mexico City of all priests of Durango "because of Catholic revolutionary activities there."

Other priests who have arrived in Mexico City are being released, but they will be compelled to register every morning at the Department of the Interior.

Violence of Mobs Increases at Tales of Foreigners Murdering Babies

Christians Fleeing Interior; British Cabinet Meets to Consider Crisis

PEKING, Jan. 17. (AP)—Hostility toward foreigners in China seemed today to be gathering momentum as dispatches poured in from widely separated sections relating antiforeign agitation and violence. The northern and the southern factions which have been engaged in civil war for months announced similar programs for eradication of foreign influence and rights in China as a means of rallying adherents to the rival governments—the Peking and the Cantonese, or Nationalist.

The old Boxer canard of twenty-six years ago that foreigners were killing Chinese babies was revived yesterday in Poochow to arouse the Chinese to violence. Chinese mobs ranged the city from morning to nightfall attacking foreign mission churches and hospitals and beating a number of missionaries. Spanish priests and nuns fled in disguise as a mob swept over church premises as a result of a story that Spanish nuns had murdered some twenty Chinese babies and that their decomposed bodies had been brought out of the nunnery.

CHURCHES SACKED

All Catholic churches and schools in Poochow were plundered by the Chinese, who also sacked a number of Protestant institutions. The 40,000 Nationalist soldiers in the city did nothing to halt the fury of the mobs, and it was asserted that many northern soldiers enrolled in the Nationalist ranks led in the attack on the foreigners.

White persons continued to evacuate the inland province, Szechwan. British residents were said to be departing from Chengtu, its capital, in parties of thirty.

There is much anti-Christian feeling in Shensi province, where the so-called Christian general, Feng Yu-Hsiang, recently returned to command of the Kuominchun troops, which he headed before the government they supported was ousted from Peking in April by other militarists. Letters stated that some of the powerful leaders in Shensi province were urging the coolies to mob action, and that posters and sandbills were being circulated in denunciation of Christianity.

Christmas celebrations had been broken up in Sianfu, capital of Shensi province and signs over church doors smashed. Most of the English Baptist missionaries had evacuated the province.

The Peking government has begun negotiations with Belgium for a new treaty based on China's demands for equal rights, and at the outset ob-

TAFT URGES LAW REFORMS

Chief Justice Blames State Legislatures for Laxity in Crime Procedure and Points Way Out

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Chief Justice Taft, in an interview with Oliver P. Newman in the current issue of Collier's Weekly, lays the duty of curbing crime and lawlessness at the doors of the State legislatures and advocates many far-reaching reforms of judicial procedure to cope with the crime wave.

The Chief Justice, his interviewer says, feels that the seriousness of the crime situation and the need of action justify him in departing from the tradition of silence which attaches to the office of Chief Justice of the United States.

REFORMS URGED

Justice Taft favors the abolition of grand juries, as well as police court juries, and for the former would substitute a system of informations by prosecuting attorneys founded on investigation.

He would have these officials in each county under the control of the State attorneys-general and in turn have the State departments of justice co-ordinate the activities of all police officers of the State. Each State, the Chief Justice thinks, should have a State detective service and a State constabulary.

"The State governments," the Chief Justice is quoted as saying, "have largely avoided effort and expense in the initial arrest and prosecution of crime up to this time. They ought now to assume a duty in this regard."

While constitutional rights of defendants should be preserved, the Chief Justice is quoted as favoring greater freedom for judges in advising with and instructing juries without danger of having that made grounds for reversal.

HOW TO BAR DELAY

For reducing the law's delays he favors greater liberality in introduction of evidence and greater discretion on its admissability so that new trials might not be granted on that ground. In criminal cases, one appeal under ordinary circumstances the Chief Justice believes sufficient, and for prompt trials he advocates more justices.

Paroles, Mr. Taft believes, have been abused, and should be granted with greater care, and he attacks "soft" treatment for convicts.

On that point, his interviewer quotes the Chief Justice as saying:

"We ought to give criminals who

NEW STAGES TO BE BUILT FOR STUDIO

First National Plant Will Add Facilities to Cost in Excess of $200,000

Immediate construction of two additional film stages, each with approximately 80,000 square feet of floor space, was authorized yesterday by Richard A. Rowland, president of First National Productions, Inc., which has just completed his first year's production of the company's new plant at Burbank. Rowland arrived here recently from New York.

The cost of the two stages will be approximately $200,000, he said. It was originally planned to have the new stage space next fall, but the removal of all First National Productions from New York to the Pacific Coast and the number of big features which are to be started shortly caused Rowland to plan immediate action.

The building permits will be taken out immediately, the work should begin within ten days. It is expected that the stages will be ready for use within sixty days.

This increased space will make the First National studios the largest in the world. There are already two tremendous stages in operation, the largest in the film colony—as well as a complete theater stage.

"We are very elated," said Rowland, "over the results obtained at the Burbank plant, since concentrating our production here, by John McCormick, general manager of West Coast production, and M. C. Levee, general executive manager.

"The first of February will see eight productions at work on the lot, including two superspecials, 'The Patent Leather Kid,' starring Richard Barthelmess, and 'The Tender Hour,' George Fitzmaurice's first picture under his new contract, featuring Bebe Daniels, Lyon, Billie Dove and Alec B. Francis. More pictures will be added during the month, and we expect to have every foot of space occupied by the time our new stages are up."

ATTORNEYS WILL OPEN NEW OFFICE

Law Firm to be Composed of P. E. Keeler, L. M. French and C. M. Fickert

Announcement of a new Los Angeles law firm, comprising former Judge P. E. Keeler of Superior Court, Charles M. Fickert, formerly District Attorney of San Francisco county, and Leroy N. French, former judge of the District Court at Reno, Nev., has been made by former Judge Keeler.

The firm will carry on its business under the name of Keeler, Fickert & French, with offices in the E. W. Hellman Building in this city and in the Pacific Southwest Building in Long Beach.

Judge Keeler retired from the Superior Court the first of the year with the expiration of the term for which he was appointed by former Gov. Richardson. Before leaving the bench, his decision holding that purchasers of delinquent street assessments must make representation to the court that personal service of liens had been obtained on property owners before the lien holders could claim attorneys' fees, dealt a severe blow to the so-called "street-shark" racket.

Mr. Fickert has been practicing law in this city since leaving San Francisco, where he served as District Attorney for several years previous to joining the new firm, former Judge French, the third member of the firm, was engaged in practice in Long Beach, where he was associated for some time with the former Judge Keeler before the latter's appointment to Superior Court.

Theosophical President Speaks in Hollywood on "Meaning of Fellowship"

Declaring that we all are ready to claim fellowship with the highest but less willing to associate with the lowest," Dr. Annie Besant, president of the International Theosophical Society and internationally known lecturer, last night addressed an audience which filled St. Alban's Episcopal Church, Hollywood, to overflowing. Her topic was, "The Meaning of Fellowship."

Dr. Besant defined fellowship as "the unity of God's life in all and the recognition of that unity by sympathy with all persons, high and low." That the advent of true fellowship on earth will do away with all international and industrial strife was maintained by Dr. Besant last night.

The eminent theosophist advocated the "family-spirit" idea in social relationships as a step toward the attainment of true fellowship among mankind.

Dr. Besant will remain in Los Angeles for a short while before going east. She plans to return to India via Europe some time in April.

Three Burglary Jobs Blamed on Same Criminals

Three burglaries, apparently perpetrated by the same criminals, which netted more than $1000 in clothing, jewelry and other articles, were reported to the Hollywood Police Station last night.

Burglars entered the home of P. O. Johnson, 1000 North Ardmore avenue, and that of his next-door neighbor, George Glassick, who resides at 1001 North Ardmore, while both were out. From Johnson's home clothing and jewelry valued at approximately $500 were taken. Glassick suffered the loss of a valuable radio set and clothing worth $500.

The residence of Morris Kerner, 7707 North Martell street, was also entered during the evening while Kerner was absent and articles valued at $500 removed.

Detectives Dickey and Klerin of the Hollywood station are investigating the burglaries.

TAX BILL IN ASSEMBLY

Water Measure Also Comes Up

Levy-Revision Plan Given to Legislature on Eve of Young's Budget

Colorado River Proposal Up to Lawmakers in Same Form as Before

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive) Looming out of the torrent of proposed laws which cascaded over the heads of the California Legislature today at the beginning of its third week in session was the Young administration taxation revision bill and metropolitan water district bill, both of vital importance to the southern section of the State.

With the approach of the tentative of adjournment set for Friday, it behooves the lawmakers to toss their bills and resolutions into the stream of legislation before it flows by them, and fondly drafted documents early today started a long procession out of hotel rooms, through Capitol Park, to the twin bottle necks of the Senate and Assembly rostrums.

Tomorrow or Wednesday, Gov. Young will submit his biennial budget of $194,000,000 and the criminal revision bills, now reduced and consolidated to sixty, will be introduced. Senator Nelson of Eureka introduced the bill authorizing the tax revision commission and it was referred to the committee on revenue taxation. The bill grants wide powers to the Governor and the commission. The Governor has the authority, under the bill, to appoint any number of commissioners. They will serve without pay, but will be allowed their expenses. From the proposed appropriation of $25,000 the commission will be permitted to employ tax experts and accountants for detail work, and they are authorized to study the taxation structure of other States as well as California. The commission is expected to report to the Legislature in 1929, when the body will consider enacting their recommendations into laws.

In his inaugural address, Gov. Young made it plain that he is not satisfied with the present income of the State. He said that the growth of population and of governmental duties is so large that the State's outgo is overtopping the income, and that no time should be lost in devising means to acquire more in taxes. At present the administration has a surplus of more than $20,000,000 in the State Treasury, an inheritance from former Gov. Richardson. It is the announced intention of the Governor and A. R. Heronek, chairman of the State Board of Control, to conserve this surplus pending the operation of the new taxation law.

Senator Swing, San Bernardino, introduced the metropolitan water district bill. It was referred to the committee on municipal corporations. The bill is almost identical with the bill of two years ago, as amended by the Senate in April, 1925. The direct purpose of the bill, which is an enabling act, is to make possible the formation of a water district in Southern California to bring Colorado River water to Los Angeles and noncontiguous cities. The cost of the project, known as the Colorado River Aqueduct, has been estimated at $200,000,000 by its originator, Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Los Angeles Water Bureau. It is planned to bring the water from the Laguna Dam intake, near Blythe, to a point near Riverside, lifting it over the San Gorgonio Pass and running it through a thirteen-mile tunnel. From Cliverside it is to be distributed as far south as San Diego.

There being at present no legislation under which the cities and communities can write in the project, this bill has been proposed. Such a bill was defeated two years ago because of several flaws in its structure. Senator Swing said today it is his intention to remove the defects so that Southern California will be a unit in supporting its enactment. The bill provides that the governing body shall be known as the board of directors. The board shall consist of one representative from each municipality serving without compensation from the district and selected by the city they represent. Each director shall be entitled to one vote for each $10,000,000 or major fractional part thereof, of assessed valuation of property in the city he represents. A provision is inserted that no representative shall have more than 50 per cent of the total vote. This was designed to prevent Los Angeles city from overwhelming the remainder of the district, it is understood.

Each city is permitted to vote on the question of entering the district. They will be allowed to enter and depart from the compact at their own will.

The project is to be financed by bonds, on the vote of the people in the district. The tax levy to fix the costs will be laid by the directors on the basis of assessed valuation in each city.

The board shall have the power to fix time of meetings, location of principal offices and rates on the water. It is authorized to create the necessary legal, clerical and engineering staff, but is directed to institute civil service.

The city of Los Angeles has filed on 1,000,000 acre feet of Colorado River water for the aqueduct. Negotiations are now in progress with the other lower basin States, Nevada and Arizona, to obtain their sanction to the appropriation of this water.

FLOOD OF BILLS
BURSTS OVER LEGISLATURE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17. (AP)—A delayed flood of bills burst in upon the 1927 Legislature today. They included a bill to permit religious instruction of children during public school hours, a pair of bills providing for creation of a California colleage of mines at or near Redding and making provision for its support, and a measure which would give any Superior, Appellate or Supreme Court judge who has been twice elected the right to sit on the bench for life.

One hundred and fifty-one bills were introduced today, eighty-two in the Assembly and sixty-nine in the Senate.

During the entire two weeks preceding today's session there were introduced in both houses only 213 bills.

The religious instruction bill, offered by Senator Cobb of Fresno, would authorize teachers in public schools to release pupils during school hours on request of their parents or guardians for religious instruction not to exceed more than two hours weekly. These requests must be in writing, the instruction must be given away from the school building by some religious organization and the public school teacher must not take part in such instruction during the hours he or she is working for the State.

Automobile owners in California would be required to carry insurance policies, covering personal liability to the extent of $10,000 under a joint bill introduced today in the Assembly by William Hornblower and Joseph F. Burns, both of San Francisco.

WOULD REGULATE FLYING

A State law will prescribe the regulations under which airplanes and other aircraft may be flown in California, under provisions of the aeronautics bill introduced by Senator Weller of Glendale. The bill would establish the minimum height at which planes may be flown over cities, the character of safety devices to be used and other precautions which must be taken to protect the lives of pilots, passengers and the people who remain on the ground.

Another duck bill was brought to the Legislature today. It was introduced by Senator Young of San Jose, and would cut the bag limit on wild ducks from twenty-five a day to fifteen a day. It would also make thirty ducks the maximum any hunter may shoot in a week, instead of fifty as at present. Senator Young said the bill had the approval of gun clubs in all parts of the State.

STATE NARCOTIC CHIEF

The office of State Narcotic Director would be created by a bill introduced by Senator Young. Press of other duties, the Senator explained, makes it impossible for the State Board of Pharmacy to devote all the attention it should to enforcement of the laws governing sale and use of narcotics. The proposed director, whose salary is not fixed in the bill, would work under the supervision of the board and would devote his entire time to this special enforcement work.

Four bills designed to bring relief to the sightless were introduced by Senator Tallant Tubbs, San Francisco.

One of the measures would create a new State department to supervise all blind relief activities now carried on by various State agencies such as the State library and the State Department of Education. Another would include kindergarten classes in the curriculum of the State School for the Blind at Berkeley; a third would authorize public schools to establish special classes for blind pupils and to segregate partially blind children in special classes for the more efficient handling of their instruction, and a fourth bill would empower counties to levy a tax of not more than one mill per $100 for maintenance of a blind relief fund, with compulsion pensions for the blind.

The problem of juvenile delinquency would be investigated by a State commission empowered to recommend a program of prevention, under the provisions of a bill introduced today by Senator H. C. Jones of San Jose. The project would embrace also the formulation of plans for the care and training of pre-delinquent, psychopathic and maladjusted children.

A more complete list of bills introduced in the Legislature appears on Page 6, Part I of this edition.

FORD HISTORY TOLD COURT

Former Stockholder Sold Lest Fortune Grow Too Great, He Testifies at Trial

DETROIT, Jan. 17. (AP)—The origin of the "mystery memoranda" which spurred the government to reopen the Ford stock tax investigation was hinted, but not specified, at today's second session of the $30,000,000 suit against stockholders who sold out to Henry Ford in 1919.

"A Congressman" in 1922 submitted a suggestion to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the $9,489.34 set in 1919 as the stock's value when the income-tax law went into effect was too high. M. W. Thompson of Thompson & Black, New York City tax specialists, in 1925 outlined to Treasury Secretary Mellon the method closely followed by the government in resetting the value at $3547.84 per share. Tax is asked on the difference between these sums. "A Congressman" was no further identified and Thompson's interest in the situation was not explained.

POLITICS CHARGED

It was charged in the Senate last March by Senator Couzens, one of the former stockholders, that the 1922 memoranda was submitted "in an effort to get Henry Ford, who at that time was in a political fight with Truman H. Newberry, who later resigned from the Senate."

The sources of the memoranda were shown by documents taken from government files during the noon recess after John W. Davis, chief counsel for the former stockholders, had intimated that he and his associates were prepared to subpoena every member of the Treasury Department from Secretary Mellon down to get at the source and treatment in the department of the memoranda.

Horace H. Rackham, an original stockholder, told a neighborly story of his sale of the stock to Henry Ford in 1919. He took no account of the stock's market value, he replied to questions by Joseph E. Davis, chief of appellants' counsel.

"I had no ambition to become a very rich man," he told the court. "All I wanted was an amount somewhere correct between Mr. Ford and me—my neighbor and me. I had figured out an amount that was all I cared to have or be responsible for."

Asked if he would have sold except in expectation that the 1919 valuation would hold, he returned a convincing "No," sir!"

He told of the alternate hopes and fears of the directors of the Ford Motor Company, while "one cloud," the Selden patent suit, hung over the company. When Ford was declared not bound by the Selden patents in 1911 the directors "felt jubilation and great glee," Mr. Rackham asserted.

He denied intimations of internal strife among the directors when cross-examined by A. W. Gregg, head of government counsel. Reciting Ford history, he told of a feeling of "great affection," for Model T, the car on which Ford's success rested.

FORD IDEAL TOLD

Mr. Rackham drew a picture of the Ford directors as confident in Henry Ford's policies, all tending to produce a car which would "reach the great majority at an appealing price," by "continuously reducing the price and improving the car, thus bringing about an increased demand and output."

Henry Ford did not fear the Selden menace so much as did the stockholders, he said. When the cloud was entirely lifted, all were ready to go ahead, he asserted.

I. L. Phillips of New York, former treasury auditor, told of accepting the 1919 valuation in checking taxes of former Ford stockholders in 1920.

BILL ASKS EXPENSES OF JUDGES

Fare Between Los Angeles and Long Beach Sought; Pasadena Seeks Branch

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—A bill providing for the payment of the expenses of Superior Court judges traveling back and forth between Los Angeles, the county seat, and Long Beach, where a branch department has been established, was introduced in the Senate here today by Senator Weller, Glendale. The bill provides that the money be paid from the county treasury.

Establishment of a branch of the Superior Court at Pasadena similar to the one at Long Beach is the purpose of a bill to be introduced tomorrow by Senator Weller. This action was taken at the request of the Pasadena Bar Association. It is understood that Pasadena will provide quarters for the court.

One hundred and fifty-one bills were introduced today, eighty-two in the Assembly and sixty-nine in the Senate.

UTAH SENATE IN BLOW TO PACT

for it would appear to largely defeat all the progress that has been made through several years past in the matter of protection of the interests of the upper basin States in the Colorado River. Wyoming has given its approval of the six-State acceptance of the seven-States compact only by reason of the fact that it seemed advisable to assure ourselves of a large degree of protection when it appeared doubtful if, at this time we would receive benefits of the complete seven-State agreement. My own ideas have not changed and it will be my endeavor to do everything within reason to secure the complete ratification of the Colorado River compact in its original form."

He added that he believed the six-States plan should also be retained as the same sentiment should prevail in the upper-basin States.

"The outstanding development in recent months is, in my mind, that which indicates the willingness of Arizona to take favorable action upon the compact whenever their differences with California and Nevada as to the division of water from the lower river can be adjusted. I did not hesitate to advise the California representatives who introduced the question at Colorado Springs, that in my opinion it was necessary to make a most diligent and determined effort to reach an agreement with Arizona if they expect a proper solution of the Colorado River situation."

HOPE EXPRESSED FOR SWING MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (Exclusive) Probability that both houses of the Utah Legislature will abrogate the State's unconditional ratification of the six-State Colorado River compact "while serious, does not necessarily mean defeat for the Swing-Johnson bill," according to W. B. Mathews, counsel for the Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light.

Mr. Mathews, who is one of those engaged in negotiating with various groups in Congress concerning Colorado River legislation, today drew attention to the fact that the phrasing of the bill contemplates enforcement of its provisions only when six States have ratified the Colorado pact.

Hence, in his opinion, one or more of the States of the river basin could withdraw from the compact at this time without in any way affecting the status of the Swing-Johnson bill.

Charles L. Childers of Imperial Valley, and former State Senator William J. Carr of Pasadena, arrived in Washington today to confer with members of Congress on the river situation.

Despite the optimistic expressions of the bill's advocates, however, the attitude of the Utah Legislators has greatly discouraged them. There is a growing feeling that the sponsors of the measure either must accept the amendments designed to eliminate possibility of the government's entrance into the power business, or witness rejection of the entire river program at this session of Congress.

SOVIET HITS KELLOGG

Denial of Mexico Charges Tart

Communistic Plots Against United States Termed Ridiculous

Bolshevists Always Blamed for World Unrest, Says Litvinoff

MOSCOW, Jan. 17. (AP)—The soviet government, through Acting Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinoff, today issued a tart denial of charges made by Secretary of State Kellogg recently that it regarded Latin America and particularly Mexico, as a base for Communist activity against the United States.

After five days of deliberation and consultation with his colleagues at the Foreign Office, M. Litvinoff, who is acting as Foreign Minister in the absence of M. Tchitcherin, now in France for his health, issued a statement characterizing as "fantastic and ridiculous," the imputations made by the American Secretary of State on the 12th inst.

DEFINES INTRIGUES

Interpreting the Secretary's statement as implying that it was Communist plots and intrigues in Nicaragua and Mexico that led to intervention in Nicaragua by the American Navy, the soviet official declared it would be reasonable and logical to attribute floods in the United States or earthquakes in Japan to such "intrigues."

"Statesmen in capitalist countries," the acting Foreign Minister said, "lately have taken to the habit of covering their incompetence in internal affairs or their aggressive aspirations in the field of foreign policy by playing up so-called Bolshevik intrigues or plots. Whether the question at issue is the miners' strike in England, or an attack by the American Navy against the independent Republic of Nicaragua or the shooting of the people of Java in Sumatra by the Dutch police, there is always the same justification—the plots and intrigues of the Bolshevist government.

"It would simply be an insult to public opinion were I seriously to repudiate such fantastic explanations."

Discussing citations made by Secretary Kellogg from a resolution of the Third Internationale concerned with the "national struggle against American imperialism in individual countries," M. Litvinoff said:

CALLED RIDICULOUS

"I am familiar with the resolution of the Third Internationale. Unfortunately I am not in a position at this moment to verify the quotation made from them by Mr. Kellogg. I am also unfamiliar with the malign resolutions of the American Federation of Labor against the fundamentals of the soviet regime. It is as ridiculous to explain the attack of the American Navy against Nicaragua by criticisms of imperialism contained in resolutions of the Third Internationale, as it would be to explain the failure of crops in the soviet union by resolutions of the American Federation of Labor."

Then, turning to a quotation made by Secretary Kellogg from a report by Foreign Minister Tchitcherin saying that Mexico gave soviet Russia "a convenient political base in America for the development of our further ties," M. Litvinoff said:

"M. Tchitcherin was perfectly right in welcoming the restoration of normal relations between the soviet Union and Mexico. The soviet government will continue every effort to restore normal relations with every state in America. The soviet government cannot have and has no reluctance with Mexico except relations of loyalty and nonintervention."

ADDITION ASKED FOR POSTOFFICE

PROPOSAL BACKED

"Their recommendation is that additional ground be secured which it is reported the city of Los Angeles would donate, and an addition built to the present postoffice, this addition to provide 117,400 square feet of office space and 31,600 square feet of storage space.

"It would seem that the recommendations of the two investigators are in accord with the judgment of other people who have visited Los Angeles, and it is recommended that additional ground be secured and the addition erected thereon."

It is proposed to sell the present Federal Building and grounds in Sacramento and purchase a new site and construct a building to cost $1,330,000, the expenditure to include the proceeds from the sale of the present property.

The sale of buildings and grounds in Oakland and construction on a new site of a building costing, with the site, $2,010,000 are recommended. The same procedure in Stockton is recommended, the total cost of a new site and building not to exceed $640,000.

Expenditure of $611,000 for enlargement of the present postoffice building at Phoenix, Ariz., and $735,000 for a new building at Tucson is recommended.

SAVING IN RENTS

The report, as sent to Congress, does not attempt to establish priorities as between cities needing buildings, or to define the work which should be attempted during the first year of the construction program.

Under the program recommended by the joint committee there will be a credit against total estimated costs during the first year of $18,409,354, of which $13,655,000 will represent receipts from the sale of old buildings and $1,676,126, the savings in postal rentals for other governmental activities. After all products have been completed, there will be an annual saving in rentals of $4,754,373.

The recommendations of the joint committee provide for extensions to 105 existing Federal buildings and the erection of 120 new buildings, making a total of 225 projects.

The extensions represent the minimum needs in cities where existing buildings are inadequate.

DIAZ REFUSES MEDIATION

Mexico Dominates Central American Government, Says Nicaraguan Chief Rejecting Offer

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Jan. 17.—President Adolfo Diaz of Nicaragua today informed the Associated Press that his government would not accept the recent offer of mediation in the armed conflict in Nicaragua now by President Jimenes of Costa Rica.

President Diaz, whose government has been recognized by the United States, declared that President Jimenez last December expressed prejudice against the Diaz regime as "lacking constitutionality," and added the charge that the Liberal adherents of Dr. Juan Sacasa have been using Puerto Limon in Costa Rica as a base of operation.

FEARS MEXICAN INFLUENCE

He declared that no Central-American government could mediate in the Nicaraguan controversy in an independent manner because of fear of Mexico.

The Costa Rican mediation proposals, which have been accepted by Dr. Sacasa, whose government is recognized by Mexico, and have met with favorable response in Washington, were made several days ago.

President Diaz reiterated his charges that Mexico fomented the Nicaraguan revolt and contends that Mexico is always ready to fan the flame of political disaffection among a minority in any Central American country to further the program of President Calles. He says that all Central American governments realize this and consequently are willing to do almost anything to curry favor with Mexico.

"Under these conditions," President Diaz asserted, "no Central American government could mediate in an independent manner in the Nicaraguan political conflict."

ROOTS OF ANIMOSITY

The Conservative President added that his government found no favor in Mexico because it had accepted the co-operation of American capital to build railways, stabilize Nicaraguan currency and to develop the country. The option granted to the United States to build a canal and to maintain a naval base in Nicaragua was also cited as a reason for Mexican animosity.

President Diaz concluded with the declaration that his peace offer published Sunday, in which he said that he would offer the Liberals participation in his government, still stood.

KELLOGG DENIES CHANGE OF POLICY CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Secretary Kellogg issued a formal statement today denying published stories that a change is contemplated in the American policy toward Nicaragua.

In issuing the statement Kellogg took cognizance of an article appearing in the Washington Post today forecasting a "change in tactics" in dealing with the Central American problem and a recession from the position stated in President Coolidge's special message to Congress. The article also declared moves were being made toward a compromise that might involve the retirement of Adolfo Diaz as Nicaraguan President.

The statement issued by the Secretary follows:

"There has been no change whatever in this government's attitude toward Nicaragua as outlined in the President's message. From the beginning of the trouble over a year ago, the United States offered its good offices and exerted its influence to compose the differences. The same attitude has existed ever since Diaz was elected President, nor is any change contemplated."

Asked if he had knowledge of any recent move by Admiral Latimer looking to a peace conference, the Secretary indicated that instructions both to Minister Eberhardt at Managua and to Admiral Latimer had continuously been wide enough to permit them to take any such steps as might appear appropriate. No recent reports as to efforts they may have made in that direction have been received by the State Department.

MEXICAN INTERFERENCE
DISCLAIMED BY LIBERAL

BLUEFIELD (Nicaragua) Jan. 17. (AP)—Gen. Daniel Mena, chief of the Liberal expeditionary forces in the Escondido River region of Nicaragua, emphasized today that no outside interests were involved in the dispute in Nicaragua between the Liberals under President Sacasa and the Conservative government under President Diaz. He denied also that Mexico was aiding the Liberals in any manner.

Fear of taxes and military conscription caused the natives to hide during the sporadic attempts to count them during the reign of the sultans.

The PERILS of "REDUCING"

Thousands of American women today will "try" some of the hundreds of experimental methods or preparations for reducing superfluous flesh.

Ninety per cent of these experiments will be undertaken upon the well-meaning advice of some friend who does not realize the risk that may be involved.

The "cure" that may aid one woman may mean physical disaster to another.

Perils of a serious nature accompany ill-advised experiments with violent exercises or powerful preparations for reducing. They may accomplish the result—but at a cost no woman can afford to pay.

There is but one safe method. Consult your physician FIRST. He can determine the CAUSE of superfluous flesh and he alone is competent to advise the SAFE way to remove that cause.

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 17.—Pedestrians and motorists traversing the business streets of Porterville's business district today were effectively reminded of National thrift week by special banners erected at intersections of the principal streets. These signs are of large design, discernible either way for a block. Beneath the caption "National Thrift Week," appears the slogan or points of the thrift organization, such as "Pay Bills," "Make a Budget," "Share With Others," "Make a Will," "Own Your Own Home," etc.

In a poster contest conducted by the First National Bank thirty-eight high-school pupils entered posters. Irene Shake took first prize, $10, and Elinor Knupp second, $5, given by the bank. Jewel Wilcox took third, $3, and Marcia Hickman fourth, $2, offered by Claubes Pharmacy. Doris Cole and Gwendolyn Saul received honorable mention. The posters were made under direction of Miss Carolyn Kennedy, art director at the high school.

A. G. Basye is chairman of the local thrift week committee.

NAVY FUNDS INCREASED

Cruisers Win in Senate Group

Committee Votes to Provide $1,200,000 for Start on Three New Vessels

House Passes Measure for Large Appropriation to Construct Barracks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Running counter to the recommendations of the Budget Bureau, which had the indorsement of President Coolidge, the Senate Appropriation Committee today approved an appropriation of $1,300,000 for beginning work this year on three additional scout cruisers.

The vote of the committee was overwhelming with several administration Senators joining with the Democrats in approving an amendment to the annual naval supply bill. Efforts in the House to provide funds for beginning construction failed by a few votes.

Senators on the committee voiced the belief that the amendment will be approved by the Senate and accepted by the House conferees. Since President Coolidge interposed no opposition to a similar amendment in the House they are hopeful that he will sign the bill with this change.

The action of the committee was based in some measure on the statement before it of Secretary Wilbur and other high naval officials who emphasized the need of cruiser construction not only to balance the fighting fleet, but to keep employed private shipyards necessary for a replacement of the ships of the battle fleet when the ten years' capital shipbuilding holiday ends five years hence.

Besides providing for beginning work on the three additional cruisers the committee approved an enlisted personnel of the navy of 84,000 men, 1500 more than the House proposed, and an additional $2,146,000 for naval aviation so as to carry out the five-year building program.

In all, the committee added $5,267,854 to the House bill, making the total $320,020,534.

HOUSE PASSES BILL FOR NEW ARMY BARRACKS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Appropriations of $5,080,000 for new barracks at various military posts, recommended by the War Department, would be authorized under a bill passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

Most of the money would come from sale of surplus War Department property, but $1,400,000 would be made available immediately.

The immediate expenditures would include these posts.

Schofield barracks hospital, $260,000; Camp Lewis (Wash.) hospital, $128,000; officers' quarters, $72,000; noncommissioned officers' quarters, $30,000; Camp Devens (Mass.) hospital, $300,000; Fort Sam Houston (Tex.) barracks, $300,000; Fort Riley (Kan.) officers' quarters, $72,000; March Field (Cal.) barracks, $550,000; officers' quarters, $700,000; Kelly Field (Tex.) barracks, $490,000; Brooks Field (Tex.) barracks, $521,000.

HOUSE COMMITTEE BACKS INDIAN OIL BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—A bill to authorize the Interior Department to recognize oil leases made on Indian reservations under ruling of Former Secretary Fall, where the lessee has acted in good faith was approved today by the House Indian Affairs Committee by a 7-to-5 vote.

The measure, sponsored by Representative Hayden of Arizona, Democrat, also would confirm to Indians on executive order reservations the same rights in oil and minerals which are granted to treaty reservations.

ANGELENO'S NAME CITED IN WAR PLOT

Roland Haskell Mentioned in Arms Smuggling Report Denies All Knowledge

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (AP)—The name of Roland Haskell, a Los Angeles attorney, was linked with a supposed arms-smuggling conspiracy whereby Chinese rebels were to be supplied with war material in a report filed today with United States District Attorney George J. Hatfield here. The report was in connection with an investigation of the activities of Leonard G. Husar, former United States District Attorney in Shanghai, and was prepared by Department of Justice operatives in the Chinese city. Husar is being sued for divorce here.

Haskell is Mrs. Husar's brother-in-law. He was in Shanghai at the time of the supposed smuggling scheme, the report says and certain Chinese, wishing to land the arms, agreed to pay him 100,000 taels (about $65,000) for arranging for the transaction. Haskell, it is asserted, agreed to give an order on a third party, stationed at Woosung, by which the Chinese would receive the arms.

Haskell is charged in the report with having paid Husar $5000 to assist in the transaction. Husar admitted receiving this money, the report said, but insisted that it was on a private loan to Haskell.

HASKELL SAYS CHARGES ENTIRELY UNFOUNDED

Attorney Haskell declared in Los Angeles last night, that he knew of nothing on which the government operatives could base the charges contained in San Francisco dispatches.

"There was a gun-running plot about two years ago in which Husar is asserted to have been involved, but I don't know anything about it personally," he declared. "I have acted as attorney for Mrs. Husar, but that is all."

NUMBER MADE PART OF LONDONER'S NAME

LONDON, Jan. 17. (AP)—William No. 1 Harris is his name, and he is one of the new additions to Kelly's post-office London directory for 1927. He lives at 43 Whitcombe street, London, W. C. 2, and adopted "No. 1" as his middle name because there was another William Harris in the same neighborhood.

Review of Day in Congress

The House passed miscellaneous bills, clearing the way for the Army supply bill.

Recommendations for construction of more than 200 public buildings were transmitted to Congress.

The Senate Appropriations Committee put in the naval supply bill a provision to begin construction of three light cruisers.

Supporters of the Lausanne Treaty failed on a test vote to muster the two-thirds' majority which would be needed for Senate ratification.

ALIEN PERIL IN CHINA GROWING

tained from Belgium the promise that she will relinquish her concession at Tient-sin to Chinese control. This followed the declaration of Gen. Chang Hsueh-liang, son of the Manchurian dictator, that the northern faction will support the nationalists in resisting any British attempt to regain by force the concession at Hankow from which they were ousted by coolie mobs the 3rd and 4th inst.

Another point on which the rival governments are agreed is the imposition of a surtax of 2 1-2 per cent on imports. This was authorized by the Washington conference, to be added to the 5 per cent import duty already in force.

BRITISH CABINET HAS SPECIAL SESSION

LONDON, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—A special meeting of the Cabinet was held today to consider the Chinese situation in the light of the latest reports from Counsellor O'Malley of the British legation at Peking, who has been in Hankow a week conferring with Eugene Chen, Cantonese Foreign Minister.

The utmost secrecy is being preserved, but it is understood that Mr. O'Malley's general tone is pessimistic about the ability of Chen to preserve order, however much he may wish to do so, as well as about his willingness to negotiate with the foreign power in an orderly manner.

At Hankow, of course, the chief question is the return of the control of the concession to the British and this, it is understood, Foreign Minister Chen has refused, basing his position on the Nationalist thesis that the Hankow concession is Chinese territory and must be under the Chinese government. Even more important is the question of Shanghai, where there is a large foreign settlement and which is expected to be attacked by the Cantonese before long. There is not the slightest intention on the part of the British to surrender this, and every effort is being made to persuade the other treaty powers to act in concert in defending the foreign rights, property and lives in China should it become necessary.

The meeting of the Cabinet today was called to discuss policy and plans. A large naval force already is on the spot and reinforcements are on the way, while it is evident that plans also are being made for sending troops.

JAPAN URGED TO ACT WITH PEACE AS AIM

TOKIO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Japan, as the leader in the Orient, should act now in China to preserve peace, said both Premier Wakatsuki and Baron Tanaka, leader of the main opposition, addressing the meetings of their respective party leaders. The Premier expressed sympathy with the legitimate aspirations of the Chinese and at the same time declared the readiness of Japan to protect its legal interests in every way. Because of Japan's consistent friendliness with China in the last several years, following the policy of sympathy for the welfare of its 400,000,000 neighbors, Japan now is in a position to act as the leader in reconciling American and European policies in the Orient with Chinese desires, a position which Japan is ready to assume, regarding such as a duty.

Baron Tanaka declared that Japan is failing to grasp the leadership of the Orient, which belongs to it. The government's vaunted policy of non-intervention merely is the result of unpreparedness for a situation which all except the blind have seen developing for the last two years, he said. Japan is responsible for the peace and welfare of the Orient, therefore it must cease following the other powers and assume the leadership, acting independently for the interest of all, he concluded.

FOREIGNERS IN SHANGHAI ASK HELP

SHANGHAI, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—The international settlement at Shanghai today is asking the powers for an immediately available landing force of 4000 men, including 2000 British, 1000 Japanese and 1000 Americans, as a preliminary measure for heading off the strike situation, similar to that at Hankow, which resulted in the loss of the British concession and the evacuation of all the foreign women and children. In the event that the situation here should develop into prolonged defense measures against a Chinese armed invasion, military experts declare that a force of 25,000 men will be needed, with complete war equipment.

American Consul Gauss today disclosed plans for an early conference of the American community for the purpose of perfecting plans in the event that a general strike develops, to handle provisioning, with civil committees capable of managing the evacuation of the women and children in the event of such a necessity.

The local French concession, containing more than 1000 American residents, is completing the construction of heavy iron gates across all the streets connecting with the native areas, and is erecting barbed-wire entanglements across the residence streets for defense purposes.

The American destroyer Pillsbury was dispatched to Foochow last night owing to the serious rioting and plundering being carried on by unpaid Chinese troops, who invaded the properties of the Y.M.C.A., American missionaries, churches and the Spanish Catholic mission, destroying the properties.

LONDON'S EX-MAYORESS DIES

LONDON, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—The death was announced today of Lady Bearsted, former Lady Mayoress of London and wife of Lord Bearsted, who founded the famous Shell Transport and Trading Company. Lord Bearsted himself is critically ill. They were married forty-six years ago.

DUAL LIFE DESCRIBED

Chipps Declared Demon in Drink

Witness Says Norris Victim Dangerously Drunk on Day of Slaying

Policeman Tells of Threat to Put Pastor and Him in Same Grave

COURTROOM, AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Dexter E. Chipps threatened in 1921 to "start a graveyard and put Dr. J. Frank Norris in the same grave" with a Fort Worth policeman, the policeman testified here today in Norris's murder trial. Chipps was killed by Norris about five years after Chipps made the asserted threat.

This was but one of numerous threats made by Chipps against Dr. Norris, according to the testimony of a long line of witnesses who declared that Chipps was a bad man when drunk, and genteel, kind, and courteous when sober.

According to the picture painted of the man who was slain by Norris in the pastor's Fort Worth church study last July, the demon of ruin in moments turned a gentleman into a fighting, quarrelsome and dangerous character who had many brushes with police, fought his friends and threatened his enemies.

TELLS OF THREAT

It was as early as January, 1921, that Chipps expressed animus toward Dr. Norris, according to the story of John Woodruff, Fort Worth policeman. The patrolman met Chipps on a winter night "arguing with some fellows on the street."

"He wanted to take me up and get me a drink," said Woodruff. "I told him he had the wrong fellow. He then asked if I knew what he was going to do.

"'I'm going to start a graveyard and put Frank Norris and you in the same grave.' I asked him who Norris was, and he said, 'he's a damn preacher.'".

"The truth is you knew Chipps didn't mean a word of that graveyard statement, didn't you?" Special Prosecutor McLean asked.

The witness said he thought Chipps meant it.

Woodruff told of four fights he had with Chipps.

Business men, bankers, barbers, policemen and fellow club members of Chipps told the invariable story throughout the questioning that Chipps was a "bad man" and had a bad reputation when intoxicated. They also said he was just the opposite when sober.

DECLARED DRUNK

Many testified that Chipps was an habitual drinker, and that during the last few weeks of his life he was drunk about "50 per cent of the time." A half-dozen barbers who had done Chipps's barber work testified to this effect, and to the effect that Chipps was intoxicated on the day he was killed.

Witnesses were brought even from Lufkin, Tex., where Chipps lived twenty years ago, to tell that he was obstreperous. These witnesses, however, did not get to tell much, as they had not known Chipps's reputation in Fort Worth.

The day developed numerous wrangles among the many attorneys and on half a dozen occasions the trial judge had to call the attorneys to his bench to straighten out the tangles. The judge's gavel broke under his insistent hammering for order, as the attorneys fought every point.

SOLID SOUTH ASSERTED IN DRY'S CAMP

Ministers Object to Names Presented in Resolution of Anti-Saloon League

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—A resolution offered by the State Anti-Saloon League was adopted by 300 metropolitan ministers of various denominations today only after a section referring to the Presidency as "too sacred to become the prize of advocates of rum," and mentioning the names of Smith, Butler, Ritchie, Reed, Bruce and Edge was stricken out.

The ministers gathered at a mass meeting arranged by the Anti-Saloon League in connection with the organization's program for enforcement. The resolution recited asserted efforts of wets to camouflage the real issue and "set traps for both the elephant and the donkey, with the longing that one or the other might be beguiled into carrying a representative of beer by some devious route into the White House."

"The Presidency of the United States," the resolution continued, "is too sacred to be permitted to become the prize of advocates of rum, whether these bear the name of Smith or Ritchie or Reed, or Bruce or Edge or Butler, so long as there remain a McAdoo, a Meredith, a Walsh, a Donahey, a Lowden or a Coolidge from which to choose."

As soon as the resolution was read exception was taken to the naming of Presidential prospects, aligned as wet or dry, and the paragraph was unanimously voted out.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Richmond, Va., bishop of the Methodist Church, South, said that if the prohibition question forced a choice between political affiliations and law enforcement, the South would align itself on the side of the law.

Should the Democratic party nominate a wet for President, he said, and the Republican party a dry, the "solid South" would not support the Democrat.

Mr. Clark will leave the latter part of the week, visiting Dallas, St. Paul and other western cities, and then will proceed to New York.

After the "FLU is over — you need a Tonic —

Help Is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

S.S.S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—[Advertisement.

JAPANESE PREMIER URGES INTERNATIONAL AMITY

Forecasts Enduring Accord With America for Safeguarding Peace of the Pacific

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Expressing a desire to promote world peace and a further reduction of naval armaments, speeches delivered to the Japanese Diet by Premier Wakatsuki and Foreign Minister Shidehara were made public tonight by the Japanese Embassy. The texts had been received from Tokio by cable.

Both officials in their addresses said that the relations between Japan and the soviet union had been marked by growing cordiality, and Baron Shidehara made direct reference to the immigration law of the United States.

"I regret," he said, "that the question of discriminatory treatment involved in the United States Immigration Act of 1924 still remains unadjusted. I have nothing to say at present that would modify or supplement the observations which I have made on many previous occasions, but to point out the evident welcome facts that on this and all other matters of common interest the true knoledge and sympathetic understanding of Japan have grown considerably in the United States in recent years, and that wild reports circulated at one time discrediting Japan's pacific intentions now are receiving the general condemnation of an enlightened public opinion there.

SIDE BY SIDE

"In our turn, for the correct estimation of the question, we should also fully appreciate the national institutions and conditions which characterize the United States. A mutual understanding is the first essential step for the settlement of all international questions, and I am firmly convinced that the two nations, conscious of their important missions of guardians of the peace of the Pacific, will stand side by side for all time in friendly accord for the fulfillment of such responsibilities."

In discussing relations with the soviet union, Foreign Minister Shidehara said that oil and coal concessions in Northern Saghalien were developing satisfactorily and that revision of the fishery convention was under negotiation.

"There are in certain sections people who indulge in alarming speculation as if the interests of Japan and the soviet union are destined to clash in Manchuria," he continued, "but we have no aggressive policy in Manchuria or elsewhere, our sole preoccupation being that peace and order be maintained in that region and that our nationls there be permitted to engage in peaceful pursuits without molestation."

GERMANY WELCOME

Baron Shidehara said that Japan welcomed Germany's entry into the League of Nations, would "heartily welcome and appreciate all efforts looking to the limitation of armament," and would seek to "maintain and strengthen the bonds of amity with all European powers."

On account of the general reaction following the World War and the more recent earthquake in Japan, he declared, the Japanese government intends to do its utmost to promote foreign trade "without unjust infringement upon the interests of any other nation."

Premier Wakatsuki told the Diet that the output of rice in Japan is not keeping pace with the increase in the population, and that "unless a fundamental, lasting policy is established concerning population and the supply of foodstuffs, the nation some day may find itself in a state of great difficulty from which it will be unable to extricate itself."

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP)—McDonald is a good name but Owsianowski is better. So thinks Peter McDonald, who asked a court order today to change it to Owsianowski, the name under which he was born. A top sergeant couldn't pronounce his name and began calling him McDonald during the war, said Peter, and try as he might he had been unable to rid himself of the Irish-sounding name since, much to his disgust.

Conferees on Banking Bill Deadlocked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Conferees on the McFadden branch banking bill are hopelessly deadlocked.

In making this announcement today in the House, Representative Tilson, the Republican leader, said that on next Monday the House would be called on to decide whether it will insist on the Hull amendments on which the controversy centers.

The amendments, sponsored by Representative M. D. Hull, Republican, Illinois, deal with the branch banking provisions of the measure.

CHANGES IN POWER ACT COMBATED

War Secretary Opposed to Amendment as Sought in Garrett Measure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Opposition to amendment of the Federal Water Power Act as proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Garrett, Democratic leader, was voiced today in a letter sent by Secretary Davis of the War Department to the House Commerce Committee. Mr. Davis, who is chairman of the Federal Power Commission, asserted that the bill would modify the existing definition of "navigable water," would take from the commission power to pass on projects on non-navigable streams, and would make its jurisdiction "much narrower."

Passage of the bill would create such a condition of uncertainty with respect to streams that it would be "a serious hindrance to their development," said Secretary Davis.

"The expenditures involved in modern hydroelectric development are too large to permit of financing unless the right to continue use of the stream under known and fixed conditions is assured. In absence of a provision, such as now contained in the law, it would be necessary for those proposing power development on streams, whose status with respect to navigation is doubtful, either to secure authority for such development by special act of Congress, or to abandon such development altogether.

"Since the provision now contained in the Federal Water Power Act makes possible power development on streams of doubtful status under conditions which protect the interests of interstate and foreign commerce, as well as those of the applicant, it is the opinion of the commission that the repeal of the provision either outright or by indirection would be a serious mistake."

Secretary Davis declared that the Federal Water Power Act does not in any way authorize violation of State sovereignty and property rights.

POISON RUM FOUGHT BY JAPANESE

Bootleg War Opened as Result of Toll Exacted by Deadly Alcohol

TOKIO, Jan. 17. (AP)—A campaign against moonshiners and bootleggers in Japan, whose product sometimes has fatal effects, has been started by the metropolitan police bureau of Tokio. The report of the municipal health section discloses that sixty-two persons died from drinking poisonous alcohol in the Japanese capital last year.

While there is no prohibition in Japan, there is a duty of 100 per cent on all imported whiskys and other spirituous liquors. The duty, with the retail profits added, brings drinking costs here within the neighborhood of the price of illegal wet goods in America. Consequently, the Japanese moonshiner and bootlegger.

The authorities state that almost every popular foreign brand of Scotch, rye and gin is imitated in Japan. Many of the bogus brands are deadly poison owing to the ignorance of the native imitators as to the difference between grain and wood alcohol. Few foreigners have become victims of the deadly concoctions because they patronize the highest class bars and retail liquor dealers. Much of the illicit liquor finds its way to the cheap bars and tea houses and the Japanese are the sufferers.

Painters Held After New York Bomb Explosion

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—Two painters, Meyer Smith and Rubin Tser of Brooklyn, are believed by police to be responsible for a bomb explosion today which damaged the office of the Italian Consulate and two other buildings in East Twenty-second street. Both were arrested shortly after the explosion.

According to an asserted confession the act was inspired by a hatred of Premier Mussolini, police said.

Catalina Swim is Benefit to All Athletics

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS
(President Pacific Coast League, Who Witnessed Catalina Swim from Aboard Avalon)

Without professing to any particular knowledge of things aquatic, it is my prediction that the next few years will see the development of a group of almost superswimmers, due to the stimulus afforded by the Catalina Channel swim, and that Ederle effort of George Young, which demonstrated that it can be conquered.

True, that is a strong statement for there have been wonderful swimmers, but in the future there will be more and better swimmers. Young, perhaps, is the first of this group. It is a question whether he ever will be exceeded as to stamina and distance. But there may be more like him for since Sunday the chief topic of the average youngster has been swimming. Perhaps there is not a boy or girl in the country today who does not aspire to emulate Young or one of the women swimmers who performed so heroically in the channel combat.

Yes, it is my humble opinion that Mr. Wrigley has started something which cannot be stopped, even were there a desire to stop it. And it will mean much to the future generations, not only in this country, but throughout the civilized world. Perhaps there is no other sport which brings all muscles so evenly into play and develops such symmetry of physique. Physical benefits to future generations due to the example of this swim cannot be overrated.

Interest in this contest was worldwide, and its benefits will cover a like territory. There was a reason for this international interest. Some nations specialize in football or baseball. Several like tennis. Boxing has reached heights in two or three countries, and others emphasize wrestling. But

LOUIS ALMGREN NEW CHAIRMAN

San Diego Official Succeeds Hollywood Man

Charles Traung Attends First Board Meeting

Plan to Establish Office in San Francisco

Louis Almgren, San Diego Fire Chief, was yesterday elected chairman of the State Athletic Commission. The new official succeeds Seth W. P. Strelinger, who has headed the California body since the adoption of the new boxing law two years ago. Strelinger voluntarily resigned at yesterday's meeting and proposed that Almgren be elected chairman.

Yesterday's meeting marked the first appearance of Charles Traung of San Francisco as a member of the commission. Traung was appointed to the body by ex-Gov. Richardson just before the latter stepped out of office. Traung succeeded William Hanlon of Sacramento. Hanlon, Strelinger and Almgren had constituted the board since the original appointment of the commission by Richardson two years ago.

It was voted to establish an office in San Francisco. At the present time the commission has headquarters in Hollywood, San Diego and Sacramento. Traung was appointed to give Bay City fans representation and it is only logical that he should be supplied with an office.

Walter Yarwood, secretary of the board, retains his post, having been given a four-year appointment at the time of his selection two years ago.

Yesterday's meeting was held in Hollywood.

JOHNSON COOKS HIS OWN GOOSE

Ban Standing on Brink of Oblivion as He Tears Old Wound Open

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Ban Johnson has precipitated the "final showdown" between Landis and himself, with the probability that the American League club owners will punish Johnson for his remarks and possibly force his resignation.

The above was the opinion of practically every baseball man in New York, who was questioned about the latest outbreak between Commissioner Landis and the president of the American League. "One of the two must go," said one local observer, "and it won't be Landis. There is not room enough in baseball for both of them. The judge will never quit under fire. There was another showdown between the two leaders two years ago, and Johnson was warned to keep quiet by his club owners. If he has broken that promise now there will be serious trouble."

Trojan Cagers Upset Mercury Five, 32 to 28

Coach Les Turney's University of Southern California cagers defeated their ancient basketball enemies, the Los Angeles Athletic Club Mercuries, 32 to 28, in a practice tussle last night in the Trojan pavilion.

The L.A.A.C. used its second-string squad throughout the first half, which ended with the Trojans on the long end of a 22-to-15 score. In the second half the Mercuries sent in their first stringers. Jeffries, Hendrix, Olney, Larson and Friedman, and managed to creep to within 4 points of the Trojans before the game ended.

Until Morris (Red) Badgro, their star forward, was taken from the game because of four personals, the Trojans held the fresher Mercury five even. But after Badgro went out the Trojans lost most of their pepper and the L.A.A.C. tallied seven points.

Jack Bruner, Trojan center, was high point man of the fray with sixteen digits to his credit. Badgro scored nine, Hendrix with eight points and McMahon with

OPEN MEETING IN BALL QUIZ

American League Head to Lay Cards on Table

Seven-Year Feud Between Ball Officials Renewed

Loop President Says Players Will Hear All

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP)—The seven-year-old feud between President Ban Johnson of the American League and Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, flamed anew tonight with the summons for a showdown in the Cobb - Speaker case here next Monday.

Challenged by Landis to a thorough investigation of the situation involving the two stars of the game, President Johnson tonight accepted and demanded an open, public hearing.

The American League executive, once the ruling power of organized baseball, said he would formally request the commissioner to throw the doors open to newspaper reporters and others, similar to the dramatic hearing of the Risberg-Gandil charges a week ago.

"We have nothing to conceal from the public," President Johnson said.

REGRETS TURN

"In fact, the public is entitled to all the developments. I personally regret to see this turn of events. The league once decided to let Speaker and Cobb out quietly for the sake of their families, but if the commissioner insists on publicity for the whole affair, why, let the public in on it. I welcome an open hearing of our actions in the case. I hope Mr. Landis sees fit to grant it."

President Johnson tonight called a special meeting of the American League club owners, to meet here next Sunday, at which time their plan of action will be formulated before going into the room to face the commissioner the next day.

Commissioner Landis, meeting with committees from the two major leagues, and a minor league delegation at French Lick today, refused to comment on the statement given out by Johnson, charging that Landis was responsible for "barring the reputations of Cobb and Speaker."

GRANGE TO MEET GENERALS

Game Slated for Sunday at Wrigley Field; Muller's Team Goes North to Tackle Wildcats

Having given "Red" Grange and his New York Yankees a royal shellacking "Brick" Muller and the Los Angeles Buccaneers go north tonight to find out how tough George Wilson and the Washington Wildcats are. The game will be played in San Francisco, unfortunately for local fans, who would like to see Muller and company take a shot at the Wilson outfit. Contracts are signed, however, and there is no chance to shift the game to Los Angeles.

While Wilson and Muller have it out in the north Sunday, Grange's boys will attempt a comeback at the expense of the remodeled Hollywood Generals. This game will be played at Wrigley Field.

J. Leslie Barneson, owner of the Generals, announces that his athletes will elect a new captain and manager today. Johnny Hawkins, who has been running the club, finds that his business prevents his continuing as a grid pilot. The club lost only one game while Hawkins was at the helm, this defeat coming at the hands of Wilson's team.

It is not known who will succeed Hawkins as captain and manager. Barneson, it is said, will let the players make their own choice.

HELP! POLICE! ASSISTANCE! CHANNEL SWIMMER ROBBED

One of the interesting stories that developed from the Catalina Channel swim is that concerning E. F. James, an accountant for the Shell Oil Company. According to Mrs. James, her husband came within three miles of the shore when he was forced from the water by one of the official boats. He had been in the ocean sixteen hours and fourteen minutes, and at no time suffered from cramps or other ailments that one by one forced other contestants from the race, she said.

"I do not believe my husband was given a fair deal," Mrs. James declared yesterday. "He should have been permitted to continue in the race. I know he would have made the shore and his removal by the officials robbed him of recognition that probably would have brought him substantial vaudeville contracts.

"There was nothing at all wrong with him when he was ordered from the water. True, Young had finished, but my husband would have finished, too. He hadn't been able to train like other contestants, but he didn't have to go to bed Sunday like some of the others. He was up and about all day, suffering absolutely no ill effects. His training was limited to an hour and a half in the water each evening after work and on Sundays, when he took a power boat out for a longer swim."

Oscar Reichow, one of Will Wrigley's assistants during the swim, had no comment to make on Mrs. James's statements, other than that James was pretty tired when he was pulled out. The Jameses live in Long Beach.

Student athletic managers for various sports at U.S.C. have been selected and approved by the faculty athletic committee. Grant Flint, who has been acting in the capacity of temporary manager of the basketball squad, has received his official appointment. He managed the frosh baseball team season.

GRANT FLINT

Henry Segretti, who managed the varsity baseball club last year, has been reappointed to serve in that capacity, with Garth Lacey leading the frosh diamond artists. William Jackson will pilot the freshman basketball team.

Dick Spence, appointed some time ago as varsity track manager, has been handling the details of that office in regard to coming meets. Bernard Leckie will handle the affairs of the frosh cinder artists.

No football manager was appointed, but the ultimate selection doubtless will be Bus Blanchard, who acted as assistant manager during the past year.

RICKARD SIGNS DELANEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—Tex Rickard virtually closed negotiations today for a match between Jack Delaney and Jim Maloney, the most important yet arranged in the promoter's heavyweight elimination tournament. It is slated for the night of February 18 at Madison Square Garden.

Rickard came to terms definitely with Pete Reilly, Delaney's manager, but still had a few financial wrinkles to iron out before closing with Dan Carroll, Maloney's manager.

Delaney, as a result of today's agreement, is cast definitely for a leading role in Rickard's tournament to pick an opponent for Gene Tunney. Jack Dempsey now is the only outstanding contender not definitely signed but it is understood Rickard will come to an agreement with the former champion within the next few weeks.

PROS OFF TOMORROW FOR TEXAS GOLF TOURNEYS

Noted Stars Will Divide Major Portion of $50,000 Offered in California Events

BY BILL WISE

The greatest golfing gold rush in the romantic history of California closed with the State team championship event won by Al Watrous and Tommy Armour, last Sunday. During the past six weeks, famous visiting professionals, including Walter Hagen, have claimed the major portion of the more than $50,000 offered in competition and private exhibitions.

Bobby Cruickshank, winner of the $10,000 Los Angeles open at El Caballero two weeks ago, left for Texas last night, accompanied by Johnny Golden, also of New York. The pair are inseparable, and after the long swing through Texas, Arkansas and North Carolina, Bobby and Johnny will lead the big boys to Florida for the rest of the winter season.

Tommy Armour of the Congressional Country Club, in Washington, leaves for El Paso, Thursday. The greatest living exponent or iron-shot perfection is leaving California as the only two-time tournament winner. Tommy lead the field in the Long Beach open and shared honors with Watrous in the State team championship.

Joe Turnesa—and incidentally, Joe has switched from playing professional at Fairview, N. Y., to professional at the Elmhurst (Westchester county, New York) club—will start teaching his new membership next spring. Joe is taking his brother Frank as greens keeper and caddy-house manager and should go very well.

Johnny Farrell of New York probably the most popular youngster in golf, will be discharged from a local hospital this morning and will probably leave for his home within the next few days. Johnny started with boils and, would up with carbuncles and will be unable to compete in winter tourneys throughout the south.

MacDonald Smith, noted New York stylist, returned to San Francisco last week and will not play in any Texas tournaments. Mac expects to meet the boys in Pinehurst for the North and South championship, next March. Ed Dudley, Bill Creavy, Art DeMaine, Jim Carberry, Art Longworth and, many local professionals will leave with Joe Kirkwood for Texas.

AFTER, MEHLHORN'S MARRIAGE

Harry Cooper, Charlie Guest, Willie Hunspr and other star local golfers will represent Southern California in Texas events, but the debut of little Vic O'Alberto of the Los Angeles Country Club will be the one event worth recording. Vic becomes the blushing groom of Miss May Fullerton, next Sunday. Miss Fullerton is one-half the size of Vic—and Little Vic weighs slightly less than a California sunbeam.

Vic's first out of the State competition will be in the nature of a honeymoon—all expenses defrayed by members of the Los Angeles Country Club—and while most of us "love and learn," Little Vic will "love and golf."

TITULAR GOLF PLAY ANNUALLY

The California golf team championship will become an annual feature of the Southern California golf card, according to Uncle Eddie Tufts, S.C.G.A. chief who classified the competition at the Los Angeles Country Club last week, as "the best match-play event the west coast has ever known." The tourney will probably be scheduled in connection with the $10,000 Los Angeles open and tentative plans call for the sixteen low scores in that event being allowed to choose partners for the play.

The golf he played in the State team championship last week defeated the best players in the event and a little more confidence that will probably come with his new state, should land Los Angeles' tiniest representative well up with the leaders.

MEHLHORN LOSES MATCH TO CUPID

Wild Bill Mehlhorn is Smiling William now! Ranked as one of the greatest golfers in the world—the semibowlegged tee-and-greens champ loses the matrimonial nod to Emma Hague McGown, diminutive New York miss, in a special noncompetitive match, staged by Dan Cupid, tomorrow.

The California sunshine convinced William that his future home should be in these parts. Miss McGown held out for snowbound New York—but William's continued pleas—coupled with Chamber of Commerce publicity, caused the future "Mrs. Mehlhorn" to board a Coast-bound rattler last week. Two inhalations of California smog convinced the doubting miss—and "Mr. and Mrs. William Mehlhorn" will be at home, in Los Angeles—to all friends and acquaintances in the future.

No papers have been signed, but Mehlhorn is in direct line to receive the professional berth at the new Los Angeles Athletic Club's Riviera course. Bill is one of the greatest bridge and golf students in either game today. He has played in more major competitive events during the last five years than any other living golfer. Bill led both the British and national open and was one of the most popular American exponents overseas. His style of play made a great hit with British fans and Willie will be a most welcome addition to the ranks of California golfdom.

THOMPSON WINS OAKMONT TITLE

Harold Thompson, Miller Paschell's most promising golfer, defeated J. S. Robertson, 2 and 1, in the thirty-six-hole finals match for the club championship at Oakmont, yesterday. More than 200 Oakmont golfers are expected to attend the stag dinner in the club house, Thursday evening. Trophies will be presented in connection with an interesting entertainment program that has been arranged.

WOMEN START GOLF EVENT TOMORROW

The annual fifty-four-hole medal tournament for members of the Women's Apsiliary of the S.C.G.A., will open at Hillcrest, tomorrow. Eighteen holes will be played at Lakeside, Thursday with the final eighteen-hole lap scheduled for Brentwood, Friday. Prizes will be awarded in two classes for daily low gross and low net and also for fifty-four holes.

CIRCUIT TEAM PLAY TOMORROW

George Cline's S.C.G.A. Golf Team League, the largest in the world, with sixteen players representing thirty-two clubs in the district, will swing into action over the circuit tomorrow.

EL CABALLERO COPS INITIAL TEAM PLAY

El Caballero golfers won their first team match when the visiting Girard contingent was defeated, 6 to 3, Sunday. L. S. Dedale, president, and W. S. McFarland, vice-president, scored Girard's most notable victory. Girard's two leading executives learned their golf over the north course of the Los Angeles Country Club, and were in fine form in the team play.

SAN DIEGO TRIMS CORONADO GOLFERS

The San Diego Country Club sixteen-man golf team got off to a flying start in the first match of the interclub series here yesterday, defeating the Coronado Country Club outfit six matches to two. A nineteen-hole match, won by Harry Jacobs and J. B. Oldendorf of the Coronado team, from E. J. Ridgeway and A. D. Lamotta of the home club, featured the play. Results:

N. S. Bosher, Jr., and G. W. Feldner (S.D.), defeated H. Abbe and A. Mallory (C.), 3 and 2; H. Major and C. F. Kelly, Jr. (S.D.), defeated T. Shorey and J. Mahlmeyer (C.), 2 up; F. J. Morgan and W. Wallen, (S.D.), defeated H. Phillips and J. C. Healy (C.), 1 up; H. Hinkle and C. Dufresne (S.D.) defeated H. A. Hakes and S. F. Newhall (C.), 1 up; H. Smith and W. A. Carnes (C.) defeated H. J. Lemos (S.D.), 1 up; C. Bagnall and A. E. Childs (S.D.), defeated W. A. Smith and W. A. Carnes (C.), 2 and 1; M. T. Miller and D. McKee (S.D.), defeated F. Hale and A. Stenner (C.), 1 up; A. Barton and ... Cosgrove (S.D.) defeated A. R. Bain and Godfrey (C.), 3 and 2.

WOMAN SCORES ACE IN MEXICO CITY

Mrs. E. R. Rice used a mashie to carry nearly 160 yards over a deep gully and sink her tee shot for a hole-in-one on a 173-yard hole in the Chapultepec Country Club layout, in Mexico City, last week. Mrs. Rice is credited with the first hole-in-one ever reported in Mexico.

START WORK ON PUBLIC COURSE

Construction work on the first of the two all-grass courses to be put in by the new Sunset Fields Public Golf Club, located on Angeles Mesa Drive, will get under way this morning, according to Billie Bell, the architect and builder.

This course is expected to be completed and opened for play by June 1, at the latest. It will be 6410 yards in length, and have a par of 71, 36 for the first nine, and 35 coming back, according to Bell's plans.

TWENTY ONE YEARS of BASE BALL

XIV. MANAGERS

Among the numerous inquiries I have received relative to these articles have been requests to tell something about managers, and how I like managing.

Here is the answer to the second half of that question: I like it.

During my baseball life I have worked for but four managers, therefore what I say about others is merely my opinion formed from observation and experience.

I took orders from Connie Mack for nine seasons, from Clarence Rowland four, Bill Gleason five, and John Evers one. Since 1924 I have been my own boss.

Knowing Connie Mack as I do, I freely admit that I think he is great. Mack has initiative, courage, firmness, self-control and knows the game with all its ins and outs, backwards. Connie laid aside the mask and catcher's glove a great many years ago, but I have heard that while there were better mechanics than Mack, there was none wiser in what a catcher had to know.

LIKES CONNIE

It's a long time since I left the A's, but while I was there I liked the way Connie handled the young fellows. To the best of my knowledge, Mack first instituted the now universal custom of morning meetings, "skull practice," as George Stallings called it.

In 1909 the A's went south with a big squad. When the training camp closed the regulars were sent north under Harry Davis and Connie Mack took charge of the yannigans, of which I was one. Others were Barry, McInnis, Strunk, Harry Krause, Joe Jackson and Frank Baker.

We played a long string of games on the way home, and every day Mr. Mack would call us together, tell us something of the strength and weaknesses of our opponents, and it seemed to us kids that he had the low-down on all the ball players in the world. If we had played well the day before he would commend us moderately, and if we made mistakes, which we did often enough, he would suggest how we could avoid repeating them. I think we won all our games; if I am mistaken, we at least won most of them, and Connie was so pleased that on opening day six of us were in the line-up, and we won.

The daily meetings continued throughout the season, and as the news spread abroad we were kidded for a while by players on other teams, who alluded to Connie as "teacher," and to us as school children. We did pretty well, however, and before the end of the season the kidding stopped.

The sound logic of the plan began to dawn on others, and eventually all clubs adopted it. I think very few clubs meet daily, but the custom of holding a meeting on the first day of each series and discussing certain points is now well established.

There is a widespread impression among fans that Mr. Mack directs all the plays of his team, somewhat after the method that Mr. McGraw is said to use, though, of course, I don't know if McGraw does that, though he has long had the credit for signaling all the important moves of the Giants.

Connie may have changed his methods since I left the A's, but I can assure readers that up to the time of my departure that was far from true. He does move his outfielders about, sometimes, by waving his score card. Probably he orders batters passed occasionally—that is what managers are for—but if he tries to do all the thinking he has changed since I worked for him.

On the other hand, Mack likes players to do things for themselves, and I recall an instance in point. In 1913 Bush and Schang were our kid battery, and Mack assigned them to work the third game, which was played in New York. On Barry's first time at bat he singled with none out, Schang was next up and as he started to leave the bench he stopped, leaned over and said to Connie: "What shall I do? Bunt, put him over, or what?"

"Wallie," was the reply; "do whatever you think best."

Schang went up to the plate and tried to bunt, and failed. Then on the next pitch or the third one he gave Jack the hit-and-run sign, and as Doyle ran over to cover second he drove the ball through the open spot and sent Barry to third. I believe that one display of confidence in Wallie did a great deal to make Schang the great hitter he has always been since, and, of course, it helped his catching, also.

The experience I have had so far as manager has been enjoyable, but I like it much better from the field than on the bench, when forced there through injuries. Last season I suffered my first serious injury and was hurt in the same way this season, but I mean to be back there and continue playing as long as I can do the team and myself justice.

BOOSTS McGRAW

Speaking of managers, I want to give a testimonial for John McGraw. When we first met the Giants in 1911 we didn't know what to expect. We were told that the Giants would do everything but shoot, and that Mac might do that if he thought he could get away with it.

Well, I have played in three world series against the Giants, and have been on the winning end each time. I have played two or three long spring exhibition tours, and I cannot recall any unpleasant incident of which either the players or McGraw have been guilty.

On the other hand, he has been uniformly courteous, and no opposing manager could get across the field to extend congratulations to the victor as quickly as the leader of the Giants. I wouldn't have the temerity to say anything about him as a manager, his record speaks for itself.

Entry List for City Net Title Play to Close

Entries for the huge Los Angeles city amateur senior tennis championships will close tonight, according to Bob Laird, chairman of the tournament committee. The city titular event will open next Saturday morning with the largest field of entries since 1924 and will contain a field of the most famed of court racketers.

Lesley D. Wanee, industrial city tennis champion, is the latest entry into the ranks of the contestants. Since the entry of William T. Tilden, ex-national champion, has been received for both singles and doubles, the tournament chairman has been swamped with new blanks. Johnny Doeg, national junior champion; Ben Gorchakof, Southland men's titleholder; Harold Godshall, 1926 city king, and Norval Craig, Occidental College sensation, are a quartet of dangerous threats and favorites to furnish Tilden a little workout for his eastern and European tours this year.

BALLPLAYERS SIGN GIANT CONTRACTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—The New York Giants today received signed contracts for the 1927 baseball season of Infielders Travis Jackson and Fred Lindstrom, Outfielder George Harper, recently obtained from the Philadelphia Nationals, and Substitute Infielder Andrew Cohen.

OPEN MEETING IN BALL QUIZ

Seven-Year Feud Between Ball Officials Renewed

Loop President Says Players Will Hear All

making public the evidence against them.

ATTORNEY DEFIES BAN

William H. Boyd, Cleveland, attorney for Speaker, defied Johnson to reveal any proofs of alleged irregularities for which Speaker was relieved of the managerial reins of the Cleveland club. Boyd said the extraordinary meeting here next Monday of Johnson and the eight American League owners, with the commissioner, would afford Johnson every opportunity for a full disclosure of all the facts in Johnson's possession, concerning Speaker's baseball career.

President Johnson not only admitted that he was the "leader of organized baseball" quoted in the newspaper article which caused Landis to call the special meeting of the American League club owners, but he elaborated on his statements that "Cobb and Speaker will never come back to the American League, no matter what Landis decides."

The American League executive in his statement admitted that the league had forced Cobb and Speaker to get out, and neither manager had willingly resigned, as the public was first informed. Johnson further asserted that he and the American League board of directors wanted to let the two stars retire gracefully and that out of compliment to Landis they handed him just enough evidence to explain their passing.

SUPPORTS COBB

"I do not believe that Ty Cobb ever played a dishonest game in his life," Johnson said. "If that is the exoneration he seeks, I gladly give it to him. Cobb, however, never could explain satisfactorily why he wrote Dutch Leonard, discussing bets on ball games.

"Speaker is somewhat different from Cobb. He is what I would call cute. If he wants me to tell why the Cleveland club decided to let him out, I will gladly go into court and tell it."

President Johnson revealed tonight that there was promiscuous betting on horse racing, involving certain members of the Cleveland club, as late as 1925.

"I have information that in one day alone, the sum of $4200 was won by certain players on the Cleveland team," Johnson said. "They pooled a sum of money and bet it, certainly with Speaker's knowledge that betting was going on. I do not see how it would be possible for these players to have made such wagers and Speaker not know anything about it."

LAWYER PROMPTS ACT

The sudden action by Landis in calling the meeting here next Monday, was prompted by the appearance here Saturday of Cobb's attorney from Detroit, J. O. Murfin, who questioned the commissioner regarding the story published, quoting a leader in organized baseball, to the effect that neither Cobb nor Speaker could ever return to the American League; that they had violated positions of trust given them, and that they had been under investigation for more than two years.

a shining light against the Cards. The U.S.C. line-up with Badgro and Jess Hibbs, forwards; Bruner, center, and Capt. "Larry" Lavarets, Tommy Lewis or Max Thomas as guards, form a potent outfit.

Stanford has a speedy outfit, but has dropped a series of hard-luck games, including a fast game to the Hollywood Athletic Club on their barnstorming trip.

The Trojans have won seven out of nine practice games have shown greater strength in each successive tilt. The two contests lost were to the powerful Hollywood A. C. quintet which ranks as one of the best in Southern California.

On Saturday night the Cards play the Bruins in a return game. The Bruins copped the first clash, 31 to 17 at Palo Alto on January 2.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—Sid Terris, New York lightweight, celebrated his return to the ring after a six-months' layoff by whipping Ray Mitchell of Philadelphia in a ten-round feature bout at the New Broadway Club tonight.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

NO SPORTING event in the past twelve months, including the Dempsey-Tunney championship fight, the U.S.C.-Notre Dame and New Year's Day football games, has attracted such universal interest as the Catalina Channel swim. Male and female in all walks of life from kids to grownups, have registered a deep, intense intgrest in this spectacular ocean derby that has never had a parallel.

Newspaper offices were swamped with telephone calls all night Saturday and all day Sunday. Extra girls were rushed into service, but there were not enough trunk lines to care for the unprecedented rush. The East went crazy for news on the swim. At 7:30 o'clock Saturday night orders came from Associated Press headquarters in the East to the local office to wire nothing but swim news. Between that hour and midnight, 10,000 words about the Catalina event were put on the Associated Press wires. Every tankwater town that had an entry asked for dope about its particular representative. From New York came a request for a complete chart showing the time each swimmer of the 102 succumbed and was taken from the water.

So it went all along the line. Then yesterday came wires from the East offering stories about the failure of Henry Sullivan and Henry Toth, both conquerors of the English Channel, to ford the Catalina Channel. Boston, Mass., near where these gents vote, reported their quitting was inconceivable. However, this is not hard to understand here, inasmuch as none but the fast swimmers like Young, Ross and Purcell had a chance in the world to effect the crossing and only one of these made it. Sullivan and Toth are notoriously slow.

From Portland, Or., came information that Martha Stager, one of the two women to stick in the water the longest, was a Portland servant girl and never swam until she went to the northern city.

Then there were reports like the James story, that this entrant or that one had come within two or three miles of shore and certainly would have made the grade but for the officials, who ordered them from the water after Young had finished.

And then there were rumors about Sid Grauman having signed Young to a long vaudeville contract, of C. C. Pyle, the demon exploiter of "Red" Grange, Suzanne Lenglen and others having offered to take the boy in tow. Pyle helped Grange make $2 ,000 his first year out of college, but C. C. denies any designs on Young. "I'd be glad to help the boy any way I can, but I don't want to manage him," he said.

Giant Swimmer Who Failed to Try Swim Again

VENTURA, Jan. 17.—Howard D. Chaffee, 24-year-old blond giant, is going to try the Catalina Channel swim again, he told a representative of The Times today as he recounted the story of his struggle for a total of eight hours and thirty-five minutes in the cold waters of the channel as Ventura's representative in the $25,000 Wrigley derby Saturday.

Sickness from swallowing salt water was the factor which forced Chaffee to drop out of the race at 7:35 o'clock Saturday night.

"Swallowing salt water was the only thing that defeated me," Chaffee said, "for when I was taken from the water I was in good condition. I was not a bit tired, and the coldness did not affect me.

"I stuck my finger down my throat, I swallowed some hot chocolate, and I did everything imaginable to force that salt water from me, but I could not get it out. When I was taken on board the hospital boat, I felt perfectly alright when they gave me a drink of hot water, which made me feed the fishes. The next time I try that swim I am going to take some pickle juice along as Ross did to relieve him of the salt water."

WALKER TO VIE WITH LA SALLE THURSDAY

Archie Walker vs. Bobby La Salle top the card at the Culver City Stadium next Thursday, according to Matchmaker "Sy" Saenz. La Salle, the popular "Culver Rose," is now in the pink of condition and together with the fact that in over 100 battles he has never been floored and has many kayo notches chalked up on account of his wicked right punch all makes for big-time stuff. On the other hand, Walker is one of the most promising in his division today. He holds the enviable reputation of boxing a draw with Mushy Callahan and a win over the present world's lightweight champ, Sammy Mandell, just previous to Sammy winning his crown.

GARCIA STOPS STEIN

BALTIMORE, Jan. 17. (AP)—Bob Garcia of Baltimore, junior lightweight, tonight was given a technical knockout verdict over Ruby Stein of New York in the ninth round of a scheduled twelve-round bout. He floored Stein three times for the count of nine.

FACES BABY JOE GANS

Charley Feraci, shown here, fights Larney Lichtenstein's classy colored lightweight at the Olympic Auditorium tonight. Feraci, a good boy, has not appeared here in some time.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

GEORGE YOUNG, the Scotch-Canadian youth who captured the cash and glory in the Catalina Channel swim, may have been a dark horse to everybody else, but he wasn't to Norman Ross, the heavy favorite to win who was forced to quit after reaching a point only a mile from shore. When we went over to Catalina ten days before the swim to see how the candidates were getting along, the first thing Ross told us was that there was a youngster named Young who was a real swimmer and who would be the man to watch in the race.

We asked Ross who he was and he replied that it was Young, the Canadian amateur champion distance swimmer. "Oh, everybody in this race is a champion," we replied. "Well, I'm not telling you what I read in the paper," said Ross. "I saw this guy swimming over here the other day and I decided that he was a real swimmer, so Ernie Brandsten and I rowed over to where he was and found out all about him. He can swim two miles in world's record time and, believe me, it is going to take a guy who can swim plenty fast to win this race."

Some folks think Ross lost because he didn't have a coat of grease, but the fact is that Young was just too fast. Young built up a lead of 150 yards on Ross in the first mile and a half and was never headed from the start of the race to the finish. His youth and vitality enabled him to get within 200 yards of shore before the tide turned and the action of the waves running toward shore helped counteract the pull of the counter-current. Ross, swimming very fast, but not as fast as Young, was about a mile from shore when the tide turned and when he was pulled out of the water he had been swept back two miles to sea.

If anybody wants our opinion, it is very unlikely that a woman will ever make the swim. Conditions Saturday were pretty nearly ideal, as the sea was unusually calm and the water was warmer than it had been for two or three weeks. If they have a woman's race this summer, the water will be warmer, but there isn't a chance in a hundred that the sea will be as smooth as it was Saturday, and the rough sea is more likely to bother the women than the cold water is—they seem to be able to stand the chills off almost indefinitely.

The one point brought out by the channel swim is that it was a race for fast swimmers. The fastest swimmer in the race, Young, won the money and the second fastest swimmer, Norman Ross, made the second best showing, as he was only a mile from shore when Young was a few hundred yards off Point Vicente. The fat boys and girls who had depended on their ability to stand the cold water and float across never got to first base.

POMONA VARSITY CAGE TEAM HARD AT WORK

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—With the University of Redlands as their next opponent, the Pomona varsity basketball players went back to work tonight in a hard, fast scrimmage. It will be the third game for both teams and both have won and lost in their previous starts, making the tilt somewhat crucial for each.

Now that the entire squad is in good shape again, Coach Colvin Heath expects to hit a fast pace and keep it up all week. Capt. Eddie Millette has completely recovered from the slight case of paralysis he suffered after crashing into a husky San Diego guard two weeks ago and showed by his work against La Verne that he is all to the good.

POMONA HIGH CAGERS FACE TOUGH SCHEDULE

POMONA, Jan. 17. (Exclusive—Opening their season with one of the hardest games on their schedule, the Pomona High School basketball players face San Bernardino High at San Bernardino next Friday. The Cardinals have a classy outfit this year, and should go a long way in the Citrus Belt League. San Bernardino, with an offense built around clever Ernie Pinckert, is also a championship contender, so it looks like a good struggle.

LIGHTWEIGHTS IN SPOTLIGHT

Winner May Get Chance for Title Contest

New Orleans Fighter Has Good Ring Record

Billy Harms Faces Long in Semifinal Go

With fan interest centered almost as heavily on the middle bout as on the top spot of the program of three ten-round bouts which are set for the Olympic Auditorium tonight, Joe Levy, matchmaker for the fight club, believes he has scored heavily in fixing up his card.

Two trouble-making lightweights, Baby Joe Gans and Charley Feraci, meet in the main event. Both of these boys have climbed well up on the ladder of lightweight fame, and tonight's meeting is due to shove one of them higher toward a championship bout and send the other on a lengthy detour.

Old-time fans who looked upon the gracefully vicious original Joe Gans when he was the peer of the lightweights of rougher days have found a revelation in the work of his namesake, Los Angeles' own "Baby Joe." He punches, blocks and counters in a manner which is startlingly reminiscent of the old master and scorns the hit-and-run tactics of many of today's fighters.

It is admitted, however, that Manager Larney Lichtenstein is sending his protege against a dangerous young man in the person of the tall Italian from New Orleans, who has the advantage of a seventy-four-inch reach, the unusual height for a lightweight of 5ft. 10in., is a clever boxer with a punishing short right which has proven difficult to get away from and has the distinction of having given Sammy Mandell, the uncrowned lightweight king, the most terrific fight of his career during the past year.

In the middle bout of the bill, a hard-fisted San Franciscan in the person of Billy Harms believes he is going to knock one Charley Long, from Nebraska, for the proverbial row. Harms is the husky denizen of the Bay City who fought Billy Atkinson to a draw a few weeks ago, and hasn't lost a bout since he came to Los Angeles. Long, who hails from the same State as Ace Hudkins, is credited by the latter with being able to beat any middleweight on the Pacific Coast. He recently defeated "Red" Uhlan in San Francisco, and stopped Young "Dynamite" George.

As an opener, Levy has matched Richie King, harbor fan favorite and navy 130-pound champion with Billy Bonillas, veteran Mexican fighter from Taft. Bonillas is the boy who earned a draw with Johnnie Hill, the fighting Filipino, while King has taken into camp such 130-pounders as Bobbie La Salle and Pico Ramies.

MEAT PACKERS FORM NEW BOWLING LOOP

A new bowling league has been formed from the personnel of six meat packing organizations operating in Los Angeles, and is known as the "Eat More Meat" Bowling League.

Each of the following organizations has formed a team and games will be played on regular schedule: Wilson & Co., Cudahy Packing Company, Wreden Packing Company, Swift & Co., Armour & Co. and Hauser Packing Company.

One of the first games on the schedule, was played recently at the Angelus Alleys, in which the five men of the Hauser team defeated the Wilson team in a three-game match. The score was 2463 to 2134.

DARO RECUPERATING FROM NOSE OPERATION

Lou Daro, corpulent wrestling promoter who has been confined to his Glendale home for the past ten days following an operation on his nose, will be out in a day or so, it was announced yesterday by his wife.

Mrs. Daro said her husband had suffered considerably since his operation, but hoped to be able to resume his usual activities some time this week.

Although Daro has a date at the Olympic Auditorium, the 26th inst., he made no announcement of a mat show before he went to the hospital. In all probability the promoter will make a statement about his plans within the next few days.

McCORD RETIRES AS BASKETBALL OFFICIAL

Ralph N. "Jack" McCord, popular football and basketball official, will not be available for court games any longer. He announced last night that he was through working cage contests for all time as the struggles were too tough and took too much time from his business.

McCord is associated with the National Life Insurance Company of Vermont. He has officiated basketball games every season since 1910. "Jack" spends part of each season here and also works the Big-Ten Conference. He plans to keep up his football officiating.

POMONA BLUES WIN EASY CAGE CONTEST

The Claremont city basketball five proved to be easy victims for the Pomona College Blue squad in a game played last night at Claremont. The Blue team ran away with the game, winning by a 28-to-10 score.

Haggman, playing forward for the Pomona cagers, proved to be the star of the game. He scored ten points for his team before calling it a night's work.

The score by halves:

Pomona Blues	12	16—28
Claremont	8	2—10

MATHIAS GRABS CUE LEAD WITH VICTORY

F. H. Mathias took the lead in the race for city three-cushion billiard championship last night when he defeated B. Huse in an exciting match by a 35-to-33 score. The game was played before a large crowd of billiard fans at Stephens Academy. A. C. Johnson will play Jack Van Gilder in a tournament game there tonight.

OXY CAGERS MAKE READY FOR TILTS

Daily scrimmage and practice is putting Cosch Eddie Kienholz's Occidental basketball team in fine shape for the two-game series with San Diego State next Friday and Saturday nights on the Oxy floor.

The defeat of Caltech by a count of 32-28 has given the Bengals punch and fight and the squad is set for the two games. Capt. Solly Mishkin, Rees Parks, Charles Osgood, Ted Ellsworth and Mike Godett, five Tiger athletes who have proven their prowess on the courts thus far this year, are slated to get in the opening part of the San Diego game.

KAPLAN BEATS PALUSO

CLEVELAND (O.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Louis "Kid" Kaplan, Meriden, Ct., won a decision over Lou Paluso of Omaha, Neb., in a twelve-round bout here tonight.

ATTRACTIVE SCHEDULE FOR BEARS GYM SQUAD

BERKELEY, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—California's exceptionally talented varsity gym team will have an attractive schedule during the second semester if all plans now on foot meet with success. The present intention is to send the Bears south to meet the University of Southern California and Southern Branch teams. Stanford and the University of Pennsylvania are to be competed with locally. Sacramento High School is also being considered as a possible adversary for the freshman team.

Del Monte Polo Stars to Play Midwick Four Sunday

INTERNATIONAL TOUCH TO GAME

Northern Four to Have Noted Englishman in Line

Local Team Will Start First String Outfit

Harry East Among Mallet Men in Tournament

Southland fans will have a taste of polo with an international flavor to it Sunday, when the crack Del Monte four meets the Midwick Country Club team in the first game of the high-goal tournament for the Pacific Coast championships. The game will be played on the Midwick Country Club field at Alhambra. On the Del Monte squad are several players who rank high in European polo circles. Among the stars on the northern team will be P. K. Wise, who will ride in No. 3 position. Wise is an eight-goal man and a candidate for England's next international polo team. He enjoys a high rank in British army polo circles as well. This will be his first game on a local field.

Another international star who will ride in the tournament will be Harry East, who will play No. 2 position for the Del Monte four. East is a mite of a man in size, but a whale of a polo player. He is rated as a seven-goal man and he has few superiors at No. 2 position on a polo field. East rode as a team-mate of Wise's in the last open championships and amazed the experts with his riding and display of strength during the heat of the fray.

Several of the Del Monte riders are well known to fans in these parts. Harry Hunt, who will ride in No. 1 position for the northern outfit, has played here many times. He is a former member of the Midwick club. Hunt has solendid stables of ponies, several of which he purchased abroad recently and which he expects to use in the tilts here. Richard Schwerin, who will ride as a back for the Del Monte squad, is rated as a four-goal man and is known among polo players as a rider with iron nerve. He will be exceptionally well mounted for Sunday's game.

The Midwick Country Club will be represented by the sensational young star, Eric Pedley, Arthur Perkins, who was recently mentioned for the international tournaments; Ted Miller, a flying Coast star; Carleton Burke, a leader in polo on the west coast for years, and Hal Roach, of movie fame, one of the most promising players developed in the last season.

Although the Del Monte outfit looks like the fastest set of riders who have invaded the Midwick territory in years they will be given a handicap by the Polo Association if the Midwick club starts its Big Four. This would be in accordance with the rules of the association as the Midwick Big Four outrate the Del Monte team on paper for high goals. Just what the handicap will be has not been decided as yet.

If Hal Roach, a two-goal man, starts the teams will face the referee on almost equal basis. This detail will all be ironed out some time during the week by local officials. There will be much interest in the work of Eric Pedley in the high goal games here as the young star is on the list of ten players who will be selected for the United States Big Four. Pedley was substitute in the last international cup contests and he has a good chance to make the regular team this year.

Today the Midwick Purples and the Midwick Reds will meet in the final game for the Southern California six-goal championship. Ed Vail, Harry Pattee and Jack Holt will start for the Purples and Howland Paddock, J. A. Wigmore Neil McCarthy and John Knorpp will ride for the Reds.

RAINBOW CLUB WILL BE IMPROVED SOON

Leigh Garnsey, manager of the Rainbow Angling Club, announces that 1927 improvements at the club will be under way in a short time. On the program for this year is the securing of two large reservoirs in which young trout will be reared. With these ponds on hand, the Rainbow Club will have more water producing young trout than any institution of its kind in the United States.

Last Sunday found quite a crowd of local and visiting anglers at Rainbow. Many limits of fish were caught. The club's stream is running cold and clear.

POMONA FROSH CAGE TEAM IN TRAINING

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont,) Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Pomona's crack freshman basketball squad started hard training today for the opening of its conference season next Saturday at the University of Redlands. The Sagechicks are scheduled to play the Bullpups in a preliminary to the varsity contest on that floor. They defeated the Pomona High School team, 38 to 24, in a close game at Pomona last Saturday.

SEATTLE, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Pacific Northwest Golf Association open tournament will be held at the Colwood Golf and Country Club, Victoria, B. C., on June 17 and 18. The amateur and women's championship tournaments will be held June 20 to 25 on the same course.

Scandals Are Ill Wind to Big Leaguer

BY AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, two of baseball's immortals, have been accused of being implicated in "throwing" a ball game in 1919.

I fail to see how the grand old game is being helped by besmirching the characters of these two great players. The reaction of the average fan to this mud-throwing is that of a child who is told on Christmas Eve that Santa Claus is a crook.

The final games of the season, if there is a position at stake, always are burlesques, sometimes the teams try to play the game in record time, swinging at every ball pitched and refusing to run out base hits or allowing themselves to be thrown out stealing. In other games you have the players switching around from their regular positions or a flock of green bushers playing their first major-league game.

In my seventeen years in the major or minor leagues I have never heard of a ball player's betting a dime on a ball game or even a rumor of a game's being deliberately thrown.

Maroons Take Drubbing From Richfield Team

In a game that was marked by fist fights in which both sides took an active part the Richfield ice hockey stars defeated the Winter Garden Maroons last night by a 3-to-2 score, before a capacity crowd at the Winter Garden rink after the teams had played an extra period. Shortly before the game started the Maroons team announced that they had bought Jerry Moody a star defense player from the Globe Ice Cream team. The Maroons obtained Moody for $1000 cash and Ross Miller, one of their players.

Moody appeared in the Maroon line-up last night and helped the team hold the Richfield skaters to a tie to end the regular three periods. In the second period Scotty of the Richfield team, and Shaver of the Maroons, engaged in a fist fight which had the spectators standing on their seats. The referee fined Scotty $10 and put him out of the game for the rest of the evening. He also penalized Shaver by keeping him out of the fray for ten minutes.

In the last period the Richfield puck chasers, although skating with only five men, gathered in a goal which decided the game.

GRANGE TAKES ON GENERALS

The Hollywood club will be strengthened for the Grange game. Right now officials of the General outfit are seeking the services of two northern stars, "Potsy" Clark and "Red" Strader. The former played with the Oakland club in the Pacific Coast League and was a hot in the one game he played here. He's a quarterback and dispatches himself much after the fashion of "Tut" Imlay and "Rabbit" Bradshaw.

Strader, a fullback, used to play at St. Mary's. He's a terrific line plunger, a smart athlete and a good man at backing up the line. Addition of these two men will give Hollywood something it has lacked all season—offensive punch.

Grange and his boys are eager to show Los Angeles fans they can play better football than that displayed Sunday. "We want another chance," said Coach Ralph Scott last night. "The boys got off to a terrible start. I know they can play real football and we'll show it next Sunday."

BACK LEO LOMSKI FOR TITLE BOUT WITH MICKEY WALKER

A group of sportsmen from Aberdeen and Seattle are willing to put up $100,000 to bind a match between Leo Lomski and Mickey Walker for the middleweight championship of the world if Lomski is successful in defeating "Tiger" Flowers in the ten-round main event of Dick Donald's show Saturday afternoon, the 22nd inst., at Wrigley Field.

Eddie Eicher, Lomski's manager, made this announcement yesterday and displayed a letter from a prominent sporting man of Aberdeen corroborating his statement.

A meeting between Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, Dick Donald, the promoter, and Eicher has been arranged for today. The three conferred Saturday, but no definite understanding was reached. Kearns, however, signified a willingness to talk business that pleased Donald not a little.

The well-known doctor evidently thinks that a bout between Lomski and Walker here in Los Angeles would draw almost as much money as a fight between Walker and Flowers in Madison Square Garden, New York.

From the doctor's conversation it is gathered that he is not wholly pleased with the deal he made with Walk Miller, Flowers's manager, when Walker lifted the title from the colored boy's brow. It seems that Walk "outchiseled" Jack and the latter doesn't like to be outsmarted.

Reservations for the bout are still pouring in. Donald has received something like 200 calls for tickets from towns in the Northwest. A number of sportsmen are making the trip by auto stage.

Flowers and Lomski are hard at work every day. The "Tiger" is at the Main-street gymnasium and Lomski at the Manhattan.

AMATEUR MITT THRONES OPEN

Five New Champions Will be Crowned in Tourney

Title Bouts Slated for Early Next Month

Martin Malone Favored in Middle Class

At least five new champions will be crowned when the Southern Pacific amateur championships are staged at the Olympic Auditorium on February 2 and 3, next, under the auspices of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. The crown in the flyweight, lightweight, welterweight, middleweight and light-heavyweight class will be thrown into the ring on the night of the tournament for new kings in each division as the holders of the honors in last year's bouts have either turned pro or moved into another class.

In the flyweight class Huerta Evans of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, winner of the title last year, has moved into the bantam division, leaving his crown for others. In the other classes Frank Burke, lightweight, has turned pro, as did Billy Zukle, welter; Ed Gill, middleweight, and Armond Emanuel, light-heavyweight. All of the other title-holders from Harry Beum, heavy king, down to Mike Watters, the fighting Irishman from the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who holds the feather-weight crown, will be on hand to defend their laurels.

Martin Malone, a Mercury boxer, is a heavy favorite for one of the vacant thrones. Malone, according to the dope, will be in there bowling over any middleweight who thinks he is good enough to hold down the job. Malone is working out daily at the Los Angeles Athletic Club gymnasium under Clayton Frye, boxing instructor, and is in tip-top shape. Malone's opposition will come from tough fleet boxers, according to those in the know.

CATALINA SWIM EPOCHAL EVENT

swimming is common to all races and nations. It is almost as universal as breathing and eating. It perhaps was one of the first accomplishments of the race. It always has been more or less international as a sport and a pastime, and fundamental as an act of self-preservation in emergencies. But heretofore swimming has offered no great reward. It needed but the stimulus of such an epic event as the Catalina swim to make swimming an international competitive sport in the larger sense. If perpetuated, it will bring peoples closer together in wholesome competitive endeavor and thereby strengthen the comity of nations. I think it no exaggeration to state that hundreds of thousands will benefit physically by the Catalina swim in the next few years. Those who already swim will seek to improve and countless thousands more will take up swimming.

I have been serving as a member of the Chamber of Commerce committee on sports and recreations headed by Carleton F. Burke, this committee acting in an advisory capacity to the Junior Chamber. In July, Mr. Burke asked me to make a survey of sports and offer suggestions for additional events. In this I suggested an annual attempt to cross the Catalina channel for a suitable prize. No doubt others had conceived this long before. But it is my opinion that it was the competitive feature, an open field and the generous prizes offered, that spelled success for the event—these things plus perfect organization. As a member of the marathon committee—duties not clearly delineated beyond wearing a badge—I had a chance to observe the operations of this organization and must state that it approximated perfection. And making it doubly remarkable is the fact that those in charge had no precedent by which to be guided. It seemed very doubtful whether a swim of such magnitude with more than 100 entrants could be completed without at least one fatality, and yet I failed to get trace of even a minor accident.

During my years as a newspaper man it was my privilege to witness some of the great dramas of sports and some of the great tragedies of the race, but nothing except the unbelievable heroism seen in the World War ever impressed me as deeply. Beside it all other sporting events, even in their great moments, seemed to fade. It was truly zero hour when these more than 100 swimmers plunged forward to do battle with the unrelenting and inscrutable forces of nature. And there was not one in that sturdy human squaron whose courage seemed to falter. One can say this after seeing the human flotsam and jetsam taken from the water with cramped and twisted muscles, lips drawn and purple and frames racked with paroxysms of chills. Of those brought in I did not see one for whom it seemed humanly possible to continue. Some were not fitted by nature for such a task but did not know it until put to the test. They should be applauded for trying.

FIELDS MAY BOX PETROLLE

Open-Air Match Looms for Jackie if He Can Get Over Kid Brown at Vernon Next Tuesday

Jackie Fields may box Billy Petrolle in an open-air match here this summer. Jack Doyle, through his matchmaker, Wad Wadhams, was negotiating with Gig Rooney, manager of Fields, yesterday.

But unless Fields beats Harry Kid Brown at Vernon next Tuesday night he will be out of the running for outdoor boxing. The Fields-Brown match is the best natural made here in months. Besides giving promise of a great fight it is virtually a match for the lightweight championship of the Pacific Coast.

Early betting odds quoted yesterday on the scrap are making Fields a favorite. But gymnasium followers believe that Brown should be an even bet. He has defeated more good men than Fields and has fought all the best lightweights in the East.

He defeated Johnny Dundee and Johnny Kilbane—both matches being over the weight limit so no title was involved. He also decisioned Jack Bernstein when the latter was junior lightweight champion. Bernstein made Brown come in overweight.

Fields returns tomorrow from Marietta Springs where he has been resting for the last three days.

Both Brown and Fields must post forfeits of $500 each to make 136 pounds for the match and the new ruling of the boxing commission insists that fighters make the weight they name in their contracts.

GLOBE BOWLERS TO MEET RAILROADERS

Eddie Cleckner, manager of the Angelus Bowling Academy, announces that the Globe Ice Cream team will battle the Pacific Electric team tonight at the Angelus in a major league contest. The Globe five leads the major circuit.

Also tonight at the Angelus, league competition in the Goodyear Rubber Company and the Union Oil Company leagues will be resumed.

Taylor, House Out in Front in Track Meet

POMONA COLLEGE, CLAREMONT, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Taylor House, winner of the recent intramural basketball championship, bade fair to repeat its victory on the track today, taking a big lead in the first three events of the meet. The House team won the discus and placed several men in each of the other two events. One record went by the boards in today's events. Hank Morgan, husky freshman, tossed the discus 110ft. 1in. to break Jesse Osborne's record by a single inch. The other two events weren't so good as last year.

A whole flock of entries, mostly freshmen, made the seventy-five-yard dash, the big event of the day. The large number of contestants necessitated three heats before the finals.

Tomorrow's program features the high jump, 300-yard run and shot-put. Cliff Winn, senior sprinter, is favored to win the longer run. The results:

75-yard dash—Won by Gray (Dew House.) Gordon (Dew House) second. Cobb (Cook House) third, Palmer (Nu Alpha Phi) fourth, Beatty (Cook House) fifth. Time, 9 3-10s.

60-yard high hurdles—Won by Henry (Bailey.) Aftek (Taylor House) second Gordon (Dew House) third, White (Alpha Gamma Sigma) fourth, Russell (Phi Kappa Alpha) fifth. Time, 11 1-5s.

Discus throw—Won by Morgan (Taylor House,) Bright (Taylor House) second, McCrae (Sigma Tau) third, Jaffe (Taylor House) fourth; Wheeler (Kappa Delta) fifth. Distance, 110ft. 1in. (New record.)

TOKIO, Enero 17.—Principes, ministros del consejo y otros funcionarios, así como una muchedumbre de 5000 niños de las escuelas, vitorearon al Principe Chichibu, presunto heredero del trono japonés, a su regreso de Inglaterra para concurrir a los funerales de su padre, el Emperador Yoshihito, que murió el Dia de Navidad.

Cuatro contratorpederos salieron a encontrar al vapor de linea Siberia Maru, y lo escoltaron hasta su dársena en Yokohama, donde se le dio el principe la bienvenida a su patria.

El Principe Chichibu se dirigió inmediatamente al Palacio Imperial, y presentó sus respetos a su madre y a otros miembros de la familia real. Oró asimismo ante el ataúd de su padre.

GINEBRA, Enero 17.—El estadista inglés, Vizconde Cecil of Chelwood, cree que los jóvenes ambiciosos deben escoger entre ser grandes por si mismos o por sus hechos—pueden ser algo o hacer algo; pero no ambas cosas.

Los Estados Unidos ofrecen al joven pobre mejores oportunidades que Inglaterra, agrega Lord Robert Cecil, como se conoce más bien en Ginebra: "Hemos resuelto los ingleses el problema de la libertad tan bien como ustedes," le dijo al corresponsal de la Prensa Asociada, "pero ustedes han resuelto el problema de la igualdad mejor que nosotros."

Dos Pintores Arrestados en Nueva York

NUEVA YORK, Enero 17.—Cree la policia que dos pintores, Meyer Smith y Rubin Taer, sean responsables de una explosión de bomba, que causó hoy daños en la oficina del consulado italiano y en otros dos edificios de la calle Veintidós Este. Uno y otro fueron detenidos poco después de la explosión.

Según una supuesta confesión, el acto ha sido inspirado, al decir de la policia, por odio hacia el primer ministro Mussolini.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and reaches the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds bronchial coughs, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—[Advertisement.]

Será Suntuoso el Baile que Van a Dar los "Elks" en Venecia

El baile anual de caridad de los "B.P.O. Elks" de Los Angeles promete ser el más elegante de los dados hasta aquí por el Templo No. 99, según dicen los miembros de la directiva. Se efectuará en el gran salón de baile de Venecia la noche del próximo jueves. El año próximo pasado el fondo de caridad subió aparentemente a $20,000, y, según el informe que han rendido los comités encargados de la venta de billetes, el de este año pasará de $60,000. De allí que la fiesta ya a resultar sin duda much más suntuosa que la anterior.

...ARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

...bronchial coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is a new medical discovery with two-fold action. It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Unlike many drugs, creosote is endorsed by high medical authority as one of the greatest healing agents for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble and kills the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds bronchial coughs, bronchitis and other forms of throat troubles, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if cough or cold is not relieved after using according to directions. Ask your druggist.—[Advertisement.]

DUCE HOPES TO PLACATE SLAVS

Entire Agreement Believed Not in Hungary Pact

Italy Continues to Bolster Position in Balkans

Aims at Ending France's Hold on Little Entente

ROME, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Details of the commercial agreement shortly to be signed in Rome between Hungary and Italy will not tell the whole story of the understanding between those two nations, which, it is believed, will be reached when Hungary's Premier, Count Bethlen, visits Rome in the near future.

Certain facilities will be granted to Hungary in the port of Fiume, under the trade treaty. However, the understanding is not necessarily just another thrust at Jugo-Slavia.

SLAV PRESS OPPOSED

To the hinterland of the Fiume lies Jugo-Slavia, and Premier Benito Mussolini does not intend to relinquish his hopes of a definite agreement with the triple kingdom, despite the campaign being conducted by the Jugo-Slav press, which violently opposes the ratification of the agreement reached some time ago between the Rome and Belgrade foreign offices. Italy hopes that this ratification will be forthcoming when the excitement over the Italo-Albanian agreement has subsided.

Meanwhile Signor Mussolini continues a policy which gives it an exceedingly strong position in the event of the refusal of the Jugo-Slavs to legalize the signatures of the representatives of the Nettuno agreement.

While the Jugo-Slavs are finding difficulty coming to a decision, he is proceeding with a Balkan policy which will give Italy a dominant position in the affairs of the troublesome peninsula.

The Albanian treaty, the reversal of feeling toward Italy in Greece, which is the prelude of an Italo-Greek pact in the near future; the understanding with Roumania, and now the approaching treaty with Hungary, complete the encirclement of Jugo-Slavia and make negative to a large extent the effectiveness of the Little Entente.

BLOW AT FRANCE

Officials here believe the misunderstandings which have arisen between Italy and Jugo-Slavia over the Albanian treaty, and which have been fostered by other nations not interested in the Adriatic, will disappear and Jugo-Slavia will fall into line with the other Balkan nations, thus practically ousting France from its control through the Little Entente. It is pointed out here that the Fascist press, which is usually violent when the interests of Italy are attacked, touches lightly on the ratification of the agreements with Jugo-Slavia.

Every effort will be made to convince Jugo-Slavia that the coming agreement with Hungary is not directed against it, and that its adherence to a "peaceful policy" in the Adriatic and Balkans would be more than welcome. Official circles also regard as significant the fact that while public opinion in some European countries is incensed against the Italian policy, Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the English exchequer, is in Rome, and paid a friendly visit to Premier Mussolini yesterday. His presence here at this time would seem to justify the Italian claims that Il Duce has the approval of the British government.

HOBOES' CONDUCT TO BE SUCH AS TO REPULSE COPS' ADVANCES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—No entangling alliances with the law.

Such is to be the policy of the great and untrammeled kingdom of hobodom for the ensuing year, according to "Overland Red," president-elect of the western division, at the annual convention, which is in progress in the "jungles" of San Leandro Creek.

Members of the division are forbidden, under the threat of summary expulsion, to accept the hospitality of a city jail as a sleeping place. They are further enjoined from "mooching" on the streets and are directed to keep as closely to the officially designated "jungles" as possible. In no case, according to the mandate, will a member of the division conduct himself in a manner as to encourage advances on the part of a policeman.

"Overland Red" has this to say:

"The sky at any time is a preferable panoply to the roof of a city jail. Second place, a jail is a regular breeding place for stool pigeons, and we got enough stool pigeons in the ranks as it is. The back door handout is plenty good enough for any self-respecting hobo. And, last, I ain't got no sympathy for a 'bo what's not content in the jungle and has a hankering for the bright lights."

RAILROAD'S ATTACK ON TAX DISMISSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—The attack of the Great Northern Railway upon validity of the Minnesota law imposing a tax on the gross earnings of railroads was dismissed by the Supreme Court today for want of jurisdiction.

Under the Exchequer Fig Farm Plan

~Requires No residence on the Land

THIS message is directed at "the man at the desk"—the man who guides industry, business; who sits at the focal point of the wheel of progress. He knows costs and profits—he knows the ideal business is that which eliminates expensive overhead, finds a short cut to its market, with correspondingly greater profits.

"TAFT-OTA" FIGS—

Direct from Grower to Grocer

To such men, in California, Exchequer Fig Farms MUST appeal. By its unique plan of operating 2,000 acres of Kadota Figs as a unit, with only one overhead, and NO middlemen, a greater percentage of profit should be returned—and there will be no waste land—as in the case of small unit, individually owned parcels of land, upon which the average farmer ekes out a mere existence.

$16,000,000 for Water!

Exchequer Fig Farms received its name from that giant of the West—Exchequer Dam, said to be America's Highest Dam—impounding all the waters of the Merced River for the use of the Merced Irrigation District, of which Exchequer Fig Farms is a part.

Thus this great enterprise is assured abundant water—the life blood of California Fruit.

Millions of Trees—a Record!

In addition to the exceptional personnel backing Exchequer Fig Farms, Mr. W. T. Kirkman, Jr., Kirkman Nurseries, Fresno, is the man who will be directly responsible for the planting, and bringing into bearing, of the finest Kadota Fig Trees obtainable. The Kirkman Nurseries have, over a period of years, a record to be proud of—60,000,000 trees and vines planted in California.

GOODYEAR SUIT ASKS MILLIONS

Former President Seiberling Again Defendant

Action Eighth Filed in Tire Concern Litigation

Petition Asserts Total of Debt Was Concealed

AKRON (O.) Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Judgment against Frank A. Seiberling, former president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, in the sum of $2,093,729.06, and a court order compelling the Akron, Canton and Youngstown Railway Company to turn over to the company $120,000 in stock dividends now held in trust by the Guardian Trust Company of Cleveland, are requested in a petition filed by Goodyear attorneys in the Summit County Common Pleas Court here today.

In addition, a court order is asked for judicial sale of 2500 shares of common capital stock of the Prudential Securities and Realty Company and 1750 first mortgage $1000 par value Midland Continental Railway Company bonds, the proceeds to be applied upon the judgment requested.

ON SAME GROUNDS

Today's suit, the eighth filed since litigation between the Seiberling and the Dillon Read & Co. factions of Goodyear reopened last fall, is based upon substantially the same grounds as the company's suits against Seiberling for $1,311,416.96, filed the 4th inst.

Seiberling misappropriated to his own use $3,744,729.06 belonging to the Goodyear company during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1920, the new petition charges.

He acknowledged this debt and contracted with the company for its settlement on December 6, 1920, it adds.

However, according to the judgment petitions, filed in January, when Seiberling acknowledged the $3,744,729.06 debt he concealed from the company his alleged $1,311,416.96 indebtedness "wrongfully representing to the plaintiff and its board of directors that the only amount owing by the said defendant to the plaintiff was the said sum of $3,774,729.06."

The 4th inst. petitions assert Seiberling "wrongfully concealed" from Goodyear the existence of $281,154.45 and $1,030,262.51 "owing by the defendant to the plaintiff."

The $28,154.45 is said to be interest at 6 per cent per annum on $11,651,417.17, which Seiberling is accused of having withdrawn from the Goodyear treasury and misappropriated from 1912 to 1920, inclusive.

The $1,030,262.51 Seiberling "caused the plaintiff itself to pay out of its corporate funds" for improvements on Goodyear Heights Allotment No. 2, "which the defendant had agreed to make and pay for," the court was told.

DEAL IN DETAIL

When Seiberling acknowledged his debt of $3,744,729.06 to the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company on December 6, 1920, he transferred to the plaintiff real estate valued at $275,000, and contracted, it is alleged, to turn over to Goodyear as collateral half the outstanding stock of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown Railroad and half the stock in the present Akron, Canton and Youngstown Terminals Company property. As additional security, he is said to have given $1,700,000 worth of Midland Continental Railroad bonds, deposited with the Cleveland Trust Company, and 2500 shares of stock of the Prudential Securities and Realty Company, organized after the 1921 financial crash to take over Seiberling's real estate and other assets.

After repeated postponements, it is stated, a public sale of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown securities was held on November 30, 1926, at Akron, netting the Goodyear company $1,376,000, but leaving a balance due the company of $2,093,729.06.

Today's petition was filed by Rockwell & Grant & Tolles, Hogsett & Ginn, attorneys for the plaintiff, and is signed by P. H. Hart, treasurer of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

PUBLIC UTILITY FACES ARREST

Of Course, State Railway Commission Never Has Done So Before, But One-Man "Company" Gets in Bad With One-Man "Public," So It's Got to Be Done

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—In solemn and august dignity assembled, the State Railway Commission today ordered the arrest and incarceration of a public-utility company. It never had been done before, so the astute commissioners were skeptical for a minute and then decided to direct the order against E. L. McCapes of the town of Raymond, Madera county.

McCapes is president, executive vice-president, secretary, treasurer, board of directors, janitor and sole owner of the water company of Raymond.

One T. M. Nichols, it seems, is the water company's "consuming public."

As the story goes, the "public" told the "company" one day last summer that its service was rotten, or worse, if possible.

"If you don't like our service you can go without it," retorted the "company."

So the "public" hied itself to the office of the "company" and "knocked that corporate body for a loop or two." Nichols forthwith was arrested for battery, paid a fine of $7.50, went home and tried the faucet, but no water came.

So Nichols appealed to the Railroad Commission which ordered McCapes to furnish water. McCapes demurred and was summoned for contempt. He failed to appear. So the commission decided to arrest him.

Dry Executive Notes Progress in Enforcement

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—In the opinion of W. W. Anderson, acting prohibition administrator for Northern California and Nevada, enforcement of the Volstead Act is becoming more efficient every day. He expressed himself today as national prohibition entered on its eighth year.

"Five years ago when I entered the service one could buy liquor almost it ever was; rum now is no more; or less difficult to obtain. Whisky is higher today in San Francisco than courts and juries are helping to enforce the law. The desire to flout the Volstead Act has passed. People are getting ashamed to violate the law."

CARROLL GETS STAY

Producer Will Take "Bathtub" Case to Higher Court

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—A thirty-day stay of execution of the sentence which requires Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, to serve a year and a day in Atlanta penitentiary for perjury was granted by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today.

Carroll was convicted of swearing falsely before two grand juries that Joyce Hawley, a show girl, had not occupied a bathtub on the stage of his theater at a party last year. He lost his first appeal and the stay today was granted so that his attorneys might prepare papers to bring the case before the United States Supreme Court.

FOUNDER OF GIRL SCOUTS SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Juliette Low Known for Many Years as Head of Feminine Group

SAVANNAH (Ga.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Juliette Low of London and Savannah, founder of the Girl Scouts and member of a distinguished Georgia family, died at her home here today after a brief illness. She was 67 years of age.

The daughter of Gen. W. W. Gordon and Eleanor Kinzie Gordon, Mrs. Low was married to William Low of Warwickshire, Eng., and maintained homes both here and in London for more than forty years.

It was while on a visit to England that she conceived the plan of forming the Girl Scouts in the United States.

A close friend of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, who founded the Boy Scouts of England, she was given his active co-operation in forming the first patrol here in March, 1912, of the Girl Guides of America.

In 1915, national headquarters of the organization was established in Washington, and the name was changed to Girl Scouts of America. Subsequently the headquarters was moved to New York City, and from the little chapter first established in Savannah the order has grown into membership of several thousand.

For many years Mrs. Low was president.

Heir to Japan's Throne Arrives Home for Rites

TOKIO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Princes, Cabinet Ministers and other officials, as well as 5000 school children greeted Prince Chichibu, heir apparent to the Japanese throne, on his return from England to attend the funeral of his father, Emperor Yoshihito, who died Christmas Day.

Four destroyers met the liner Siberia Maru and escorted her to her dock at Yokohama, where the Prince was welcomed home.

Prince Chichibu went immediately to the Imperial Palace and paid his respects to his mother and other members of the royal family. He also worshiped at his father's casket.

EMPRESS CHARLOTTE ILL FROM INFLUENZA

BRUSSELS, Jan. 17. (AP)—Former Empress Charlotte, aged widow of Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, is suffering from influenza. Her condition is serious. Queen Elizabeth has been summoned from Paris. Charlotte is an aunt of King Albert. Charlotte several times recently has been reported on the verge of death. She is 86 years of age.

MINISTER MARRIES ADOPTED DAUGHTER

A CLUB for regular folks, who want plenty of room for their beach play, who will appreciate the more than five city blocks of ocean frontage at Venice which this Club offers its members.

A stretch of sand which doesn't crowd you into a small space; room to dash into the water anywhere; a wonderful Club House on the pier, with every convenience and facility for sheltered play; barges and regular trips for those who enjoy deep sea fishing.

A Club of which any family may be proud, which places its membership restrictions on the ground of individual worthiness alone, and opens its doors to members at a moderate expense.

In appreciation of the cordial support and co-operation which the plans of the Los Angeles Surf Club have met from the major organizations and business interests of Venice, the Club plans to set aside a portion of its extensive beach for the public, supplying equipment and life guards, and maintaining supervision.

The Wise Wife

A Fable for Married People

ONCE upon a time there was a man and a woman who were married to each other. After a bit the man, who believed that the plain speech common to the great world of commercial affairs could be successfully installed in the home, treated his wife to a course in constructive criticism with himself as the instructor. He enlightened her in many ways. He told her where she got off in regard to her clothes, her dancing, her small talk, her way of running his house, her industry, and other harrowing details too painful to mention.

The wife listened carefully for a year until all the faults had by constant enumeration been tabulated and catalogued. At the end of that time she had a vision. Otherwise, the course might have gone on forever.

After she had the vision she dried her eyes and powdered her nose and without giving any hint to her husband she set about secretly to remove all cause for criticism. She worked hard and faithfully. Finally, every reason for complaint was eliminated. Then she sprang the hard-won perfection upon the husband, item by item.

As the vision had foretold, he took it like a charge of buckshot at close range. He stopped, staggered and fell backwards, and, having had a high pressure anyway, passed right out of the picture.

And then the extremely attractive young widow, a thousand per cent wiser in the ways of wedlock, had nothing more to do but pick out her next spouse and live happily ever after.

Moral: Wives should always listen to their first husbands.

"Times" Daily Short Story

THE LAST BLOW

BY OCTAVUS ROY COHEN

THERE may have been better fight managers than Whitey, but I don't believe it. When it came to teaching a boy the tricks of the squared circle and handling him with quiet, authoritative, masterful deftness during the course of a fight, Whitey was the peer of any in the world. His weakness was that he loved the Kid.

The Kid was handsome and young and unspoiled. He had everything: aggressiveness, poise, speed and deadly accuracy. Whitey taught him to take his time and hit short and hard.

The Kid came along like a streak. He won the sectional flyweight championship and then a like bantamweight title. He and Whitey went north . . . not right in New York, but around there. Whitey did some beautiful match-making: he picked opponents who could teach the Kid a heap but couldn't stop him in a million years—clever, veteran boxers who couldn't hit.

The Kid got to thinking he was fighting his own fights. That was funny—but natural, perhaps. You see, Whitey wasn't allowed to coach from his corner, so they doped out a series of signals. Whitey would study the Kid's opponent while the bout was on. Perhaps the Kid would be taking a lacing—and then suddenly Whitey would shoot his signal. It would say maybe: "Quit leading, Kid. Make him do the work." Or: Straight left to the face!" Or: "Short right uppercut as he comes in."

Whitey was uncanny that way. He could figure in a couple of rounds just exactly what the other fellow's weakness was. He'd signal the Kid, and the Kid would do as he was told—trustingly, unquestioningly—like a youngster with his dad. But that wasn't the Kid fighting. All he was doing was propelling his fists. It was Whitey who was doing the fighting—every time.

By the time the Kid was twenty it was a cinch that he was going to be a big money-maker whether he ever won a title or not. He was drawing down from $500 to $1000 a fight and never getting worse than a draw. A flash: speedy, clever and smart. But the brains belonged to Whitey.

And that was when the Kid broke with Whitey. Did it abruptly and cruelly—like youngsters will do. Said Whitey wasn't getting him big enough money; said he had other interests; said a heap of things which were unkind and mostly untrue.

Whitey took it like a man. "If that's the way you feel about it, Kid," he said, "you're free." And with that he tore up the contract which would have made them both rich in another three years.

Somebody else promptly signed the Kid up, and matched him against a boy who would have ordinarily been duck soup for him. It marked the Kid's finish. It was his first fight without Whitey in his corner.

A series of disasters followed, and finally the Kid quit the ring. He was through, and we all knew it. Whitey never told anybody how hurt he was—and what it meant to him to see the Kid go bad.

THE Kid stayed out of the ring for two years. Then he went into training and decided he was going to come back. It looked at first as though he was really going to make the grade. He beat several pretty good second-raters. Then his manager matched him with Eddie Garron.

Eddie is a tough boy with a kick like a mule. But he's a crude fighter, a killing right-hand puncher and he swings wide. I was in town that night and went to the fight. And sitting right beside me was Whitey.

I couldn't help watching him. He was sitting forward with his eyes focused on the Kid, eager and wistful. Finally the Kid looked over. He smiled slightly and nodded. Then he did the same to me. Just exactly the same—no slightest shade of distinction in his greeting to me, a casual friend, and to Whitey—the man who had fought his battles for him and who loved him like a son. And when the Kid just smiled casually, I saw Whitey wince.

He knew he belonged in the corner with the Kid. He knew the dynamite danger that lurked in the flailing fists of Eddie Garron. He knew that the Kid needed him.

And he knew that the Kid didn't want him! That was what hurt.

The fight started. Whitey was tense. Every time Garron landed, Whitey shuddered. And Garron landed a-plenty. The Kid kept circling to the left—always to the left—square into that right chop of Garron's. "My God!" groaned Whitey. "Why don't somebody tell the Kid to move the other way?"

In the fourth round it evidently occured to the Kid for the first time that he was being whipped. A dazed, hopeless look came into his eyes. He needed someone to tell him what to do—somebody whose judgment he could trust.

And in that desperate, critical hour of his comeback the Kid turned pitcously to the one man in the world who loved him, the one who could help him.

Whitey signaled. But the Kid looked away and didn't obey the signal. He kept circling to the left and trying to drop a right hook in on Garron quicker than Garron could drop it on him. It was poor tactics. Eddie Garron was in his prime. The Kid's timing was bad, his judgment of distance rusty. He loked again—pleadingly—toward Whitey, and again Whitey signaled. Again the Kid failed to heed that signal. It looked like stubbornness.

It was the end for the Kid. It was the end of his comeback. His eyes glazed under the punishing power of light in his eyes. "Yes," he said slowly—as though confessing to an error—"yes, I saw you signaling. But—but, Whitey—it's been so long . . . I had forgotten our signals!"

[Copyright, 1926, P. F. Collier & Son Co.]

In the fourth round it evidently occurred to the kid for the first time that he was being whipped

Garron's punches. His knees sagged. For three rounds he fought back desperately against those crushing right hooks and chops.

BUT more terrible to watch than the pounding down of a brave young fighter was Whitey's face. Whitey was taking every blow. His eyes, too, were glazed: his body rocked with each smashing wallop.

"It's a crime," he said over and over again. "The Kid can whip him. If he'd just circle the other way and use that straight left—"

When the knockout came Whitey wasn't even looking. His elbows were on his knee and his face cupped in his hands. I thought I heard him sob.

The Kid wasn't hurt. But he was finished as a fighter. He left the ring a few minutes later and went to his dressing-room.

Whitey and I drifted over that way. When the Kid came out to go to the showers we stopped him.

"Gee Kid," said Whitey softly, dropping a fatherly arm on the bruised shoulders, "I'm sorry. Awful sorry."

The Kid shrugged. "I guess he was just too good for me, Whitey."

"Too good?" Whitey straightened up. "Why, Kid, you can lick that guy any time. All you needed to do was keep moving to your right and poke your left into his face. Why didn't you do it, Kid? Didn't you see me signaling you "

The Kid looked up—a queer, guilty

ANDES TRAIL RULED DOWN BY OFFICIAL

Attorney-General's Ruling Blow at Scheme to Link Americas by Highway

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—The ambition of the Andes Trail Association of Los Angeles to construct a highway linking North and South America struck a temporary, if not permanent, snag here today. At the request of Corporation Commissioner Macmillan, Atty.-Gen. Webb handed down a ruling, first, that the Andes Trail Association is incorporated under an improper title, and second, that the organization cannot issue $200,000 worth of memberships at $10 each because all the voting power is vested in ten charter members holding memberships at $500 each.

According to its articles of incorporation the organization has for its aim the "preparing of maps, making a survey and interesting financial interests" in an intercontinental highway.

An application to sell memberships in the Andes Trail Association was filed with the State Corporation Commission in Los Angeles on July 16, 1926, listing Thomas M. Jennings, 811 Flower street, Inglewood, as president. An announcement subsequently was made in Sacramento on August 2, 1926, that Corporation Commissioner Daugherty had denied the application.

Mr. Jennings, in Inglewood last night, however, declared the permit later was granted the association when the articles of incorporation were revised at the instance of the commission. Mr. Jennings stated he would confer with the association's attorney, George A. Judson, today on the Attorney-General's decision.

"I am puzzled at the decision," Mr. Jennings said, "and as far as his objection to the votes of the ten charter members is concerned we did that upon the advice of attorneys who said that a vote for each member would be an unwieldly proposition in the future. We have no intention or desire to invest future control of the organization in the ten members."

The president of the association said it had received hearty indorsements throughout North and South America and the intention was to operate it on a "nonprofit, co-operative and educational plan."

Pacific-Southwest Business

Future Customers Who Are Already Selling to Us

XXIV

"IF YOU want to find your wife, have her paged in Blank's basement," is a local saying. Blank's basement sells used furniture. This section of the country is unique in taking old furniture for new.

Furniture is a tidy payroll industry in Southern California—$125,000 in the envelope every week. The business grew on the demand for furnishing new houses, and also because mahogany, pine, oak, gum and other woods are handy by ocean.

Local demand was so good that furniture manufacturers did not look far for customers until every other corner here had some sort of furniture store. Then they began sending out salesmen into surrounding territory—the Great Valley, and neighboring states. Today, they are selling to the Atlantic seaboard.

SOUTHERN California manufacturers have, right at hand, an illustration of the expert's axiom, about extreme differences in markets that, on the surface, look pretty much alike. Arizona is one kind of market, Utah is another, and Fresno, Kings, Madera, Kern and Tulare counties, in this state, each have their peculiarities.

If you make rope, Arizona would be a good market, using lots of that commodity, and buying in large quantities. For groceries, clothes and consumer goods, the Great Valley might be best for a start. Idaho is a wonderful market for electrical apparatus, with five electric ranges for every one in Southern California. Utah is a consumer market with a bias against coffee and tea, which are discouraged by the Mormon religion. And so on.

COPIES WANTED?

The series of business studies, written by James H. Collins, the internationally known writer, for the First National - Pacific - Southwest Banking Group, will be concluded with the article appearing on February 1.

Have these articles been of service to you? Have they solved one or more of the problems confronting your business or pointed the way to the solution?

Would a portfolio of the entire series be of service to you or to one of your good customers, here or in the East? If the demand is sufficient we will have the series printed in book form.

SOUTHERN California has made a beginning in seeking customers for its factory products, but little more. Some manufacturers are too busy around home, and will not turn their attention to this handy territory until they need new customers. Others seem to think that these neighboring markets are fenced in with barbed wire.

For instance, a certain manufacturer ignored the Great Valley because it "belonged," he said, to competitors is another big distributing town. But a newcomer, starting a factory in the same line of business, had evidently never heard of the taboo. He sent out salesmen, and is now selling in the Great Valley, and as far as Seattle.

THE people in these neighboring sections have considerable friendliness for Southern California, because they sell their own products here. Being farmers, they produce mostly things to eat. In fifteen years, in California's southern counties, a city the size of Newark has grown into one the size of Chicago, and everybody eats. The potatoes, butter, milk, grapes, beef, pork, cheese and eggs come to Southern California by the truck and train load every day in the year. Not long ago, a "Good Will" party of Southern Californians visited Utah and Idaho to tell the folks there what they had to sell. But it was hard to get attention—the Utah and Idaho folks were so absorbed in what they had for the Southern California market.

ANOTHER thing—Southern California is a source of supply for tourists to view the wonders of these sections. They go from here on side trips, or stop in these places because they are on their way here. It is easy to wisecrack about tourists. But tourists are an industry in themselves. It takes time to get them in volume, and plenty of equipment and service to keep them coming. Southern California leads in the tourist industry, and other sections are glad to connect with this established business.

THESE nearby markets are going through changes common to the West. Yesterday, the Western merchant bought two or three times a year, freighted his goods in by mule team, got long credits, and was paid by his farmer customers at harvest time. Today, the motor truck enables him to buy from week to week, he keeps up with the fashions, his customers are raising specialized and diversified crops that bring in money every month, and the whole basis of supplying him is different.

Southern California has the advantage of nearness, either in comparison with other Pacific Coast business centers or the East. It has advantages in freight rates, distance and similar factors. When it begins to capitalize the advantages, it will have abundant outlets, and a trade much better balanced, less subject to hazards, than the local business done at present.

AS one of the outstanding public men in France, Joseph Caillaux depends upon the power of oratory in advocating his ideas and in swaying his colleagues. To safeguard his voice is his constant aim. His favorite among cigarettes is Lucky Strikes, both for finer flavor and throat protection.

Lucky Strikes have become the favorites of men whose priceless voices thrill their audiences, as they have with the millions because, first, they afford greater enjoyment and second, they are certain not to irritate even the most sensitive throat.

The world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged, perfectly blended, give them their richer flavor.

But in addition, a costly extra process—toasting for 45 minutes—develops the hidden flavors of the choicest tobaccos and at the same time removes all "bite" and harshness.

Smoke Lucky Strikes. They give added pleasure—you'll like them.

EARNINGS REPORTED BY WILSON COMPANY

NET OF PACKING CONCERN IN EIGHT MONTHS' PERIOD $3,169,758.89

Net earnings of Wilson & Co., Inc., for the eight months ended October 30, last, the first fiscal closing after reorganization, amounted to $3,169,758.89, it was announced yesterday by Thomas E. Wilson, president. The balance carried to surplus, after preferred dividends, was $2,170,319.89, bringing total surplus on October 30, last, to $11,926,907.45.

This result justified the action of the board of directors in paying on November 15, last, an initial dividend of $3.50 a share on the preferred stock, although this stock is noncumulative as to dividends previous to November 1, 1927, Mr. Wilson stated.

The financial condition is shown in the balance sheet. The working capital of the consolidated companies stands at $34,467,128.65, and the current assets are practically six times current liabilities.

Gross sales for the eight months amounted to $195,000,000, or at the annual rate of $292,500,000, a substantial increase over the preceding year.

ESPEE APPLICATION FOR BONDS DOCKETED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today docketed the Southern Pacific Railroad's application for permission to issue $100,000,000 in bonds secured by its Oregon railroad lines. The company desires to issue $46,000,000 of the new securities immediately, as a reimbursement for funds advanced to its Oregon subsidiaries, but does not desire to sell them, while it will retain the balance until such time as future capital expenditures may necessitate their sale.

STEAM SUPPLANTING WATER

Power Concerns Find Cost of Undeveloped Mountain Sites Excessive; Tidewater Plants Rising

BY EARLE E. CROWE

In the minds of the public utility executives a vague thought of the last few years has slowly formed into definite realization. What they actually have known all this time is that the transition from water to steam in the manufacture of power had to come, even in a State as rich in water resources as California. For economic reasons, it appears that the turning point has already been reached, and that steam is in the ascendancy.

It is all a matter of costs and profits. The power companies have simply reached the point where the cost of utilizing the undeveloped water sites in the higher mountains would show diminishing profits. At this point it is time to turn to steam, provided power manufactured from steam will return a profit greater than the rate estimated from the undeveloped hydroelectric sites.

Here is what George C. Ward, vice-president in charge of construction for the Southern California Edison Company, has to say:

"There are few, if any, undeveloped water power projects that could deliver power to load centers, after the costs of transmission have been included, at a price to compete with steam power from modern tidewater plants.

"The last twenty years comprise a period during which water power had a distinct advantage and during this period the most favorable water power sites have been put to work. The undeveloped and less economically favorable water power sites that remain are, for the most part, not able to compete now. The studies of our engineers indicate that these considerations are particularly true in the case of hydroelectric power where long and expensive transmission lines are involved."

Mr. Ward's comment would indicate that the large companies responsible for the intensive development of hydroelectric power in the mountains of California are preparing for a new long-term program that will center on steam power plants. Companies like Edison, San Joaquin Light and Power, Great Western, Pacific Gas, California, Oregon and others are all engaged in huge water power projects that are not yet completed; but it is the business of the power companies to constantly plan for the future.

Two significant thoughts arise in this connection. If the next programs of the power companies are to center on steam, of what importance are the recent Herminghaus decision and the power resources of the Boulder Dam? One affects the erection of water storage in the higher mountains and the other a tremendous potential supply of hydroelectric power. The answer is obvious. If steam plants will do the work economically and efficiently, then power and light for California homes and industries will come from steam.

HEDGE ON FUEL

Already the engineers of the Edison company have given the matter careful thought. The construction, now under way, of the Long Beach No. 3 plant, will ultimately supply 1,000,000 horsepower at a cost, including transmission to load centers, of $100,000,000. The significance of this expenditure, it is well to note, is that steam plant engineering has progressed to the point where this plant will produce not less than 480 kilowatt hours for each barrel of oil consumed, or exactly twice the efficiency of the first Edison plant in Long Beach, installed only a few years ago.

The newer steam plants, like Long Beach No. 3, are designed to burn as fuel either oil or natural gas or coal. Whichever is the cheapest, the companies will burn. In fact, the figures are available to show that coal from Utah, the San Joaquin Basin and other points in the Southwest can be brought here and utilized profitably the minute oil goes above a certain price. And the power companies do not expect oil to reach this price.

Slight Setback Noted in Trade Survey of Week

Los Angeles business activity declined during the week ending the 13th inst., the average for the two weeks ending on that date being 14 per cent above the normal trend, it is shown in the weekly business summary of the Eberle & Riggleman Economic Service, just released.

Percentage gains and losses of check transactions in nine cities of the southwest area for the week ending the 5th inst., as against the corresponding week last year and the weekly average of 1924, follow: Los Angeles, plus 14, plus 41.2; Long Beach, minus 12.6, plus 2.6; Pasadena, plus 7.1, plus 38; Santa Barbara, minus 7.7, plus 19.8; Fresno, plus 7, plus 51.7; Bakersfield, plus 19.2, plus 42.6; San Bernardino, plus 2.8, plus 98.1; San Diego, minus 0.5, plus 40.1; and Phoenix, Ariz., plus 3.2, plus 39.8.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—The cotton market was strong and fairly active directly after the opening today when prices advanced 5 to 8 points for the active trading months over Saturday's closing. March sold at 13.34 cents; May, 13.64 cents; July, 13.83 cents, and October, 14.09 cents, thereby again equaling the high levels reached last Thursday and Saturday. As was the case then, too much long cotton came out in profit-taking movements by important local and southern trade interests for the market to absorb and carry the advance forward.

The early rise was attributed to Liverpool's strength, with the day's spot sales there going up to 15,000 bales and futures closing with a net decline of only 2 to 4 of their points on the day against the early maximum decline of 6 points that should have been about 3 on the average to have met our closing prices of Saturday.

After the end of the first hour, the market slumped 10 to 13 points, led by the near months from the high prices of the early trading from this profit-taking pressure and light amount of new outside buying. March reacted to 13.31 cents; May, 13.51 cents; July, 13.72 cents, and October, 13.93 cents, before enough new local bull support checked the setback.

Liverpool spots were off 5 points from Saturday's prices with middling quoted at 7.22d. Futures there closed dull after considerable activity in the early trading, in which more speculative trade buying by local and Manchester operators was offset by London liquidation and fresh hedge selling.

The weather in the South continued cold in all Atlantic States, with temperatures well below freezing over the Carolinas, Georgia, most of Alabama and the extreme northwestern part of Florida. It was 10 to 20 deg. above freezing in all other sections of the belt. These warmer conditions in the Central and Western States have developed over Sunday, with cloudy and unsettled weather, indicating another rainy period.

L. W. CRAIG ELECTED TO VACANT JOB

Succeeds W. D. Longyear on Board of Farm Credit Corporation

Succeeding W. D. Longyear, resigned, Leslie W. Craig, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, was elected yesterday a director of the Pacific National Agricultural Credit Corporation at a meeting held in San Francisco. Charles F. Stern, president of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, was re-elected to the board.

Organized for the purpose of supplying credit facilities to cattlemen and ranchers, following the passage of the Agricultural Credits Act of 1923, the corporation has been a considerable aid in solving the financial problems of the cattle industry in particular. Wide experience in making cattle loans in Texas and Illinois before coming to California was responsible for Mr. Craig's election to this important post.

At yesterday's meeting, T. H. Ramsey, cattleman and banker of Red Bluff, was re-elected president. Other officers are Harry M. Creech, vice-president and counsel, and Gerald D. Kennedy, secretary and cashier. Additional directors are I. W. Hellman, vice-president, Wells-Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company; W. E. Wilcox, vice-president, Anglo London Paris National Bank; Hubbard Russell, cattleman; Wayne Thornburg, State Senator, Phoenix, Ariz.; Charles F. Stern, and Leslie W. Craig.

Victor Talking Machine Stock Issue Announced

Public offering will be made tomorrow of $16,500,000 Victor Talking Machine Company 8 per cent cumulative prior preference stock by a nation-wide banking syndicate headed by Speyer & Co. and J. & W. Seligman & Co. The stock will be sold at 98½ a share, and the issue will be followed by the flotation of the company's $6 cumulative convertible preferred and no par value common stocks. The aggregate involved in the three pieces of financing will exceed $40,000,000.

The offering of the stock will mark the first step in the formal transfer of the world's largest phonograph company to the hands of the public. The company entered 1927, according to the bankers, with a production schedule for the first half year based on orders on hand that is one of the heaviest for any corresponding period in its history.

Associated with Speyer & Co. and J. & W. Seligman & Co. in the offering tomorrow will be Hallgarten & Co., Hayden, Stone & Co., Charles D. Barney & Co., Jackson & Curtis and Hemphill, Noyes & Co., together with more than 100 banking institutions and houses throughout the United States and Canada. Portions of the issue will be marketed simultaneously in England and on the continent through banking houses in London, Amsterdam and Switzerland.

LONDON, Jan. 17. (By Wireless) The market continued to show improvement today, especially in British funds, home rails and all industrials, the good feature being the further recovery in iron, steel and coal shares.

Hopes of a trade revival are definitely materializing so far as increased shipbuilding orders are concerned, and the fact that progress is slow is not a bad sign.

Meanwhile, however, the Communistic section is clearly preparing for further attacks.

The White Star offering of £2,560,000 preference shares was quickly oversubscribed. Japanese stocks were good, but Chinese obligations were still under the influence of political developments.

Money was easy throughout the day, but it is likely to become stiffer tomorrow on the ingathering of taxes. Some unsettlement was occasioned by the weakness in sterling, but this was not sufficient to remove expectations of a reduction in the bank rate on Thursday.

GAS AND ELECTRIC STOCKS APPROVED

Pacific Gas and Electric Company has been authorized by the Railroad Commission to issue and sell on or before December 31, 1927, at not less than 98 per cent of par value, $5,000,000 of first preferred stock, and to use the proceeds derived from the sale thereof to reimburse its treasury in part on account of capital expenditures of $6,631,162.88, and to refinance additions and betterments.

MOODY SCANS MARTS

Expert Takes Middle Course as to Movement of Prices

Moody's weekly review of financial conditions in its current issue says in part:

"We are getting what looks like a secondary wave of year-end investment buying. Although the public demand for bonds was pretty continuous and rather aggressive up to the middle of December, the last half of the month witnessed a slackening of demand. Since the turn of the year, however, bond prices have again been showing consistent strength.

"In the stock market conditions have been similar. It is pretty evident that technically the market is in no such unsound position as it was the middle of last February; for then the public had overbought heavily, whereas on the rise since last summer the experience of stock brokers has been that it was hard to get the public interested. It is much more difficult now to select any considerable list of patently overpriced industrial stocks.

"On the one hand, we see no reason for becoming intensely bearish right away; and, on the other, it still looks like good investing to realize on speculative and semispeculative issues whenever the general price level gets up around the recent record figures."

URGE BANK LOAN LIQUIDITY

Decline in Percentage Available for Rediscount at Federal Reserve, Held as Calling for Caution

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Not the least interesting of the propositions brought before the meeting of the State Bankers' Association held at the Hotel Commander in New York on Saturday, was that of Dr. Benjamin M. Anderson, Jr., economist of the Chase National Bank, to the effect that the proportion of national bank loans and investments available for rediscount at Federal reserve banks has been on the decline since 1923. For the country as a whole the percentage has dropped from 37.08 on June 30, 1923, to 30.98 on June 30, 1926.

In a general way the decline has been persistent since 1923 in the important centers, except for Boston, which shows a distinct improvement in this respect since 1925. Taking a view of the individual items in Dr. Anderson's study, it may be of interest to note that the drop in the ratio of national bank paper available for rediscount in New York has been from 38.62 per cent to 30.32 per cent, in Chicago from 40.5 per cent to 31.38 per cent, and for country banks in New York State from 31.59 per cent to 24.23 per cent in the period between the middle of 1923 and the middle of 1926.

The point most emphasized was that daily consideration must be given by the prudent banker not only to the soundness of his assets, but to their liquidity. The banker must be ever on the watch to make sure that he is able to meet all demands on short-notice calls for cash from his depositors, and at the same time allow for expansion in loans to meet the rightful needs of his borrowers, but should not make "too many slow loans, even though they are good loans."

The decline in percentage of loans and investments of national banks available for rediscount has not become alarming, of course, but it should impress bankers that more than usual care is wise in the selection of paper for their portfolios. As Dr. Anderson himself points out, the expansion in bank loans, discounts and investments in recent years "has gone preponderately into real-estate loans, investments in securities, stock and bond collateral loans, and finance paper representing installment buying. When a bank goes too far in those directions the ability of its Federal Reserve bank to help it is restricted and the Federal Reserve system may be unable to help it adequately in time of emergency."

Current Offerings In High Grade Utility Bonds

BLYTH, WITTER & CO., since its organization, has always been closely identified with public utility financing, and has consistently recommended the purchase of utility securities to its clients.

This policy, begun in the days before the general popularity of California utility bonds, has been, we believe, an important factor in the growth of this organization.

Among the current high-grade utility offerings in which BLYTH, WITTER & CO. has been a major participant are the following bonds of representative California and Middle Western public service corporations.

While the yield on these securities is low as compared with 1920, the return is still substantially higher than the average yield of high-grade bonds over the twenty years from 1897 to 1917.

We recommend these securities for your investment and shall be pleased to furnish detailed descriptive circulars on request.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (A)—Strength of United States government issues featured today's bond market, in which prices again reached the highest general level since 1913. Demand spread over a wide range, with high-yielding foreign and domestic securities attracting the major share of interest.

A new peak price was reached by the Treasury 4 1-4 notes, at 110.24. Fairly heavy buying also was seen in the Liberty group, particularly the second and fourth 4 1-4s.

Substantial gains were achieved by a long list of railway securities, led by Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati and St. Louis 4½s, with an advance of more than 2 points. Chicago and Alton 3½s, Chicago and Northwestern 4 3-4s and New York, New Haven and Hartford 6s recorded gains of more than a point each.

Heavy trading in Italian and Belgian issues marked the foreign list. Oriental Development 6s and Swiss 8s also were in demand, each advancing more than a point.

Public utilities were strong, while industrials lagged behind the general market. Gains were recorded, however, by Kinney Company 7½s, Dold Packing 6s, Cuban Cane Sugar 8s and American Telephone and Telegraph 4s.

A new issue of $30,000,000 first mortgage gold bonds, Series A, 5 per cent, due January 1, 1957, of the Indianapolis Power and Light Company (Indiana,) will be offered tomorrow by a syndicate headed by the Chase Securities Corporation. Priced at 98 and accrued interest to yield over 5.13 per cent, this first-mortgage issue constitutes the largest individual piece of public-utility financing thus far arranged in 1927.

An issue of $12,500,000 Southwestern Gas and Electric Company first mortgage gold bonds was reported sold in advance of formal offering.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. No expedite transactions, sales is omitted when same as high and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—Revival of activity and strength in the oil shares featured today's irregular curb market. Rumors that several powerful pools had been formed in various oil stocks, combined with expectations of unusually favorable 1926 earnings statements of most of the leading companies, stimulated bullish enthusiasm in those issues. Standard Oil of Indiana crossed 71 to the highest price in over a year, Vacuum was pushed up 2½ points to 100¼ and Honolulu Consolidated, Lone Star Gas and Wilcox moved up a point or so.

Western Maryland first preferred stock jumped 10 points to a record high at 117, in sympathy with the strength of the two issues of the road listed on the "big board." Rand Kardex advanced another point to 70, or double last year's low, and Union and United Tobacco rallied 2 points, presumably in reflection of the change in the Schulte Retail Stores dividend from a stock to a cash basis.

Motors were mixed. Auburn touching a new high at 80, while Stutz sagged a point to a new low at 15 5-8. Elsewhere, the heaviness of Celotex, General Baking pf A, Johns Manville (new,) Land Company of Florida, Libby Owens and Warner Brothers Pictures B contrasted with the strength of American Cigar, International Silver, Phillip Morris and United Biscuit B.

Public utilities were quiet, with price changes unimportant.

Bonds displayed a firm undertone, with substantial gains being recorded by Servel 6s, Stutz Motor 7¼s, Buenos Aires Province 6s and United States Western Germany 6½s, series A and C.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

STOCKS MOVE IRREGULARLY

WHEELING ACTIVE

Wheeling and Lake Erie issues were among the most active in the rail list, the common jumping over 5 points to 36 3-4 and the preferred 4 points to 61 5-8, the highest levels since they were listed on the Stock Exchange ten years ago. Lehigh Valley touched another record top at 122½, but lost all its gain, while the highest prices in years were registered by Western Maryland common and second preferred, Frisco common, Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific, Wabash A, Reading and Bangor & Aro stock.

Heaviness of United States Steel common, which lost nearly a point, was attributed to the termination of a pool in that issue. Baldwin Locomotive dropped from 180½ to 148, and then rallied feebly, and acute weakness also developed in American Snuff, Case Threshing, Dupont and G. R. Kinney, which lost 3 to 6 points.

Motors were liquidated rather freely because of the pessimistic talk in circulation regarding the year's sales. Pierce Arrow preferred broke 6 points to 85 and then rallied to 87; Hudson was hammered down 3 points to 49 and General Motors dropped 2 3-4 to 147 5-8. On the other hand, Timken Roller Bearing rallied over 4 points to 84 1-4 and then yielded a point on realizing. Electric Refrigeration sold at the lowest point in over a year, presumably in reflection of price cuts on new models.

MONEY UNDEMANDED

Time money and commercial paper were unchanged.

Commodity markets were slightly easier. Active wheat futures yielded a fraction of a cent a bushel in dull trading, despite the reported decrease in the visible supply, while cotton closed 2 to 5 points net lower. Raw sugar was unchanged, but coffee prices dropped 10 to 15 points.

Another jump of 20 points in Spanish pesetas, which were quoted around 16.30 cents, the highest price since last June, featured the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling and French francs held firm around $4.84 15-16 and 3.97½ cents, respectively.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The steer run most numerous in yesterday's fairly liberal run, the majority coming from Utah and Idaho sections, while Arizona and California supplied quite a few. Trading was not nearly active and prices on steers ruled steady to weak, while the stock prices were generally 15@25c lower. No strictly good steers were offered the bulk being medium and low good, northerns from 8.00@8.75, mostly 8.00@8.25, while several lots of common kinds turned from 6.00@7.50.

Half a load of 947-pound northern heifers topped at 7.50, while oth.r head sold higher. Several cars of good cows and heifers cashed from 7.00@7.25, three cars of heifers making the latter price. The big majority of the stock went over from 5.50@6.75, with several cars of common kinds down at 5.00. This price took in Arizonans, while the bulk turned from 5.50@6.40. Calvers lost 25@50c, the selling from 5.75@6.50, with low calvers around 5.00. About six loads of bulls were included in the run and an active trade cleaned them up readily at generally 25@25c lower prices, when compared with last week's high time. Load lots of bulls turned from 6.00@7.00, including some out of feed lots, while odd head of common and low medium kinds turned from 5.00@6.00. A car of 1177-pound stags sat of a California feed lot made 7.00.

CALVES—Demand continued rather narrow and the small supply met slow trade at generally 25c @50c lower prices for calves and about steady on the small supply of vealers. A few milk vealers sold up to 12.50, while choice calves in small lots sold from 10.50@11.50. The bulk of calves, 275 to 350-pound weights, turned from 9.00@10.00, while common kinds and heavies cashed from 6.50 @8.50.

HOGS—Mare hogs arrived thin were looked for and this trade was rather reluctant about taking them and just a few more than half had sold up to a late hour. Prices were uneven, mostly 50@75c lower than Friday. Yesterday's top was 13.00, paid for four loads of 165 to 185-pound weights, while the bulk of butchers averaging 165 to 210 pounds went over from 12.00@12.75, mostly 12.75, while a load of mixed offerings made 12.50. Packing sows turned mostly for 10.50, while a few weights butchers sold around 12.00.

Guesswork vs. Knowledge in Investing Money

SECURITY buying which is done on any basis other than a comprehensive knowledge of the whole subject of investments usually prevents the individual from obtaining the fullest return which his money could give him. He either becomes a money lender satisfied with less than he should have, or strays into the field of speculation and runs the risk of great loss.

Into this situation comes the trained, experienced, competent investment counsellor organization, ready to serve thousands of people at moderate fees and obtain for them the results which specialized ability always produces. To draw a parallel, an investment counselor is an individual who knows as much about the subject of securities as the good lawyer knows about law. The layman in investments gets proportionately little better results than he would obtain if he handled his own legal matters.

The Richard D. Wyckoff Analytical Staff incorporated is a large organization of statisticians and analysts personally trained by Richard D. Wyckoff, founder of the Magazine of Wall Street. It maintains offices in the principal cities and serves thousands of investors from coast to coast. It introduced moderate fees into the field of investment counsel thru the principal of serving a far greater number of people and thus distributing the cost of maintaining the service over a wider field. It is a service the average investor can afford to employ. The man or woman with $10,000 can use this service as well as those whose holdings run into much larger figures. May we tell you how it will fit your case? Call, telephone or write for information. Such inquiry does not obligate you in any way. Write your name and address in the margin and mail to us if you wish a free copy of booklet entitled "The Investor's Advisory Board."

WOOL MARKETS

BOSTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Demand for wool is only moderate, but domestic values remain fairly firm, because of a strong tone in foreign primary markets. Ohio Delaine, in particular, is being held very firmly, because of the recent advances in Australian fine wools. The advancing tendency on cross-breds in New Zealand and South America markets is also improving the position of domestic stock.

Wheat Futures Unchanged on Light Trading

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—The grain markets were extremely dull affairs, with wheat holding within a range of ¼@⅜c. The close was at the bottom, with prices unchanged to ⅛c lower, May being 1.39⅝@1.39¾, July 1.30⅜ and September 1.27⅛. Corn was firm and ⅛c higher, with May 61⅝@61¾, July 64⅞ and September 66⅛. Oats gained ⅛@¼c, with May 44⅜, July 47⅝@47¾ and September 40⅝. Rye lost ⅛c, with May 1.01⅛ and July 96⅝@96¾.

There was little in the general run of news to cause any enthusiastic buying or selling. Around 1.40 for May, wheat commission houses and brels were on the selling side, with supporting orders in evidence around 1.39⅝. Strength in corn had some effect. Outside trade was distinctly limited and the market was easily influenced.

Foreign demand for cash wheat was absent and for the first time in several weeks the seaboard failed to report any business. Liverpool, however, was ½@¾d higher and Buenos Aires up ¼c, with February 1.94⅛ and March 1.93. Argentina was reported as having offered 63½-pound wheat for last-half February shipment at equal to 1.43½@1.46, c.i.f. the United Kingdom, compared with No. 2 hard f.o.b. the gulf at 1.44.

A decrease of 1,567,000 bushels in the domestic visible supply was without effect on the wheat market. Total stocks are 58,384,000 bushels, against 49,184,000 bushels last year. Shipping on ocean passage increased 3,449,000 bushels, while world's shipments of 17,025,000 bushels were in excess of expectations. Spot wheat here was ½c lower on red winter and unchanged on hard.

Local operators and houses with eastern connections were on the buying side of corn and found offerings rather light, and an advance was easily attained, selling against offers and profit-taking through commission houses were factors in checking the bulge. Weather conditions over the belt were unfavorable for the movement, and country offerings to arrive light. Mixe eastern points reported a good demand for each grain, but this was not reflected in larger sales here. Visible supply increased 962,000 bushels for the week and total is 37,845,000 bushels, against 23,790,000 bushels last year. Oats held within a range of ⅛@¼c, with the market influenced largely by the action of corn.

There was no pressure of consequence on rye, and with a good class of buying, the market developed independent strength, although closing fractionally lower in sympathy with the late declines in wheat. No export demand of consequence was reported at the seaboard.

A stronger tone developed in the provision trade, especially in meats, which were offered sparingly and met a good demand. Short ribs were up 25c.

Lard was taken on the soft spots and closed 5@7½c higher. January lard/hog.

California Petroleum common led the advance on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday and moved up 5-8 of a point on a light turnover to a new high on the movement at 33, where it closed. Anticipation of favorable earnings for 1926 and new merger rumors are held responsible for the rise.

Richfield moved into new high ground, adding 3-8 of a point to 26 1-4 with a large number of shares crossing the board. Julian Petroleum preferred was in demand at 14 1-4, a firm figure, and Julian common held at 5 1-8.

Bancitaly Corporation was irregular at from 94 to 94 1-4, opening and closing at the low on a fair volume. Bancitaly rights were off a cent to 51, then closed firm at 52. First National sold at 470. Buying Active in Electrical Trade in West Electrical buying on the Pacific Coast has started the new year with renewed activity in railroad purchases and one good order by a California power company for a 16,000-horsepower water wheel and generator, reports Electrical World, New York.

Active business is reported by manufacturers throughout the country. Orders for hydroelectric equipment and synchronous condensers placed in the South amounted to more than $1,250,000. Contracts were also let for more than $1,500,000 worth of paper and lead-insulated cable by a utility company in the Middle West. In New England buying continues steady. Motor sales dropped, but compare favorably with those of the previous week and electric welding equipment is active. Substation apparatus is active in the New York district and a number of inquiries are in the hands of manufacturers. General-purpose motors are finding a good market and the demand for control apparatus is improving. In the Southeast a large central-station order was placed and activity of textile mills is pronounced. The volume of sales continues steady in the St. Louis district.

Drake Retires as Investment House Captain

Resignation of Daniel K. Drake as president of Drake, Riley & Thomas and his election as chairman of the board of directors were announced yesterday following the reorganization meeting of the directorate. James Sheldon Riley, vice-president, was elected president to succeed Mr. Drake.

Mr. Drake has served as head of the Los Angeles investment house for the past twelve years and has been identified with the bond business for approximately thirty years. He has long been recognized as a bond expert. For several years, with headquarters in Chicago, he was western manager of Harvey Fisk & Sons, one of the leading bond houses of the country twenty years ago.

Mr. Drake's retirement from the presidency of the company at this time is occasioned by his desire to be relieved from some of the more active responsibilities due to his physical condition.

Other officers of the company were re-elected as follows: William H. Thomas and Benjamin A. Walter, vice-presidents; J. D. Flora, secretary and treasurer, and C. A. Charles, assistant secretary.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Buying of both alloy and soft steel bars by automotive parts makers is quieting in the Chicago district. The revival of activities in the automobile industry, however, continues behind expectations for this time of year. Both steel products as sheets, strip steel, hoops and bands and cold finished bars are in better demand than a month ago, although still disappointing. Automobile producers are issuing good inquiries for machinery and machine tools. The pig iron market remains quiet in the nonferrous markets.

INCOME TAX LAW CLARIFIED

This is the second article of a series explaining the Federal income tax law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (Exclusive) Persons whose net income for 1926 was derived chiefly from salaries or wages and was not in excess of $5000 should make their income-tax returns on Form 1040-A.

Persons whose net income was derived from a profession or business, including farming, or from the sale of property or rent, though the amount was less than $5000, are required to use the larger form, 1040. The use of Form 1040 is required, also, in cases where the net income was in excess of $5000, regardless of whether from salary, business, profession or other taxable sources.

Copies of the forms are sent to taxpayers by collectors of internal revenue. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file a return and pay the tax on time—on or before March 15, 1927—if the return is filed on a calendar year basis. Forms may be obtained at offices of collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors, and will be forwarded on request.

The return must be sworn to before a notary or other person authorized to administer an oath. No charge is made for this service at the offices of collectors and deputy collectors.

Opportunity Created by Traffic Congestion

PEERLESS CAB COMPANY

EVERY LARGE CITY has its traffic problems. The congestion of traffic in downtown Los Angeles grows at an amazing rate. Authorities predict twice as many automobiles in Los Angeles during the next five years. This means that you will not drive your automobile in the congested districts. In New York, and other large cities, the taxi cab has supplanted the privately owned automobile in the busy sections. The taxi cab is the new, modern vehicle of transportation. The taxi-cab business is growing by leaps and bounds. In no other city is there such an opportunity for large permanent profits in the taxi-cab business. Shrewd, successful, well-known men of Los Angeles, realizing this situation and determining to profit thereby, have recently organized the Peerless Cab Company and we have the pleasure of offering to our clients and the public an opportunity to share with the organizers in this enterprise on a most favorable basis.

Read carefully the letter below from W. M. Humphreys, President, summarizing the business:

Los Angeles, Calif., January 12th, 1927.

R. P. Boyer & Company,
Fiscal Agents, Peerless Cab Company,
1200 Lane Mortgage Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

The Peerless Cab Company is a Delaware Corporation with its California Office in Los Angeles. The capital stock of $1,000,000 is divided into 40,000 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $25 each, and 40,000 shares of common stock, without par value. The preferred shares are 8%, cumulative, preferred as to assets to par and accrued dividends in case of any liquidation or dissolution, and are redeemable on any dividend paying date, after three years from date of incorporation, at 105% of the par value hereof.

PURPOSE OF ORGANIZATION

This corporation was organized for the principal purpose of establishing and operating a general taxi cab transportation business in all of its branches. The cab business, since the introduction in 1914 of the low rate cab, has become one of the best patronized businesses in the United States. New types of equipment, superior methods of operation and increasing popularity as the means of transportation, permit economies to be effected which assure financial success and stability. This is borne out by the fact that the total mileage covered by present operating companies throughout the United States has shown a tremendous increase with each succeeding year.

EQUIPMENT

The equipment of the Peerless Cab Company is the standard six cylinder car manufactured by the Peerless Motor Car Company of Cleveland, Ohio, and is a larger, roomier and more beautifully appointed cab than any in operation on the Pacific Coast. Each cab is equipped with four wheel brakes and other safety devices. By actual comparison, the Peerless Cab is the most economical of all cabs to operate and has met with wonderful success in eastern cities, where it is now being operated on a large scale. The company has three cabs now in operation in Los Angeles for the purpose of protecting the franchise and color scheme, and they have met with an unusual reception from the public. One hundred additional cabs are to be put in operation as quickly as possible.

PROPERTY

The company has acquired a ten-year lease on the southeast corner of Fourth and Boyleston Streets, where a most modern operating plant, covering over sixteen thousand square feet has been erected, together with complete garage equipment for operators and cabs. Advantageous contracts have been secured with the Goodyear Tire Company, Ohmer Fare Register Company and the California Petroleum Corporation. The company has also secured a large number of the most advantageous stands and locations in the downtown and suburban sections of the city. Permit has been granted by the Board of Public Utilities of Los Angeles for color scheme and right to operate in and about the city of Los Angeles.

MANAGEMENT

The management will be in the hands of the following officers and directors:

W. M. HUMPHREYS.....President
Former member of L. A. Board of Public Works, former member of L. A. Aqueduct Advisory Board and former member of L. A. Harbor Advisory Board, formerly L. A. Park Commissioner and L. A. City Planning and Civil Service Commissioner. Mr. Humphreys has resided in L. A. for 43 years and has been active in many business enterprises.

JAY TURNER.....Vice-President and General Manager
14 years General Superintendent of Owen Bros. & Wells and Black & White Cab Company of Los Angeles, Calif.

E. S. ELLIS.....Secretary and Treasurer
Special representative for the Santa Fe Railroad Company. Formerly in Finance and Development. Mr. Ellis has resided in L. A. for over 30 years.

ELTINGE T. BROWN.....Director
President of Eltinge T. Brown Construction Company.

JAMES E. KELBY.....Director
Attorney at law. Formerly General Solicitor of Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company. Lines west of Missouri River, headquarters at Omaha, Nebraska. Later General Attorney for California of Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad Company, now the Union Pacific.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS

The Peerless Cab Company, moderately capitalized and efficiently managed, is a going concern and because of its franchises, exceptional locations as to location, completeness and rent, advantageous contracts for oil, tires, gasoline, etc., and operating the most modern, luxurious, roomy, easy-riding, economically operated cab, should show a net return of not less than 25% on both common and preferred stock.

SALE OF STOCK

Permission has been granted by the Corporation Commissioner to sell 30,000 shares of the preferred stock and 10,000 shares of the no par value common capital stock, in units of two shares of preferred and one share of no par value common at $50 per unit. The money derived from the sale of this stock is to be used for the purchase of additional cabs, to provide operating expenses and cover actual obligations already incurred.

Yours very truly,
PEERLESS CAB COMPANY,
(Signed) By W. M. Humphreys, President

Herein is offered you a sound, sane security—one that promises large returns on the capital invested. We anticipate a quick over-subscription of the entire issue and because of the decided advantage of having the stock of the Peerless Cab Company in the hands of many shareholders, preference will be given to the buyer of a small block of stock. Public ownership of Peerless Cab Company shares means public support and additional business, therefore it has been deemed advisable to offer this stock to the public, and the buyer of one unit, costing only $50, will receive the same pro rata of returns as the larger investor.

WHAT YOUR MONEY WILL BUY

$50 cash, or $20 cash and $5 per month for six months, buys one unit, consisting of two shares of 8% and one share of common stock.

$100 cash, or $40 cash and $10 per month for six months, buys two units consisting of four shares of 8% and two shares of common stock.

$250 cash, or $100 cash and $25 per month for six months, buys five units, consisting of ten shares of 8% and five shares of common stock.

$500 cash, or $200 cash and $50 per month for six months, buys ten units, consisting of twenty shares of 8% and ten shares of common stock.

$1000 cash, or $400 cash and $100 per month for six months, buys twenty units, consisting of forty shares of 8% and twenty shares of common stock.

$5000 cash, or $2000 cash and $500 per month for six months, buys one hundred units, consisting of two hundred shares of 8% and one hundred shares of common stock.

Simply mail your check to this office for the number of units wanted and proper subscription blanks, certificate of stock, etc., will be sent duly to you.

If there is any further information that you want, you are cordially invited to visit this office and talk with Mr. Boyer personally. This office remains open until 9 P. M. Wednesday and Saturday evenings for the convenience of our clients. Out-of-town readers desiring additional information, before purchasing, should fill out the coupon in the corner of this advertisement, and complete details will be mailed. The profit possibilities are so great and the limited amount of stock to be sold so small that it seems unnecessary for us to suggest that you act promptly if you would avail yourself of this real automotive opportunity.

OIL NEWS

BY ROBERT J. PRITCHARD

With two new wells rigging up to the first and second zones respectively on the Miley Petroleum Exploration Company's Goleta No. 1 well on Santa Barbara, is drilling ahead at 4000 feet in search of new zones, according to official reports. Apparently the Miley Petroleum Exploration Company plans to keep its No. 1 well in operation for a test, leaving production of the upper showings at Goleta. Both new wells to be drilled for particular purposes, rotary crews are rigging up Goleta No. 1 to test the shallow sand which caused it to be completed as a producer in its extreme shallowness, this well is to be tested by a portable rig and probably drilling will be started within a few days. Goleta No. 1, however, is to be drilled with a standard-steel rotary outfit, and a derrick is already completed, and machinery and drilling equipment is arriving. This well will go down to zones which the discovery well encountered at about 1425 feet, and will carry out its productive possibilities. The 1000-1500 zone, as explored by Goleta No. 1 well, is said to have shown signs of considerably over 100 barrels of which fifty or sixty feet is reported to be well-saturated oil sand, with promise of prolific production. The shallower zone at 600 feet is not as thick but carries a higher gravity oil, tests of the oil bailed from No. 1 at that depth showing 36 gravity and about 60 per cent

Drilling Reported

The Circle Oil and Gas Company is reported to be drilling ahead at 3050 feet in its wild-cat well on Western avenue, two miles west and one mile south of the Rosecrans field, according to reports which could not definitely be confirmed yesterday, but picked up favorable showings. At 3000 feet the well is said to have encountered about five feet of tar sand, and below that point indications continued to be favorable, it is said.

The Circle Oil and Gas Company is reported financed by Long Beach interests who took over the project which has been inactive for about two years after a month or six weeks ago, when the first hole was made.

Goleta Small Well

The Standard Oil Company has brought on production another small well in the towlot section of West Huntington Beach, according to official reports. The well is the K. No. 10, which went on production at 1000 feet, making about 328 barrels per day of oil testing 21.3 deg. gravity.

100 Barrels

The Maryland Oil Company's Bixby No. 6 well in the Seal Beach district is producing at the rate of 100 barrels a day, clean oil, according to field reports. The well was completed, and came in last Friday, but took several days to clear sufficiently to get an accurate estimate of production.

The Bixby No. 6 is the smallest well yet brought in at Seal Beach, and is the first well to be completed by the Maryland Oil Company. With the exception of the Standard Oil Company's San Gabriel No. 2, which came in about 1500 barrels, and dropped back to about 900 barrels, practically all the wells preceding Bixby No. 6 are making around 2000 barrels a day.

Gabriel No. 4 Wet

The Standard Oil Company yesterday completed a water shut-off test in the San Gabriel No. 3 well in the Seal Beach field, and found that it will be necessary to cement the water-string again before the well can be placed on production, according to official reports. San Gabriel No. 3 has been drilled to 4481 feet. The first cement job was pumped about ten days before it reached that depth, and it probably will be necessary another ten days before another shut-off of the well is made.

Signal Hill New Field

The Superior Oil Company is entering the new field at Yorba Linda, which has been the scene of considerable activity in recent weeks, several small wells having been completed around Yorba Linda Lake. Another of the other properties acquired by the Superior is a block of five lots, leased by J. H. Reyes and Frank Reyes.

Heavy Mud Cost High

The cost of rotary mud to drill the oil well in Huntington Beach townsite, is approximately $5000 more than under ordinary conditions, according to reports. Cramped conditions in the townlot section are responsible for the high cost of the mud required. The wells are not afforded enough room to have a large mud hole so mud must be used and trucked away, and new mud brought to the well.

James Dehn, who is drilling a well on Seventeenth street between Grand and Olive avenues, asserts that the cost of rotary mud for his well was $5000 greater than under ordinary circumstances. The great amount of hauling made necessary by the quarters was held responsible for the extra expense by Behr. The well is down about 4000 feet and it is expected is will be brought in next week.

AMERADA EARNINGS AT NEW HIGH MARK

$8.51 OF $A51 REPORTED ON EACH OUTSTANDING SHARE OF STOCK

H. DeGolyer, president, announces that the Amerada Corporation has completed the most successful year in its history. Preliminary estimates show total net profit of $4,915,000 after all expenses, including depletion, depreciation and Federal taxes, equal to $8.51 per share on $14,600 shares outstanding as at December 31, or $8.51 per share on the average number of shares outstanding during 1926. This compares with net profits of $3,498,000 or $6.51 per share, on 538,300 shares outstanding at the end of 1925. The outlook for the year 1927 is good, Mr. DeGolyer said. The corporation's net production at the present time is approximately 36,000 barrels daily, or more than three times its production a year ago. The corporation is in a strong financial position with cash of approximately $3,000,000 and no bank loans or

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Buoyancy in the railroad list generally, stimulated by the remarkable demand for prospective merger stocks, acted as a healthy offset to selling pressure against the speculative industrial leaders. Buying of the carriers as a group was attributed in no small measure to the hope that the Supreme Court decision in the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company's suit against the Interstate Commerce Commission would be handed down. In a large way the matter of rail valuations for rate fixing purposes depends on the outcome of this action. Lehigh Valley, Reading, Pere Marquette and other coalers featured trading, but it was their merger possibilities more than their respective earnings which stimulated them.

Motors Heavily Sold

Large scale selling of the automobile shares did more than anything else to unsettle the industrials. Offerings were unusually liberal and General Motors, which seemed to be the special target of the professional bear crowd, was forced back sharply to new low levels for the movement. Hudson, Chrysler, Nash, Mack Trucks, Yellow Cab, Overland and others were also under constant pressure. Close observers professed to see considerable real liquidation in that quarter of the list.

Oils in Demand

With the exception of the rails, the oils probably gave the best account of themselves as further buying of persistent character asserted itself. But as offerings were fairly liberal at times, the petroleum shares as a group did not make any especially noteworthy forward strides. Gossip still veered around to their strong position, good earnings and distinctly satisfactory prospects, and attention was called especially to the strong situation of the Texas Company, which it is expected, will show a profit and loss surplus of approximately $153,000,000 when its report is available. Phillips Petroleum, Maryland, Pure Oil and other well-regarded issues were heavily traded in around recent high levels.

Specialties Highly Mixed

Specialties, which have been much in favor for months past, moved in highly irregular fashion. Pronounced activity in Industrial Alcohol which had a spirited rise, was accompanied by predictions that the annual report would show some $10 a share earned for the stock. The point was made in one quarter, however, that only about $8 of the total came from operations, the balance representing profit from the sale of certain of its security holdings. Timken Roller Bearing pushed ahead smartly, but Radio was acutely weak despite recent reassuring talk on earnings, yielding to new low levels for the current reaction.

Tanker Repair Bids Up Today

Eagle Oil Contract Sought by Many Yards

Cost of Job on San Ubaldo Near $200,000

Time for Completion May Run to Sixty Days

Shipyard representatives from as far as Vancouver, B. C., are at Los Angeles to bid on the repairs to the Eagle Oil Company tanker San Ubaldo, which went ashore near Newport Beach in a fog two weeks ago.

The job is regarded as one of the biggest repair jobs in years, excepting that of the Solana, now in the dry dock of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation. Seventy-three plates under the bow, which struck the shore, will have to be treated, and miscellaneous engine work done, expected to total $150,000 to $200,000. Two months are believed necessary to complete the job.

The bids will be opened at noon today aboard the ship by Capt. A. C. Williams of New Orleans, representing the owning company, and Capt. William Logan of Vancouver, representing London Salvage in the survey.

Among the outside shipyard representatives here to bid for the work are T. S. Starrett, assistant sales manager for the Moore Dry Dock Company of Oakland; Charles Wallace of the Wallace Shipyards of Vancouver; Oliver Jackson of the Hanlon Dry Dock Company, John T. Conroy, sales manager for Bethlehem at San Francisco and A. Hunt of the Todd Shipbuilding Corporation of Seattle.

Ed W. Hannay, head of Bethlehem's local plant, refrained from bidding, as the job would have tied his dry dock up a long time. He admitted it was tempting, but with the Los Angeles dry dock in use on the Solana, he disliked to undertake any contract requiring for the only available dry dock for a protracted period.

However, his yard continues busy, having just completed an extensive job on the Brookdale, while the Yale went on for overhaul yesterday, to be followed by the Harvard, and the San Pedro and the C. D. Johnson III await cleaning and repairs.

STORY OF HUNT FOR MISSING TANKER TOLD

The story of the efforts made to find some trace of the British steamer Toro, missing since she sailed from Los Angeles Harbor for Tsurumi, Japan, on November 24, last, were told in letters received yesterday from John McKinlay, manager of the Chile Steamship Company, operator of the Toro. Mr. McKinlay said that virtually all hope of solving the disappearance of the Toro has been abandoned.

Ships of the Japanese naval transport fleet to see from Tsurumi and combed the area 1500 miles to the eastward, while a search by seven steamers, chartered by the Toro's operators, is still searching the North Pacific after sixteen days of fruitless quest, Mr. McKinlay wrote. The letter is to W. H. Winkerhaus, port customs broker.

"We have all been very much upset about this," said Mr. McKinlay. "The boat is replaceable, but the loss of her crew has given us the greatest concern."

The Toro was in command of Capt. George Walker and sailed from the master's home also carried a crew of thirty-five officers and men. She carried at the time of her departure 64,000 barrels of fuel oil for the engines of the imperial Japanese navy, she was insured on the London market for $1,750,000.

Last word of the Toro was received on December 17 when 1100 miles off the Japan coast she reported that a moderate gale was raging. A radio to Tsurumi a radio advising that she would reach that port on December 20. Nothing southeast of Tsurumi was then reporting that ever, according to Capt. Richmond of the Cabo Arrow.

Headquarters of the marine department of General Petroleum Corporation will be moved from the Hollywood Athletic Club to the new company's loading station on Terminal Island early in February, it was announced yesterday. All departments will bring a dozen employees from his uptown offices. Under the new arrangement Capt. C. R. Bennett, now in charge, will be assigned as port captains, and L. R. George, Robert Fisher and C. C. Jones as port engineers. Headquarters of the department will also operations out of this office, as both is and the General Petroleum Corporation is now owned by Standard Oil of New York. The sales and manufacturing department continues separate, and in charge of Fred R. Hanser as manager.

A lobster feed will be given by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, Harbor, Council and the Playground, Park and Harbor Commission and other city officials at the Municipal Pier on Wednesday night, the beginning of work on Cabrillo Beach, which started early this week. Alphonse Bonzo, chef, and his staff will be in charge of the Women's Club, after which all will go to the site of the playground and dedicate the beach. Cabrillo Beach is to be a marine playground with a big swimming pool and other amusements on the land end of the Cabrillo Beach. The city voted $250,000 on bonds for the project four years ago, but legal entanglements delayed work until now.

A photostatic copy of Mark Twain's license as a pilot on the Mississippi, granted by the United States Government, was shown to a group of officials yesterday by T. H. Patrick, the wrecked Westerly's master. It came from D. C. Hoover, inspector general of steamboats, recently visited here from Washington. The copy will go to the Mark Twain Museum, Patrick said. Twain was piloting Gen. Grant down the river in the Civil War when Confederates fired on the boat. Grant escaped the ball under the wheelhouse till the excitement was over, Patrick declared.

The new Norwegian motorship Knute Nelson put in from Norway yesterday with 11 passengers and freight, only twenty-five days from Seattle, including stops, slipping off fifteen knots an hour on her journey. It is her first visit since her commissioning, on what will be her regular run for the Norway-Pacific line, now constantly solicitous for the welfare of its fleet in these waters. The vessel is discharging several thousand bundles of Central European basket willow, 1500 tons nitrate, 1200 tons of newsprint and 200 tons of general merchandise from Scandinavia. On her return south she will pick up perishable fruit to be carried to Europe in her refrigeration space, according to G. Martin Rivertsen, local agent.

Location of the county outfall sewer off the breakwater, now nearly half completed, which has the power to refuse a right of way through Los Angeles city streets, it was indicated yesterday at a meeting of directors of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce. Permit to County Sanitation Engineer Warren for such a location was granted by the State Board of Health two days ago, after denying Warren a permit for the outfall at White Point. San Pedro chamber officials assert they see in connecting San Pedro and Wilmington sewers to the breakwater line will cost the city of Los Angeles $250,000 more than a connection with the proposed Badger-avenue site, which was favored by San Pedro, however, it will add $2,000,000 to the cost of connecting Long Beach's sewer.

Roy M. Benton, secretary of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, returned from San Jose yesterday, where he attended first vice-president of the California Association of Commercial Secretaries. He succeeds to the chair as president of the Southern California association.

Nine thousand tons of Pacific Coast cargo will go out on the United American Line's steamer Montpelier, Capt. Olsen, for Hamburg, Rotterdam, Antwerp and Hamburg today. The vessel is taking 1600 tons from this port, including 1200 tons of cotton. The rest is chiefly from Vancouver.

A lobster feed will be given by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, Harbor, Council and the Playground, Park and Harbor Commission and other city officials at the Municipal Pier on Wednesday night, the beginning of work on Cabrillo Beach, which started early this week. Alphonse Bonzo, chef, and his staff will be in charge of the Women's Club, after which all will go to the site of the playground and dedicate the beach. Cabrillo Beach is to be a marine playground with a big swimming pool and other amusements on the land end of the Cabrillo Beach. The city voted $250,000 on bonds for the project four years ago, but legal entanglements delayed work until now.

A photostatic copy of Mark Twain's license as a pilot on the Mississippi, granted by the United States Government, was shown to a group of officials yesterday by T. H. Patrick, the wrecked Westerly's master. It came from D. C. Hoover, inspector general of steamboats, recently visited here from Washington. The copy will go to the Mark Twain Museum, Patrick said. Twain was piloting Gen. Grant down the river in the Civil War when Confederates fired on the boat. Grant escaped the ball under the wheelhouse till the excitement was over, Patrick declared.

The new Norwegian motorship Knute Nelson put in from Norway yesterday with 11 passengers and freight, only twenty-five days from Seattle, including stops, slipping off fifteen knots an hour on her journey. It is her first visit since her commissioning, on what will be her regular run for the Norway-Pacific line, now constantly solicitous for the welfare of its fleet in these waters. The vessel is discharging several thousand bundles of Central European basket willow, 1500 tons nitrate, 1200 tons of newsprint and 200 tons of general merchandise from Scandinavia. On her return south she will pick up perishable fruit to be carried to Europe in her refrigeration space, according to G. Martin Rivertsen, local agent.

Location of the county outfall sewer off the breakwater, now nearly half completed, which has the power to refuse a right of way through Los Angeles city streets, it was indicated yesterday at a meeting of directors of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce. Permit to County Sanitation Engineer Warren for such a location was granted by the State Board of Health two days ago, after denying Warren a permit for the outfall at White Point. San Pedro chamber officials assert they see in connecting San Pedro and Wilmington sewers to the breakwater line will cost the city of Los Angeles $250,000 more than a connection with the proposed Badger-avenue site, which was favored by San Pedro, however, it will add $2,000,000 to the cost of connecting Long Beach's sewer.

Roy M. Benton, secretary of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, returned from San Jose yesterday, where he attended first vice-president of the California Association of Commercial Secretaries. He succeeds to the chair as president of the Southern California association.

Nine thousand tons of Pacific Coast cargo will go out on the United American Line's steamer Montpelier, Capt. Olsen, for Hamburg, Rotterdam, Antwerp and Hamburg today. The vessel is taking 1600 tons from this port, including 1200 tons of cotton. The rest is chiefly from Vancouver.

Arbitration of Disputes With Mexico Urged

Seeking to restrain ill feelings between this country and Mexico, the Pan-Pacific Association for Mutual Understanding at its monthly dinner meeting last night at 527 West Seventh street adopted a resolution urging governmental leaders to exhaust all means to bring about a settlement of conditions through the voluntary arbitration.

The resolution, introduced by Garner Curran, reads in part as follows: "Resolved, that we express our deep appreciation of the patience exercised by President Coolidge in handling all our foreign policies, and merely as an expression of our desire to stop any propaganda or agitation that promotes ill-will and hatred, we urge our government to exhaust every means to settle our dispute by arbitration, especially with all Latin-American countries, before we resort to the use of force or permit the export of arms."

A Moresby White, former English barrister, and now a local attorney, spoke on the subject, "British Interests in the Pacific."

SUIT DIGS INTO CHAPLIN'S GOLD

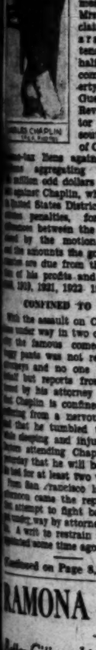
Wife Gets $4000 a Month as Temporary Alimony

Income Tax Liens Filed for $1,973,721 Total

Supreme Bench Denies Writ Against Receivers

Charles Chaplin's fortune, estimated at anything from $10,000,000 to $16,000,000, was delved around yesterday in Judge Walter Guerin's court by four attorneys representing Lita Grey Chaplin, the comedian's estranged wife, and dished up somewhat battered and dented.

Mr. Chaplin drew court orders for $400 a month maintenance for his wife and two small sons, $6000 alimony due at once for the past two months, $4000 as a part fee for her battery of attorneys, $2150 to pay for bonds under which receivers have taken over the Chaplin property, and $250 for attorney's expenses. A claim of $600 with which to pay private detectives employed by Mrs. Chaplin before she filed her divorce action was not allowed. Judge Guerin also signed an order for publication of summons.



And in the meantime while Mrs. Chaplin was claiming separate maintenance and half of the community property before Judge Guerin, Internal Revenue Collector Welch of the southern district of California filed income tax liens against the same aggregating $1,973,721.47. Seven million odd dollars asked in the suit against Chaplin, which was filed in the United States District Court, contains penalties, forfeitures and interest between the amounts declared by the motion-picture star and the amounts the government estimates are due from their examination of his profits and earnings for the years 1920, 1921, 1922 1923 and 1924.

CONFINED TO BED

With the assault on Chaplin's millions under way in two courts in this city the famous comedian of the many pasts was not represented by lawyers and no one spoke in his behalf but reports from New York stated that his attorney there stated that Chaplin is confined to his bed with a nervous breakdown and that he tumbled to the floor while shaving and injured his nose. Others attending Chaplin declared yesterday that he will be confined to his bed for at least two weeks.

In San Francisco late yesterday afternoon came the report that the latest attempt to fight back has been made by attorneys for Chaplin. A writ to restrain the receivers named some time ago to take over

The Los Angeles District Eisteddfod will hold a dinner meeting next Monday at the Figueroa Hotel, Tenth and Figueroa streets, to form committees and make plans for the 1927 Eisteddfod. The Eisteddfod movement is said to be growing, with ten districts conducting contests in art, dance, drama and music this year.

The other directors chosen, all of whom were re-elected, are Godfrey Edwards, Benjamin Harwood, N. W. Kellaway, Harry W. Lawson, Harry A. Lord and Hugh F. Stewart. The election was conducted yesterday.

The men named will serve with F. W. Black, John E. Coffin, Archibald Douglass, H. M. Eichelberger, Louis Isaacs and P. J. McDonald, whose terms do not expire until next year.

The new directorate will meet for its organization meeting the 27th inst. at the Van Nuys Building, it was said by C. A. Fultz, general manager of the association. It will elect officers for 1927 at this meeting.

The nominating committee which selected the names for the balloting was composed of F. W. Black, chairman; E. A. Geissler, R. W. Pridham, E. C. Wilson and James Woods.

INJUNCTION STOPS NEW CITY PLANT

Restraining Order Issued Against Construction of Steam Power Unit

Construction of the city's new steam power plant at the harbor has been held up by a restraining order issued by Presiding Judge Wood on the application of the Southern California Edison Company. Following the signing of the order, the Bureau of Power and Light also went before Judge Wood yesterday and obtained his signature to a document directing the Edison company to appear before Judge Shaw this morning and show cause why the restraining order should not be set aside.

The proceedings are incidental to the suit filed several months ago by the Edison company asking that the construction of the steam power plant for generating electricity be permanently enjoined. The suit is the outcome of a difference of opinion between the company and the city as to the interpretation of a contract whereby the city purchased power transmission lines and distribution equipment from the company.

The Edison company filed the action as a taxpayer "to prevent the waste of public funds" in the construction of the new harbor plant.

C. L. Whitehill Secretary for Gas Companies

Following upon the retirement of I. M. Farnham, vice-president, secretary, and a member of the boards of directors of the Southern California and Midway Gas Companies, C. L. Whitehill, formerly assistant secretary, has been named secretary for the two companies. Mr. Whitehill has been associated with the Southern and Midway for the past six years, and has had experience with other utility corporations.

Mr. Farnham's place on the board of directors of the Southern California Gas Company has been taken by T. J. Reynolds, legal counsel for the two companies, and the vacancy on the Midway's Board has been filled by Gerald C. Young.

YOUNG RIDING TIDE OF FAME

Becomes Center of Hub-bub in Popularity

Flood of Offers Received by Channel Conqueror

Plans to Bring Mother Here and Build Home

George Young, youthful conqueror of Catalina Channel, was being swept along on a gigantic tide of popularity yesterday, the ultimate destination apparently being some sort of a gilded swivel chair or chaise longue on the top of the world.

For the present, however, the ruddy-cheeked, husky lad, though smiling and trying to accommodate everybody at one and the same time, appeared to be bewildered, as he was tossed and buffeted about, pulled this way and hauled that by this suggestion and that offer, from promoters, theatrical people, motion-picture producers, lecture platform managers and others.

WILL LOOK FIELD OVER

At the end of his first hectic day as an idol of world-wide popularity, all George knew was that he had collected the $25,000 from William Wrigley, Jr.; also that he had received a couple of barrelsful of offers of all kinds, from all over the world, and, finally, that he was going to look the whole field over before he put his signature to anything resembling a contract to perform anything anywhere.

As the currents and cross-currents of competitive bidding and offers swished and swirled about him, the young and inexperienced Canadian found himself alongside of a pair of handy life preservers in the persons of Mr. Wrigley and his attorney, James A. Gibson. The gum king has taken a great liking to the lad, and although not wanting to intrude on his affairs, has let him know that any time he wants some advice the latch string to Mr. Wrigley's house is hanging out.

SEIZED BY CAMERAMEN

The terrific hubbub and turmoil that centered about the young hero yesterday was nowhere more apparent than at the Biltmore, where he had lunch with Mr. Wrigley and others. A group of cameramen had just finished taking a number of "shots" of Young on the roof of the Biltmore. Barely had the party seated themselves to luncheon in a private room when another group—this time of newspaper reporters and photographers, wanted interviews and pictures.

A self-appointed nabob at the door announced that Mr. Young could see no one now but would meet the newspaper men at 3:30 o'clock. But when the reporters returned at the appointed hour they arrived in time to see the bewildered youngster borne down the corridor on the crest of a wave of motion-picture cameramen and the news reel boys.

POSES WITH WRIGLEY

In the desire of a representative of a Hollywood motion-picture producer to rush Young out to Hollywood and into a contract, the agreement with the press representatives was forgotten, not by the boy, but for him. As the cameramen and the party moved through the Biltmore a great train of people followed.

On the roof he was put through his paces, Mr. Wrigley good-naturedly posing with Young. They smiled, they shook hands, the boy looked at the check, he smiled again, he looked at the camera, he looked away from the camera.

Big, bashful and rosy-cheeked, tousled headed, his blue serge suit far from pressed, his soft white shirt open at the neck—there he stood with a crowd of admiring men and women ringed about him while he went through the ordeal.

His manager, Harry O'Byrne, hovered about him. Yes, of course, George would give a few minutes to the newspaper men.

In reply to questions, George said he slept fine Sunday night — about eleven hours. Felt no ill-effects from his terrific swimming except that his right shoulder was a little sore but was coming along in fine shape.

On business questions—well, the youngster gave his manager plenty of time to do the prompting. It was

Byrd to Tell of Pole Flight at Gamut Club

Extra-heavy gravity California oil and gasoline not only propelled a 10,000-pound heavy airplane around the North Pole last May, but it leaked dangerously from a tank onto the top of the earth when Lieutenant-Commander Byrd flew to that coveted goal.

Byrd's unsurpassed conquest of Arctic ice and air will be told by him Thursday night at the Gamut Club Theater under the auspices of the Lions' clubs of Southern California and Impresario Behymer. This will be Byrd's only appearance here, when he will show also the films taken by him, incidentally with frozen hands, in a temperature of 90 deg. below zero and 2000 feet above the North Pole.

While peering down on the immense ice deserts and blackish waters which hold the bones of many unlucky explorers, Byrd discovered, just as they had circled the pole for the second time, that their largest oil tank, under atmospheric pressure, had sprung a leak.

Without delay the nose of the big airship was shoved in homeward direction and speed increased to 110 miles an hour by Floyd Ellsworth, the pilot, while Byrd clicked off the last reams of film, questioning himself if they would ever reach civilization.

FUMES VICTIM'S WILL FILED

Howard Douglass Clapp, who died from carbon-monoxide poisoning a few days ago, left a $75,000 estate, according to his will filed for probate yesterday by Attorney Gordon M. Gale of Bell. Two nieces inherit the property. Clapp's body was found in his home. Apparently he had been overcome by fumes while he slept.

FLEET WILL FIRE TODAY IN PRACTICE

Warships and Planes to Open Up on Targets Fifty Miles Off Local Harbor

Under cloudless skies the battle fleet yesterday morning ran off the official rehearsal of its annual force practice and at 10:30 o'clock this morning, fifty miles off the coast, sixty surface ships and as many aircraft will simultaneously loose their combined destructive agencies at the "enemy," a three-mile string of target rafts being towed along the southern horizon.

Nine dreadnaughts, led by America's latest battleship, the U.S.S. West Virginia, will play the leading role in the ten-minute tableau of thunder, smoke and destruction, scattered over a twenty-mile area. Two groups of destroyers will launch streams of real torpedoes at the battleships, which these giant fighters must dodge as they tear along at nineteen knots.

In the midst of the action there will likewise be attacks by bombing and torpedo planes, with squadrons of tiny fighters from the battleships aloft to ward off these attacks.

The entire fleet will remain at anchor here tomorrow during a conference between Admiral Richard H. Jackson, commander-in-chief, and his various commanders and staffs relative to the coming cruise of the Atlantic.

SCHOOL-FRATERNITY TEST CASE PUT OVER

The suit is that of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chase against the Long Beach Board of Education and Principal Lounsbury of Woodrow Wilson school, Long Beach, on behalf of their son.

'MIRACLE' CHIEFS AWAITED

Reinhardt and Vollmoeller, Creator and Author, Will Arrive in City Today

New stimulus will be added to public interest in "The Miracle" by the arrival in Los Angeles this morning of Max Reinhardt, creator of the stupendous stage production, and Dr. Karl Vollmoeller, author of the story on which the wonder-play is based.

The two distinguished artists of the stage, who are coming 7500 miles to give Los Angeles a presentation of "The Miracle," surpassing that given in any other city, will arrive at the Southern Pacific station from San Francisco at 9:30 o'clock. They will be received by a committee of welcome, including many prominent citizens of Los Angeles, and will be taken to the Ambassador, where they will be tendered a reception at 11 o'clock by city officials, motion-picture stars, noted educators, business men and others.

KARL VOLLMOELLER

MAX REINHARDT

"The Miracle" will open in Los Angeles at the Shrine Auditorium on the evening of the 31st. inst., and the work of transforming the auditorium into the Gothic cathedral called for in the production of the superdrama will begin today. Some 700 seats in the auditorium will removed to make room for the monstage stage necessary and all the rest of the seats will be converted into pews to carry out the impression of a medieval cathedral.

Most of the 600 actors constituting the cast of the play arrived in Los Angeles Sunday, as did also carloads of stage properties, which were transferred to the auditorium yesterday. Rehearsals for the play will start immediately. Rehearsals for the musical portion of the program have already been under way for some days under the supervision of Elinar Nilson, the musical director of the play, who arrived last week.

Some 150 local singers will take part in the performances of the great chorus consisting of several hundred voices.

Nearly 1000 aspirants for minor roles in "The Miracle" thronged the ballroom of the Shrine Auditorium last night to win the 300 extra parts in the pageant. Langdon West, general stage director, said last night's crowd was the largest he had encountered during the tryouts in the several cities in which "The Miracle" has played. Of the hundreds who sought parts, approximately 100 men and a like number of women were selected. They will enact the roles of nuns, monks, knights, soldiers and townspeople.

Among the successful applicants were Cecilia de Mille, daughter of the motion-picture producer; Feodor

The Lancer

THAT oil driller who says that he swam the Catalina Channel a month or so ago?

His valiant form seemed to be missing at the finish of the race last Saturday.

His claim should not be allowed to go unnoticed or unproven. If he actually swam the channel, as he claimed, he pulled off one of the greatest stunts in the history of athletics. If he didn't, he is guilty of a rotten fake which should not go unpunished. He should be given an opportunity to prove his story.

JAPAN AND MEXICO

It is very sweet and lovely to think that Japan's heart beats in sympathetic accord with the heart of distant Mexico.

But it had better be content to beat at a long distance.

OUR SOLAR PLEXIS

Much hogwash is written about this Nicaragua question. The truth is, President Coolidge is acting in protection of the jugular vein of this nation's defense.

Every time a war cloud appears on the horizon, all the second-hand clothing dealers in New York begin to shriek with alarm; but New York is not the danger point. The danger point is the Panama Canal.

Partly to relieve an overburdened traffic; partly to give ourselves a naval ace in the hole, it will be necessary before long to dig another canal through our Nicaragua route. This country will safeguard that route — in spite of every dinky little Central American soapbox politician. Or in spite of all the Senator Borahs who tremble with humanitarianism.

VALIANT PAWNEE BILL

Mr. Pawnee Bill's frantic excitement is sadly disillusioning.

He says that some fresh movie star is stealing his name and his fame.

But his story of this inconsiderable poaching upon his laurels is staggering to the human emotions. We always thought that Pawnee Bill gained his war-whooping name by slaying hostile red Indians—a whole tribe at a time.

According to his plaintive wail, published in the public prints, he picked out the terrible and shivering title of "Pawnee Bill" to commemorate the fact that he acted as a casting director to rustle up some Indians to play act in Buffalo Bill's circus.

MEXICAN SENORITAS

Miss Helen Mackaye gives one of the most charming performances I have seen in a long time as the heroine of "The Dove."

But she could make it a far more artistic performance if she would spend a little time down in Sonoratown and really study Mexican girls.

They have a very odd and fascinating way. You could describe it as "shy audacity." I have never seen one use her eyes or walk in the way Miss Mackaye does in this part.

Also both Miss Mackaye and Richard Bennett and all the American tongues in the cast would do well to study the pronunciation of the Spanish language.

About every other word she speaks in the play is "Madre de Dios." And the way she pronounces "Madre" makes your backbone crawl.

She is an artist of such bewitching personality that it seems a great pity to see her performance marred by points so easily corrected.

MISSOURI RALLY

Missourians will meet tonight at the Moose Hall, 1041 South Grand avenue. There will be a musical program, dancing and refreshments.

RAMONA TO RECEIVE MEDAL

Better-Citizenship Cup Won for Voting Percentage Will Be Presented Today

A group of directors of the California Development Association headed by William May Garland, vice-president of the organization, will motor to San Diego county, today, to present the association's "better citizenship" cup to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce there.

Ramona won the cup at the last general election in a voting contest in which all communities in the State were entered. It also was awarded the cup in 1924 when it attained a voting percentage of 93.88. Its percentage last year was announced as 96.33 when 354 voters out of a possible 360 exercised their rights of franchise at the polls. The cup, which must be won three times by any one community before it becomes a permanent possession, was offered by the association as an inspiration to civic pride, to the chamber of commerce obtaining the highest voting percentage in its community.

The cup was won through organized efforts of the chamber, according to its secretary, Miss Elizabeth Seay. They included broadcasting propaganda throughout the year and the urging of voters to remain in the little city and vote election day in personal letters sent every voter in the community.

A general manager was appointed for that day to watch the voting list and direct automobilists to the polls. Several voters motored forty miles to cast their ballots, it was said, and one man traveled 200 miles to bring his wife to the polls and take her back to a school where she was teaching.

Three cars were sent to San Diego to pick up voters and the high-school citizenship class also helped corral them. Of the six who failed to vote, two were in hospitals, one on duty as a fire warden during a forest fire, one ill at home, another in Oregon and one out of the city on business.

Accompanying Mr. Garland will be Frank Miller of Mission Inn, Riverside; Claus Spreckels of San Diego, and Harry Chandler. They will be guests at a banquet given by the San Diego County Federation of Chambers of Commerce tonight, preceding the presentation ceremonies.

SHIMMYING SALT SHAKER DEVISED

Article, in Guise of Flower Bouquet, Sifts Sodium If Spring Pressed

Relief is in sight for one of the worst aggravations to a long-suffering humanity.

No longer need the obstinate salt shaker be the cause of shattered nerves, ruined dispositions and profanity, for Miss Ina E. Allison, 24 years of age, of 1401½ North Dolphin street, an operator on the switchboard of the Rosslyn Hotel, has contrived a device which she hopes will revolutionize salt-shaking.

The shaker is to be made in the shape of a roll of bread or of various flowers, thereby being ornamental as well as useful. From all outward appearance the only thing that makes it different from the ordinary kind is a small spring on the outside, but therein lies the key to the big surprise.

From the spring and a mechanism on the inside is set in motion which, according to Miss Allison, not only keeps the salt agitated, but also sends out little prongs to clear the holes and make way for the sprinkle of chloride of sodium which ensues.

Police Abandon Theory That Sailor Was Put to Torture Death

VIEWS DISAGREE WITH AUTOPSY

Surgeon Says Von Bulo Dead Only Four Days

Detectives Hold He Was Slain by Samuels

Coroner's Inquest Will be Conducted Today

Scouting the theories of torture and drowning, Assistant Captain of Detectives Bean last night reiterated his belief that Henry T. Von Bulo, whose body was found in a swamp vacant lot in Culver City last Saturday, was shot to death by Curran Samuels, who wounded his wife and killed himself on December 18, last.

The entire case was thrown wide open again yesterday following the report of Dr. A. F. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon, that Von Bulo, in his opinion, had been dead only about four days and, therefore, could not have been killed by the jealous Samuels. Capt. Bean admitted the police will join forces with the District Attorney's office in a complete investigation, but expressed the opinion that Dr. Wagner is mistaken in the length of time the "mystery man" had been dead.

A leaden missile, the slug from a 38 caliber revolver found buried in Von Bulo's skull, may solve the mystery of the man's death. It will be examined today by police, according to Capt. Bean, who expressed confidence that the bullet will tally with bullets found in the gun with which Samuels wounded his pretty wife and later killed himself.

BURNS EXPLAINED

Burns on Von Bulow's body, at first thought to indicate the man had been tortured before death, were credited by Capt. Bean to a recent grass fire that swept through the lot where the body later was found. The detective also declared that salt water and the swamp condition of the land might have been responsible for water found in Von Bulow's lungs and also for preservation of the body.

The report of the autopsy surgeon, however, is being accepted at its face value by Dist.-Atty. Keyes, who ordered Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison to open an immediate investigation and to take charge of the State's case at the inquest to be conducted this afternoon.

Although absolved of any blame in connection with Von Bulo's death, Mrs. Fay Samuels will probably be called at the inquest today, to tell her side of the story of her husband's jealousy of Von Bulo. When Samuels shot his wife on the morning of December 18, she told police he had threatened also to kill Von Bulo. At the time no trace of the latter could be found but when he was later reported to have been seen in Long Beach police dropped their search. When his body was found three days ago, the theory that Samuels had made good his threat before taking his own life was advanced. Capt. Bean still clings to this theory despite yesterday's report by Dr. Wagner.

CASH MISSING

The antecedents of Von Bulo continue a mystery to investigators. At first reported to be a sailor, police have learned that early in December he was given employment by Dr. W. J. Fleckenstein of 2808 Crenshaw Boulevard, but vanished strangely on the night of December 15.

Mrs. Samuels has been insistent to police that her husband killed Von Bulo, and prior to the finding of his body repeatedly expressed the belief that the man was dead.

Another strange angle to the mystery developed yesterday with the discovery that several thousand dollars said to have been in Samuels's possession just prior to his death are missing. Samuels owned a mule yard not far from the spot where Von Bulo's body was found and sold the place for cash only a week before he shot his wife and ended his own life.

PEKINESE DOGS SAVE VALUABLE GEMS

Barking in Wee Sma' Hours Awakens Owner to Peril

Mrs. Josephine McOwen and Her Pets

THIRTEEN tiny Peginese dogs yesterday enjoyed extra rations of chowmein, or whatever may be the favorite dish of Pekinese doggies, from the grateful hands of their mistress, Mrs. Josephine McOwen of 2611 Hillcrest Drive, who gave the dogs full credit for preventing a burglar from entering her home and possibly leaving it later with more than $10,000 in jewels.

Her fondness for the tiny animals caused Mrs. McOwen several weeks ago to construct a special kennel for them inside the house, adjoining her bedroom. At 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. McOwen was aroused by the staccato barking of the dogs. She heard a faint crackling sound outside, saw a shadow at the bedroom window and a man's hand on the window ledge. The frightened woman called out, asking who was there, and the hand disappeared.

Mrs. McOwen seized her jewels on a stand near the bed, stripped a five-carat solitaire from her finger, crossed the room and threw the gems into the Pekinese kennel. Then she drew a revolver from a dresser drawer and fired four times through the open window. A man leaped to his feet from below the window, raced across the lawn and fled. The police were summoned but the would-be burglar had made his escape, leaving no trace of identity but footprints in the soft soil below the window.

"If it had not been for the dogs," Mrs. McOwen said, "I believe the man would have entered and I would have lost all my jewelry. The first thing I did today was to store it in a safe-deposit box, and I'll never keep jewels in the house again."

BOOKS GIVEN TO POMONA

Two gifts have been recorded by W. H. Kerr, Pomona College librarian, from alumni of the institution. Charles L. Boynton, now in Los Angeles, has given his Alma Mater twelve volumes on China and seven miscellaneous pamphlets on the same subject. A booklet entitled "A Tour of Southern Germany and the Tyrol," by Kenneth G. Darling of Cambridge, Mass., has been given to the library by the author.

EBELL CLUB ZONING PLEA CONSIDERED

City Planning Committee to Render Report in Lot Dispute Tomorrow

The petition of the Ebell Club to have a lot located at the southeast corner of Shatto Place and Wilshire Boulevard rezoned for business was yesterday taken under advisement by the City Planning Committee. Chairman Peirson M. Hall of the committee announced that a report on the petition would be made by the committee to the City Council at the session tomorrow morning.

The petition involves the rezoning of a key lot at the rear of the Wilshire frontage, asking that the lot be put in Zone C, or a special permit for use for a special purpose be granted the club.

Numerous property owners of apartment houses in the immediate vicinity appeared at the hearing to protest the granting of any permit or change in the zoning on the grounds that the lot was to be used by the Troy Motor Sales Company on which to build a garage.

Members of the Ebell Club, headed by Mrs. William Read, president, appeared in support of the petition.

CHAPTER TO MEET

A meeting of the Los Angeles chapter, Disabled Emergency Officers of the World War, will be held Wednesday, 8 p.m., at Patriotic Hall. Visiting or resident officers in this class are urged to attend, as Congressional legislation will be reported on and discussed.

Ballard to Lead in "Follow Up" Drive for Chest

The Community Chest appeal for 1927 [illegible] in total collections of $2,530,000, it was announced yesterday, when the final check-up was completed and the last outstanding pledges accounted for. As the budget for the 154 agencies of the Chest is $3,220,114, the deficit is $700,114. The total number of subscribers was 354,060, of which 148,654 were school children.

RUSSELL H. BALLARD.

Despite the seemingly large deficit, Chest workers are not discouraged. Already steps have been taken to bring the total up to the required sum. Under the leadership of Russell H. Ballard, a follow-up committee will proceed to obtain additional subscriptions. The personnel of this committee, which will include the names of a number of prominent citizens, is to be named shortly.

BABY STARS TO BE TOPIC OF MEETING

Members of Wampas Will Confer on Presentation at Annual Frolic and Ball

Members of the Wampas and the thirteen baby stars they selected as "best bets" of 1927, cinematically speaking, will meet in the Fiesta Room at the Ambassador tonight to confer on plans for the presentation of the potential screen luminaries at the Wampas frolic and ball next month.

Dinner will be served at 8 o'clock and will be followed by a program of entertainment headed by Margaret Edwards, internationally famous dancer, and one of the features of the frolic.

Plans for the publicists' entertainment, which will be staged Thursday evening, February 17, at the Ambassador auditorium, are going forward in good shape, according to J. LeRoy Johnston, chairman of the executive committee of the affair.

Dance-inspiring melody will be purveyed to patrons of the frolic and ball by eight orchestras, according to an announcement just made by the executive committee.

The leader, who will preside in the pit before the stage on which the spectacular presentations will be made, has not yet been revealed. It is known, however, that the most famous of the conductors on the west coast will be present.

Tickets for the frolic and ball are now on sale at all recognized theater ticket agencies as well as at the Ambassador casino floor headquarters of the Wampas, where reservations may be made.

Use of Streets During Building Work Opposed

Congestion of downtown streets is given by the Traffic Commission as the basis for its opposition to the request of the Board of Public Works that the City Council amend Ordinance No. 26830 to allow the piling of building materials in the streets during the construction of new buildings in the congested area.

A letter to that effect has been sent the City Council signed by Clarence R. Snethen, executive secretary of the Traffic Commission. It points out that the streets in the downtown section already are overcrowded and that any further obstruction to traffic will seriously effect downtown business.

It cites the construction of Barker Brothers' Building, and the Chester Williams Building as demonstrations that the use of the streets for such storage purposes is unnecessary. The commission urges the more rigid enforcement of the present ordinance declaring that it is being flagrantly violated by many contractors in the downtown section.

definitely established that O'Byrne is his manager. Many offers had been received during the day. He held a bunch of telegrams in his hand. As to what he will sign up for, that remains to be decided. George is open to offers of all kinds apparently, as long as they are legitimate. He has no definite plans except the one which calls for a home for himself and mother in Santa Monica.

WRIGLEY OFFERS ADVICE

In the morning Young and O'Byrne went to Mr. Wrigley's offices in Wilmington where he was presented with the $25,000 check. The official presentation will be made tonight at Grauman's Egyptian Theater.

In presenting the check Wrigley said:

"George, you're the greatest swimmer in the world and I'll back you any time any distance. Lay off mining stock. I've got a lot of that myself."

Young declared he has no intention of making any investments except to buy a house for his mother and pay her way to California.

"I have a lot of offers of vaudeville and other contracts," he said, "but I am not accepting any of them just yet. I have not made up my mind what to do and will take my time about it. Mother comes first."

Young said he had lost eight pounds in his swim but already felt completely recovered and ready for what comes next. Present at the meeting besides Wrigley were W. H. Stanley, secretary of the William Wrigley, Jr., Company of Chicago, David P. Fleming, secretary-treasurer of the Wrigley western interests, John N. Stewart, vice-president of the Santa Catalina Island Company; Joseph H. Patrick, president of the Santa Catalina Island Company, and D. M. Renton, general manager of the latter company.

At 9:30 a.m. today, Mrs. Martha Stager and Mrs. Margaret Hauser, women swimmers who gave up only after remaining more than nineteen hours in the water, will get their $2500 consolation checks, also unofficially. Like Young, the formal presentation of their money will be deferred to tonight but in the meantime the money can be spent like any other money.

Clarabelle Barrett, New York teacher-contestant, left Avalon yesterday for Los Angeles. She announced her business agent in New York is negotiating for vaudeville contracts for her and that she will remain in town a few days until she hears from him.

During the earlier morning hours O'Byrne's home in Santa Monica swarmed with newspaper men and throngs of admirers. Motherly Mrs. O'Byrne did the honors deftly. Her daughters, Olga and Irene, have through swimming cups themselves to sink a pair of battleships.

Yesterday morning O'Byrne sent a telegram for Young to his mother in Toronto, telling her to get ready to hurry to Santa Monica as soon as arrangements can be completed.

"Yes, Mrs. Young will stay with us here at the house for a time at least," Mrs. O'Byrne said. "Later she and George may want to make other arrangements, of course."

Mrs. O'Byrne says Mrs. Young is not a cripple, as reported. She is not strong, that is all, according to Mrs. O'Byrne.

The local Canadians are losing no time in taking unto their bosom the lad who had won such honors for himself and his country. At a meeting held by the Canadian Tourists' Society yesterday morning, a resolution of congratulation was passed to be presented to Young. He will be invited to be guest of honor at a big Canadian gathering to be held at the Coliseum February 5.

E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, sent his congratulations to Young from Montreal and invited him to be the guest of the road from Los Angeles to Toronto via Montreal.

CONFIDENCE DID IT

Absolute confidence in his own great strength, courage and rugged endurance, coupled with perfect training under O'Byrne, won the victory for Young, aquatic experts in Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice said yesterday. Young never worried, never doubted his ability to win through. He trained by staying hours in the coldest water he could find around the Santa Monica municipal pier, at the shore off Ocean Park plunge and up the coast. Wherever he could find cold currents, Young plunged in, until he made himself practically immune against frigid water. He tackled the heaviest surf and worst tide rips he could find. And always his friend and trainer, O'Byrne, watched and coached him.

During the days of preparation in Santa Monica, Young showed he has the makings of a champion in another field. For a big husky fellow he is a marvel on the tennis courts. At the Third-street Club's courts at Third and Washington, Young worked out almost daily, playing O'Byrne's daughters, who are true Canadians in their all-round athletic ability. With coaching and practice, Young would make a first-class player, observers declare. The club gave O'Byrne special privilege to use the courts in helping keep his swimmers fit. Wyndham Martyn, the novelist and short-story writer, is president of the club. Oscar Marshall, former Chicago champion; Osgood Porter, E. Hodges, R. Robinson, "Sandy" Chandler, Harry Leech and other crack racket wielders represent this tennis organization.

Sid Grauman announced last night that the youthful aquatic champion had agreed to a five-day personal appearance arrangement at $1000 a day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Foster of Quincy, Mass., are the honeymoon couple who befriended Young when his motorcycle broke down in Arkansas en route to California for the Wrigley marathon, according to dispatches received last night from the eastern city.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster found Young and his friend, William Hastings, beside their broken motorcycle six miles out of Little Rock on December 28, the dispatches state. They gave the two boys a lift and brought them to San Pedro. On the way Young made known his identity and stated that his chief desire in entering the channel swim was to be able to help his mother in the event he would win.

PRIME MINISTER WIRES GRATIFICATION

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 17.—Col. H. A. Mullins, former member of the Canadian Parliament, who is living at the Rossmore Apartments here, stated tonight that he had received a telegram from Prime Minister King of Canada asking him to represent the Dominion at the formal presentation of the William Wrigley, Jr., check for $25,000 to George Young, Canadian conqueror of the Catalina Channel.

"The wire was very brief," Col. Mullins said. "It merely expressed the Prime Minister's gratification that a Canadian had won the great swimming classic and asked that I attend as a representative of the Canadian government the presentation of the check to Young tomorrow night at Grauman's Egyptian Theater."

SPRINT SIGNAL TO BOAT CONVOY

REDONDO BEACH, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—How George Young, youthful Canadian winner of the Catalina Channel marathon, identified himself to two strange fishermen who were to act as his convoy by starting a terrific sprint early in the race was told here tonight by one of the men, Capt. Harry Huff, of 203 Diamond street.

Huff and Capt. Jack Bubeck handled the boat Martha, which convoyed Young on his successful plunge to fortune. Prior to the start of the race, the two fishermen expressed doubt of their ability to pick Young out from the mass of swimmers in the channel waters.

"'We'll be outside the isthmus cove when you start,' I told Young," Capt. Huff said. "'But how are we going to pick you out of that mob?' The kid just grinned, and answered: "'Pick out the first man to pass Bird Rock, 300 feet outside the cove. That'll be me.'"

Huff and Bubeck followed instructions and found the first man to pass Bird Rock was the 17-year-old Canadian tearing through the water in a sprint that swept him past Norman Ross and gave him a lead of 800 feet over his nearest competitor at that point.

MOTHER URGES YOUNG TO COME HOME

TORONTO (Ont.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Careful for the economic as well as the physical welfare of her son, Mrs. Jenny Young, mother of George Young, 17-year-old winner of the Santa Catalina swim, wired him tonight to put his share of the $25,000 prize in a California bank and return to her at once. She informed him that a Canadian railway company has made all arrangements for his return.

Young's manager, Henry O'Byrne, formerly of this city, asked Mrs. Young to go to California, where swimming contracts call for her son's continued presence, but Mrs. Young replied that she was not able, just now, to travel.

"Love of your city urges you to return," she wired. "Do not disappoint us. Toronto is full of your victory."

Mrs. Young is sure her son will return.

Business men of Toronto, eager that the young swimmer reap the greatest possible benefit from his victory, were preparing today to suggest to Mrs. Young that advisory trustees be appointed to help him exploit his fame.

A contract signed by Mrs. Young gives O'Byrne 40 per cent of the $25,000 prize as compensation for training and other expenses.

FAMED ARTISTS AWAITED TODAY

Chaliapin, Jr., son of the Russian basso; Myron Cox, Garfield High School pupil, who entered the recent Catalina Channel swim, and Miss Martha Allen, daughter of a Canadian statesman.

For the next few days Mr. West will walk the streets and haunt the hidden corners of the city for the remaining types which will be used in "The Miracle."

Max Reinhardt is the stage director of "The Miracle" and is conceded to be one of the world's greatest masters of stagecraft. He started his stage career as an actor in the Imperial Theater of Vienna in the early '90s. He was "discovered" by the famous German producer, Otto Brahm, who was instrumental in placing the young man in a position from which he was able to go on with the remarkable series of achievements in stagecraft which have made him internationally famous.

His first notable triumph was the staging of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," which was said to create a revolution in the theater. His first production of "The Miracle" took place at the Olympia in London in 1905 and created a sensation. The drama was afterwards produced in all the leading capitals of Europe. In 1924 Mr. Reinhardt produced this play at the Century Theater in New York for Morris Gest, under whose auspices "The Miracle" is to be presented in Los Angeles, after showing in eight other American cities.

The author of "The Miracle," Dr. Karl Vollmoeller, who arrives with Mr. Reinhardt, is one of Germany's younger poets and dramatists. For the past fifteen years he has been a close associate of Mr. Reinhardt and when the latter conceived the idea of producing "The Miracle" in 1911, he turned to his young associate for a dramatic development of the ancient legend which forms a basis for the play. Although the story had been treated in several plays and stories before, the Vollmoeller version, colored by the imagination with which Reinhardt brought it on the stage, is considered among the best.

Mr. Vollmoeller has produced many other well-known works and last year won a prize for a poem submitted in a competition conducted in Europe. The author is something of a globe-trotter, as well as a playwright and as traveled extensively in every part of the world. The owner of some of the leading silk mills in Germany, he is possessed of large private resources which enable him to pursue his hobbies to his heart's content.

Since it was announced that "The Miracle" is to be shown in Los Angeles public interest has been evidenced by an immense demand for seats. Not only are throngs of ticket-purchasers constantly surrounding the doors of Wiley B. Allen, 720 South Broadway, box-office headquarters, but there also are thousands of requests for seats coming in by mail from different sections of the Southwest. A considerable number of persons in Northern California, who were unable to get seats during the presentation of "The Miracle" in San Francisco have reserved seats in Los Angeles. The Shrine Auditorium has a capacity of 6000, and it is believed that it will be possible to grant everybody desirous of attending this great stage spectacle an opportunity to do so.

HOSPITAL WILL BUILD ADDITION

Plans Memorial Annex to Cost $300,000

One Hundred More Beds Provided For

Part of Fund to be Raised by Subscription

Prompted by ever-increasing lack of accommodations at the White Memorial Hospital, 504 North Boyle avenue, plans have been started for the erection of an addition to cost more than $300,000, according to Dr. H. J. Butka, superintendent.

The building will be a four-story concrete structure, large enough to house 100 beds and the surgery, extra and dispensary departments, greatly increasing the capacity of the hospital, which is now 108 adult patients. The dispensary treats on an average of 400 patients daily.

Approximately $150,000 is now available for the work, while the remainder will be raised through public subscriptions, inasmuch as the hospital is a semi-charitable, Dr. Butka said. The hospital is affiliated with the college of medical evangelists, many of which are under supervision of the general conference of Seventh Day Adventists with headquarters at Washington, D. C., in the school of nurses 100 are enrolled.

Dr. P. T. Magan, dean of the college, relinquished the office of superintendent of the White Memorial Hospital on the 1st inst., being succeeded by Dr. Butka, who is a graduate of the institution.

At a constituency meeting of the Board of Trustees next month here or at Loma Linda, plans will be furthered for the construction work. The board comprises twenty-one members, all residing in Southern California. The foundation will be laid within six months, it was announced.

The White Memorial Hospital occupies the block bounded by Boyle avenue, New Jersey Drive, Bailey street and Michigan avenue. The dispensary building on Boyle avenue near Michigan avenue will be replaced by the new structure.

JOKE THEFT SUSPECT IN GUILTY PLEA

Former Deputy Sheriff Asks Probation in Case Involving Fight Receipts

A "joke burglar" in the Sheriff's office six months ago was aired yesterday in Judge McLucas's court when Karl Wallich appeared, pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and asked for probation on the grounds that he and a friend, Harry Adler, had taken $1180 from the civil department safe as a joke.

Adler pleaded guilty to the same charge shortly after the money was missed and was sentenced to the County Jail. He was given probation after serving a short term.

Wallich, formerly a deputy sheriff, claimed that he and Adler took the money from the safe as a prank to embarrass George Barton, another deputy. Barton had taken the money from the proceeds of a prize fight on an attachment and placed it in the safe late at night.

Adler hid in the safe and after Barton left he escaped and took the money to Wallich's home. Both men confessed the following day and returned the money to Sheriff Traeger.

IN LIVERY
It's funny, but even in a one-horse country it is hard to maintain a stable government.

OVER QUICKER
There is more real respect for one who sheds tears than for the man who merely whines.

MOTHER GOOSE
Over in Texas the latest penitentiary song was: "Ma, Ma, black sheep, have you any pull?"

MAY NOT LAST
It's funny how so many sweet friendships have been wrecked by the mere purchase of a marriage license.

MAKING IT EASY
The shoe drummer says that the reason the women are making such strides nowadays is that their skirts don't hinder them.

THE REAL CHEESE
It is now against the law in France to try and imitate Roquefort cheese. Some of these vaudeville actors had best watch their step.

ITCH FOR GLORY
The mystery woman in the McPherson case is not going into vaudeville. For this consideration vaudeville should be properly grateful.

CHILDREN'S CHILDREN
A Salt Lake woman has 208 living descendants. If the country feels in any way short on population nobody can blame this pioneer. She might have a small town of her own.

HOUSE OR SENATE
A lady explorer who has written a book on the wild tribes of Africa says that the center of every jungle community or village is the so-called "palaver house." In this country it is the Senate.

PROFESSIONAL SUE
Suzanne Lenglen's name does not appear on the French roster of tennis stars for the year. That's what she gets for flirting with an American bank roll. She can't have a Pyle of money and an honor standing.

GAINING CONFIDENCE
Gov. Richardson had set his heart on bringing Big Hutch back to complete his sentence at San Quentin, but the new administration is not eager in that direction and it looks as if the bunko man would have to come back under his own power—if he comes.

A NOBLE MILKMAN
Another noted British peer has gone into business. Lord Hamilton has started a small dairy plant and is peddling milk. The idea of having a live English lord for the family milkman should be irresistible. He should get the cream of the business in his section.

DOMESTICATING REYNARD
Over $30,000,000 has now been invested in fox farms in the United States and nearly 3000 persons are actively engaged in the industry of rearing Reynard for his silvery pelt. There's money in the business, but it must take a smart lad to skin a fox.

BABIES AS BAGGAGE
A boarding-house keeper of Wichita, Kan., held Mrs. Vivian Smiley's baby for nonpayment of her bill. Mrs. Smiley appealed to the District Court. The judge ruled that the infant was not baggage and ordered it released. If the judge had had to carry that child a few blocks he might have found that it was baggage, and excess baggage, at that.

THE WIDE WORLD
The world isn't going to waste much time in hating America. People must work to live and in the ordinary processes of labor most hatreds are forgotten. There is no real hatred of America, anyhow. There are a lot of nations always ready to quarrel with one another, but there is no evidence of an organized hatred of America in any land. We may not be awfully popular with our debtors, but who ever is?

OVERSTREET'S OVERSIGHT
Prof. Harry A. Overstreet of New York University wants the United States to follow Italy's example in taxing unmarried men. He says that America's bachelors are altogether too numerous. In this latter view of the case he is altogether right, but he overlooks the fact that under our present income-tax system bachelors are already taxed rather heavily. Their exemption is only $1500 on net income, while that of a married man is $3500. By this arrangement a married man receiving a net income of $3500 pays no tax to the Federal government, and an unmarried man having the same income must pay a tax on $2000. Of course, when income taxes are no longer levied in this country Prof. Overstreet's idea may logically meet with approval—by married men.

HARD KNOCKS
President Ray Lyman Wilbur returned from the Orient recently and addressed the club women of San Francisco on the "sweet boys" and "flappers" of America. He appealed to parents to give their children enough "hard knocks" to keep them in trim for surviving among the fittest.

When the president of Stanford University, that is one goal-conversion better than any other institution on the Coast, as Will Rogers would say, advocates a post-graduate course in the University of Hard Knocks, it is time for parents to consider.

One of the most vivid truths of this great Southwest is that "All sunshine makes a desert." This is true both in human life and land. The picturesque in both is marvelously multiplied by clouds.

Most folks have trouble without borrowing any. Young people come to the realities of life soon enough, and no parent enjoys knowingly strewing the path of his progeny with hardship. Struggle will come to all normally. The trouble is that too many fond parents give cars and allowances entirely out of proportion to needs. The youth is relieved of effort.

Sorrow built Stanford University. If Leland Stanford had not passed away in his boyhood the great institution that bears his name would never have been lifted to bless humanity.

If Florence Crittenton had not faded away in her beauty and sweet innocent childhood no homes would open their protecting doors to other girls hunted in the great cities.

A boy seldom gets a job under his father—it is a sinecure. Only the man who is pounded becomes mellow and worth while. The big dusty road to success is sprinkled with tears.

The youth who is kicked the hardest lands nearest the goal. The caged bird sings best in the dark away from company. Our most plaintive American music comes up from the slave fields of the South. A young fellow usually has to be knocked down to have the conceit knocked out of him.

Character is not conferred—it is achieved. A course of sprouts usually accompanied the "three r's" of other years and together they produced results.

A throne cannot ennoble meanness; a coronet cannot glorify a crime; a scepter cannot sanctify selfishness. But a high resolve can make even the dirt floor of a cabin holy ground.

THE NEW MIDWINTER SPORT
Now that the race is over and the winner has received his richly deserved reward, the wonder grows that the young Scotsman from Canada should have ever been considered a dark horse in the Catalina channel swim. It was the triumph of youth and ambition rightly directed, backed by heredity and a wonderful physique.

George Young came to Southern California to win that $25,000 prize; and with a Scotsman on the beach at Catalina and a bag of 25,000 ducats on the beach at Los Angeles it is not surprising that he came across. He rode his motorcycle until it collapsed, then secured a place in the back seat of a honeymoon car on its way to sunny Southern California and thus negotiated the rest of the distance. He secured a job and trained for the race. The will to win was much in evidence. In Toronto he left an old mother, a semi-invalid, with the cheering assurance "I am going to win and bring you to Los Angeles, too."

And while he wrestled with the changing, malicious tides through night and fog that old mother wrestled with the Lord in prayer. The combination won, and the dispatches narrate that the mother was not the least surprised when she received a telephone message from jubilant neighbors that her boy had come in first.

Swimming the Catalina channel in January is more of a feat than swimming the English Channel in July. Two of those who contested were successful English Channel swimmers, but they were not even in at the finish in the Catalina classic.

Other hardy intrepid swimmers took part in the race. Perhaps fortune was against them, but such are the chances of war and sport. There were 100 entrants, and there could be but one winner. But other days may bring other fortunes. Their turn may come next year or the year after, for the Catalina swim is to be an annual event, a feature of midwinter sports in Southern California.

Young had the advantage of coming from a land of cold waters. The temperature of the channel in January does not vary much from that of some Canadian waters in July; so Young was like a fish in its own stream. But the surprise to the multitude was that the crossing should have been possible on a day that ended with night and fog. Those ready to back their opinions with a wager offered odds of five to one that no swimmer would appear on the Los Angeles beach to claim the prize.

Still more surprising was the valiant efforts of the two women swimmers who battled with the tides, the night and the storm until within almost hailing distance of the shore. Their endurance was equal to that of the men; and Mr. Wrigley showed his generosity and appreciation by giving to each a special prize of $2500. The female of the species emerges from the test as hardy as the male.

George Young's triumph carries with it a lesson that should not be lost on the youth of the present generation. He won because he had the ambition and the will to win, because he was unafraid. He felt that the world owed him a living and he did not wait for it to drop into his lap, but set forth courageously and determinedly to collect. That is the spirit which keeps the human race progressing.

A delicious touch of comedy was added to the classic by an Eskimo who declined to participate on the last day, saying he could not do justice to himself because the water was too warm.

AN OBVIOUS FINDING
A Finding that a greater proportion of homicides to population is recorded by States in which life imprisonment is the maximum penalty for murder than in those in which death sentences are given, Atty.-Gen. Shafer of North Dakota has recommended the restoration of the death penalty in that State. Of course, there are protests, but it is interesting to note that the North Dakota officials are at last studying penology.

The First Casualty

FASCISM'S LATEST MOVE
Now having a carefully culled membership of 940,000, the Fascist Grand Council has decided not to admit more adults into the Fascist party. But youths of 18, after passing through the "vanguard" training for four years, are to be admitted. Coincidentally, a new set of national holidays was adopted for Italy by the Grand Council, the former ones being scrapped and the new ones having to do solely with the glorification, celebration and solidification of Mussolini and Fascism.

The idea behind it all appears to be very plain and simple; likewise very ancient. Abolish history and tradition, school the youth of the land exclusively in the ideals sought, incorporate the boys into the new order and lasting rule inevitably follows. Absolutisms have tried it one after the other since the beginnings of governments. With differing method and aims the same broad plan is operating under the soviet of Russia. It is an obvious method of attempting to make a going concern a continuing one.

The thinking world seems to agree—and no doubt it is true—that Mussolini in a few short years has made of Italy a going concern. The United States, however, has been a going and a continuing concern for nearly a century and a half. The ideals of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for every citizen of our country are as much alive and in effect today as they were in the earliest days of the nation. If the Fascist attempt were made here it would be as if some dominant reform administration enrolled a safe majority of adults in its organization and then set out to incorporate all the youth of the land. True manhood and sane government are built upon and linked to all that has gone before. Surely an old series of national holidays cannot be extinguished among a whole people and a new set created by the fiat of a dominant government. The effect of it is merely that most Americans with interest, without alarm, in doubt and with some mistrust look on passively as these extreme efforts to reconstitute peoples and nations are made.

RESCUING HYMEN
Somebody has been putting poison on Cupid's arrows. One California judge, at least, discloses a strong suspicion that he knows the malefactor. He points an accusing finger at the increasing laxness in divorce procedure and intimates that it is responsible for the slow-working drug of marital discord. Sly precept filches the weapons of the little love god, dips them in the inevitable rancor that develops at times in all married life and waits for the deadly effect. Then, says the jurist, the courts add the finishing touch, and Hymen is thrown out in the cold.

Platitudes a-plenty have been broadcast on the divorce evil. Everyone from the fair divorcee to the court clerk has added something to the jumble of words surrounding a serious affair. But extremely few concrete efforts to correct on a large scale the deplorable trend have been made. Sporadic and undoubtedly sincere attempts from the bench have failed largely of their purpose. The rush to the altar goes on; likewise does the rush to alter what the altar did. Trivial incidents are magnified out of all proportion to obtain a coveted decree of freedom. It seems unthinkable that marriage could be dissolved on some of the flimsy pretexts daily brought forward.

It is from this angle that the Santa Clara county judge proposes to attack the problem. During more than a score of years on the bench he has observed the fatal facility with which the hymeneal contract is broken. The applicant for a decree often has the tacit consent of the other party to the action, and there is no objection to the minor accusation on which the plea is based. The court has been constrained frequently to grant liberty where the grounds seemed insufficient, simply because of this lack of a frank discussion of the issues involved. Now things are to be changed.

Many homes, it is felt, could be maintained unbroken if there were an attempt to arrive at a basis of conciliation behind the mere citation of asserted wrongs in the legal application for divorce. The matter of patching wounded feelings undoubtedly is a most delicate one. Yet, by taking for four years, are to be admitted. Coincidentally, a new set of national holidays was adopted for Italy by the Grand Council, the former ones being scrapped and the new ones having to do solely with the glorification, celebration and solidification of Mussolini and Fascism.

Special attention will be directed to obtaining from both of the interested persons a sincere effort at mediation. The first flare-up of rancor often could be remedied easily by the sacrifice of a little pride and stubbornness, the judge maintains. That is where the new system will have its chance. Of course, theoretically, such efforts have been made before. But it usually has been accompanied by so much legal folderol that nothing of benefit transpired. Henceforth that is to be the main, not a minor, consideration. A patched home, if the job is done right, often is stronger than one that never has felt the stress of storm.

The application of new standards in divorce courts elsewhere could not help to do good. It is a complex problem. Yet the use of more humanity and less law is one certain corrective. Hymen cannot be saved in every instance; it is not desirable that he should be. But he ought to have a sporting chance.

EASING THE BALLOT
In the effort to make the primaries easier for the penniless candidate Senator Fellom of San Francisco contributes a measure to the legislative hopper which would make it possible for a candidate to get his name on the ballot by submitting the names of a certain number of chosen sponsors who would give their sworn approbation to his cause. This would take the place of the bulky and costly petition, signed by a high percentage of the voters. The notable result of this would be to create a larger ballot, with a greater number of candidates. Whether there would be any popular benefit in this may be gravely doubted.

TELEVISION
By James J. Montague

The goldfish as Irv Cobb has stated—
His words we frequently recall—
Imperfectly is isolated—
He has no privacy at all.
Poor fish! he never can retire
Where curious eyes may not intrude
To poke the embers of his fire—
In lone, sequestered solitude.

I look upon the works of science
With vast admiring wonderment,
Rejoicing in each new appliance
That able engineers invent.
But this device call television
Which toward perfection comes apace—
I fear will wreck my one, elysian
Serene and happy hiding place.

Although I'm not the least exclusive,
To be obsessed, by day and night
By other folks is not conducive
To—well what may be termed delight.
When in my own and private hallways
I do not hanker to be dressed
As careful persons must be always—
For the reception of a guest.

Nor do I care to run the chances
On what my vision might reveal
If I shot unexpected glances
At other people's dishabille.
And when I'm finished with my labors,
And my old shoes and jacket don—
I do not care to have the neighbors
And phone subscribers looking on.

IF I WERE DICTATOR

BY THE SUBURBANITE

If I were dictator of this country I would forbid the manufacture or sale of automobiles which could travel faster than thirty miles an hour. I enjoy the thrill of speed as much as most folks, too, but I'd get rid of the national disgrace of everyday motor-car murder.

I would call on every officer of the Army or Navy who did not intend to respect the laws of this country, including the prohibition law, to resign. I enjoy a drink as much as most men, too, and I wouldn't at all object to their trying to change the law. But I'd act on the idea that, while it was the law, it must be respected or the country would suffer; and that one could never hope to see the rest of the country respect it so long as the men who wore the nation's uniform didn't.

I would forbid the making of ridiculously extravagant claims for any patented "health food." I enjoy a little nonsense as much as most men, too, but the public has so little sense of humor about its health that it's no use trying longer to get a laugh out of it that way.

I would forbid the testimony of hired psychoanalysts in murder trials, but would establish a State board of specialists in mental diseases who would give a disinterested report for the guidance of the jury. I believe in giving every man a fair chance, too, but I feel the doctors already have as much on their consciences as they can stand up under and should be saved from such open and public sell-outs as the testimony of pay-interested specialists is bound to be.

I would have the charges for all medical and dental treatment strictly regulated by law; but I then would see to it that every patient paid his doctors and dentists promptly.

I would have all funeral charges State-controlled. It is a most heartless thing to make exorbitant profits out of people's sufferings and bereavements, yet I know that in some cases it is done. A poor woman in Ourville recently had to mortgage the cottage which was all she and her children had in order to give her husband a decent burial.

That is, those are some of the things I think I'd do if I were dictator. But I suppose if I were I'd be so hedged about with friends I didn't want to hurt and established systems and my own weaknesses that I'd find my program impossible. But darned if I wouldn't like to see it tried.

SIDEWALK MOVIES
Show-window movies offer entertainment for thousands of people. It is the latest form of advertising and one of these devices being set up in the window of a corner drug store, for instance, offers diversion for hundreds of people at one time and the spectators are coming and going all the time. The show goes on automatically hour after hour with little or no attention. The pictures appear on a two-foot screen, which is properly shielded from the daylight. For a sale of first-aid articles the reel tells a little story showing the value of having one of these kits at hand. While touch of romance and some fun are generally woven into the story the endlessness of the film is accomplished in an ingenious manner. The roll of film is divided down the middle and only half is shown at a time. When the end of the roll is reached an automatic switch throws the other half of the film into view, showing the picture over again as the film is rewound. Other machines of the same type run off an eight-reel picture, which may be thrown on a screen of any size and require, after the loading, no manipulation save only the touch of a button.

Try letting other people's affairs alone and you will have more time to attend to your own.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

The Midwinter
PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Yesterday I received the Midwinter Number of The Times. Some one was good enough to send it and to that "some one" I am under great obligations.

For the past dozen years I have been on the publicity committees of Portland and the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association. During that time there have been published many special and annual editions which have come to my notice, all deserving of much credit. I want to say, however, that your issue of December 25 overtops anything of the same nature that I have ever seen. It is so comprehensive—so complete and so far-reaching that it makes one fairly gasp with admiration. Your very competent staff of writers and artists have faithfully brought out the numerous phases of the cultural and civic activities of the phenomenal city of Los Angeles in a manner so interesting that one is loath to miss a single word.

But in getting out this wonderful edition perhaps the outstanding thing to me is the splendid, unselfish spirit you have shown in calling also to the attention of the world the advantages and glories of the sister cities and localities of our entire coast. It is a fine spirit; an exceptional precedent in community advertising and yet typical of The Times—that great newspaper without which Los Angeles could hardly have reached its present stage. Typical also is the fact that, while in this edition due credit is given to various individuals and organizations for their part in the city's success, The Times is silent as to its own splendid work. J. P. JAEGER.

Poison Gas
PACIFIC GROVE, Jan. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In 1918 our Congress appropriated $100,000,000 for the expenses of our Chemical Warfare (Gas) Service and allotted 48,000 men thereto.

Sixty-three poison gases were used in the war, of which twenty-six were classed as lethal (deadly.) Our Edgewood arsenal was turning out weekly 315 tons of gas-producing compounds, against 410 tons made in Britain, 385 tons in France and only 210 tons in Germany. Edgewood and auxiliaries were almost ready to produce 13,000 tons monthly. One of the Edgewood staff told me the stuff was so hurtful that for only six actual workers in the "mustard" gas section there were ninety in hospital, gas disabled. At the time of the armistice the Chemical Warfare Service was engaged in sixty-five "major research problems," including eight gases more deadly than any already in use.

For some reason, unknown to me, Gen. Fries, who, as Col. Fries, was head of the C. W. S. in war time, has published a statement that there was no gas discovered more deadly than those already used. Prof. Lewis informs me differently and claims that the gas he discovered, "Lewisite," is nearly three times (2.9) more deadly than any previously known to the service.

Half a dozen of our Presidents have recommended the settlement of international differences in a civilized, Christian way, by reference to an International Court of Justice. Now that one is established our irreconcilable legal lights cry "entangling alliances!" and "first codify international law!" EDWARD BERWICK.

Champion Mind Changer
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your leading article in today's issue, covering the action of the District Attorney, Mr. Asa Keyes, in the McPherson case is most timely. It is almost inconceivable that any member of the legal profession should have made such an exhibition of his ignorance and unfitness for office.

However, be that as it may, I want to ask whether the Attorney General of this State is going to let the action of Mr. Keyes pass unnoticed? Surely the latter has shown conclusively that he is unfit to administer the affairs of the important office he holds and it seems to me the taxpayers, whose money has been squandered in the McPherson case by a man who, apparently, changed his mind from day to day, only to end in making the city of Los Angeles the laughing stock of the country, should be protected from further such action. The Attorney-General should, in my opinion, dismiss Mr. Keyes from office without delay. B.

Loan Sharks
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The officers and members of the Northwest Chamber of Commerce heartily indorse the active campaign your valuable paper has conducted in behalf of the owners with reference to the manner in which the delinquent street assessments are being handled.
NORTHWEST CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
Edward Z. Collings, President.

THE FUNERAL DINNER
A Hot Springs "colored sister of the congregation" gave this account of a funeral she attended recently: "It sho' wuz some funeral—de purties' I ever went to an' I ain't missed any sence I moved ter dis yer town. De sarices wuz fine; de flowers wuz of de bes' an' de preacher had on a sho' nuff dress suit. But de climaxes come after it wuz all over with Sam's wife—hit wuz Sam dat died—took us back ter de house from de buryin' an' saved a big funeral dinner. Never set down to nothing finer. Yes'um we had chocolate ice cream, soda pop and fried chicken. And we all said poor Sam would have sure had fun if he could have been at the feed. You know fried chicken Sam."—[Arkansaw Thomas Obi.

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE OLD JOB

For fifteen years I herded goats and often heaved a sob and wailed that I might find release from such a beastly job. It was a dull and weary round I followed every day, pursuing geese, with horse and hound, upon their foolish way. I envied all who passed about, on their errands bent; the tinker and the poet with his song, the tinker with his tent; the yeoman with his herd of mares, the schoolgirl with her doll, the man who peddled bills of hares, I envied one and all. My high adventure I aspired after; my life seemed stale; the heroic doings I desired far more than my did kale. And then—'twas years and years ago—I hired out to a man to sell the works of E. P. Roe on commission plan. I daily wore my woes increase and oft, as evening fell, I wished I might be herding geese in some star-gemmed dell. None wished the works of E. P. Roe, and when I'd call at wares men greeted me with scorn and blow and kicked me down the stairs. And when they met me I thump and roll along from step to step they pelted me with bits of coal and showed exceeding glee. There was no sympathy for me who peddled wholesome woes and cops upon my trail were ignoring knaves and crooks; and how I longed to be again the happy man of the geese, and herd the charges through the glen in peaceful calm and peace. I'd know that job's delight to me is earthly quest; 'twas head and shoulders another wight who knew what to was blest. I've worked at many jobs since then, acquired some store of jack, but evermore, again, I wish the old job back. I'd every old and wintry gust back, with yearning frown, to wert that gave him discomfort when once he held it down. "There is no job like herding geese," he says, with longing tense, to Beryl his lovely niece, who wishes he'd talk sense.

No Doubt About Cinderella

In support of the theory that Cinderella was a real person who actually lived many years ago, a historian writes the following:

One day a lady named Rhodopis was bathing in the Nile and the wind carried one of her sandals and laid it at the feet of the king of Egypt, who was holding a court of justice in the open. His curiosity was excited by the singularity of the event and the elegance of the sandal and he offered a reward for the discovery of the owner. Rhodopis claimed it and the sandal was found to fit her exactly. The king married her.

Now, who has the hardihood to doubt the existence of a Cinderella after the recital of these facts?

M'REYNOLDS TAKES OFFICE

New Dry Administrator Issues Roll Call of Aides and Holds Conference With Frith

Maj. Frank R. McReynolds, for eighteen years supervisor of accounts and collection in the Internal Revenue Department for Southern California, at 9 a.m. yesterday was sworn in as Federal prohibition administrator for the Southern District of California and the State of Arizona, succeeding Col. Robert E. Frith, retired.

Robert Zimmerman, clerk of the United States District Court, administered the oath. The new appointee immediately called a conference of newspaper men and announced the names of men who will be his aides.

FRANK R. McREYNOLDS

The roll, as outlined by Maj. McReynolds, is as follows:

Roy C. Canady, assistant administrator in charge of permissive work.

Probably one of five men to be named by the Los Angeles county interpost council of the American Legion this morning with Lieut.-Col. Leo A. Stromee of San Bernardino and Col. Frank Benedict of Pasadena, leading the van at the present time will be named assistant administrator in charge of enforcement.

Daniel J. O'Leary, chief field agent in the enforcement division.

Caryl M. Sheldon, incumbent chief legal counsel, to remain "as long as he cares to."

Capt. Jesse L. Thompson, now assistant administrator in charge of permissive, to be transferred to Phoenix and placed in full charge of the entire State of Arizona as deputy administrator with a probable increase in salary.

Robert D. Sterling, present chief field agent, to inspector in the permit division.

No comment on T. J. Nicely, deputy administrator at Fresno, in charge of the northern division, or C. O. Johnson, chief clerk of the office.

MANY FLORAL TRIBUTES

Maj. McReynolds's advent into office was the occasion of numerous floral tributes from his former coworkers in the Internal revenue department and other admiring friends.

With his desk banked high with blossoms, Maj. McReynolds lost no time in outlining his policies. Briefly, they are:

Placement of full trust in municipal and county authorities to arrest and convict all hip-flask carriers and small distillers.

Full co-operation with Commander L. C. Covell, head of the United States Coast Guard in Southern California waters; S. H. Hamer, head of the intelligence unit of the revenue department in Southern California, and Louis H. Schwaebe, Collector of Customs, whose special detail of fifteen hand-picked men examine all ships at the harbor for incoming liquor.

Concentration upon major distillers, smugglers and alcohol venders.

Improvement of field division by careful selection and payment of higher salaries.

Inauguration of educational campaign to gain public support for prohibition enforcement.

CONFERS WITH FRITH

The new administrator's statement for newspapers was followed by a conference with Col. Frith relative to valuable information concerning the haunts and pursuits of California's principal liquor dealers, and a meeting with Maj. John E. Cooper, dry supervisor for the eleven western States.

A portion of the administrator's message to the public follows:

"Every citizen should consider where his money goes when he pays it to a bootlegger. From the bootlegger it goes to the smuggler who in turn gives it to the mariners who transport the beverage to our shores, or it goes to the local distiller whose synthetic output is poor substitution for medicinal liquor.

"These ultimate beneficiaries usually use it to tempt enforcement agencies or individuals for immunity or, in case the agents cannot be bribed, it goes to a hired gunman who will kill for $100 or $1000.

"Murder wreaks its hardship upon the agent's innocent family."

HENPECK PLEA WINS DECREE

Husband Relates Trials at Hands of Wife and Her Relatives

Merlin A. North, in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday, nominated himself for recognition as "most henpecked husband." Here is what he said Mrs. Vera North did to him:

Took his pay check every Saturday and spent it on her relatives;

Allowed her mother to browbeat him and threaten him with a butcher knife, and told him to get out when he protested;

Bought groceries on his credit to take to picnics she arranged with a sweetheart.

Judge Summerfield awarded him a divorce.

LAEMMLE FETED ON BIRTHDAY

Five Hundred at Dinner Honoring Film Producer; Channel Swimmer Present

A bewildered, half-frightened immigrant lad who came to this country years ago with a few meager dollars hoarded in his pocket sat last night in the place of honor at a $10-a-plate banquet at the Biltmore and heard himself praised by leaders in all lines as one of the nation's outstanding men. He was Carl Laemmle, head of the Universal Film Corporation, who celebrated his sixtieth birthday anniversary with more than 500 film producers, stars and civic and business leaders generally.

Rupert Hughes, author and film director, acted as toastmaster, while to the right and left of the veteran producer sat Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford, who made her first appearance in pictures under Laemmle's banner.

Mr. Laemmle, however, shared his party for a few brief minutes with George Young, the 17-year-old Canadian youth who conquered the Catalina Channel. The hero of the sea marathon, attired in his first dress suit, was introduced to the wild acclaim of the notables assembled.

A huge birthday cake, containing sixty candles, was placed before Mr. Laemmle, while the lights in the great room were turned out and the spotlight was centered on the cake. Mr. Laemmle blew out each candle as the guests cheered.

A replica of the producer's first theater in Chicago, a nickelodeon, occupied a prominent position in the banquet hall. Mr. Laemmle still operates the old theater. The first picture ever produced by the producer also was flashed on the screen, showing Mary Pickford and King Baggot in the leading roles.

Among those attending the birthday banquet were Marcus Loew, Jesse Lasky, Alexander Pantages, Hal Roach, Joseph Schenck, B. P. Schulberg, Irving Thalberg, Erich Von Stroheim, Will Hays, Al Christie, Jack Dempsey, Samuel Goldwyn, A. P. Giannini and Donald Ogden Stewart.

CHAIN GROCERS TO ENLARGE BUSINESS

With business in 1926 increasing over the previous year by 33½ per cent, and a heavy increase expected in the ensuing year, Daley's, Inc., chain store grocers, have obtained an additional 40,000 square feet of warehouse space adjoining their present quarters, Joseph Daley, president, announced yesterday.

"The additional space not only will improve our service greatly," Daley said, "but will enable us to enlarge our bakery to double its present capacity. At the present time we are baking an average of 60,000 loaves of bread weekly.

"Earnings for 1926 were very satisfactory. We have just mailed checks for the twenty-fifth consecutive dividend on our 8 per cent preferred stock and a dividend of 2 per cent on the common stock, making the third dividend paid on the common stock for 1926.

"I cannot help but feel optimistic for the present year, after observing that our combined wholesale and retail sales for the first week of the present month were over $20,000 greater than the sales for the corresponding period last year."

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

You Can Make a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy

Gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary.

Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—[Advertisement.

What Women are Doing

"The pictures that have been recommended most highly by the film committee of the District Federation of Women's Clubs have had the biggest receipts at the box office," stated Perk Swope, in speaking to the members of the Woman's Club of Hollywood at the film luncheon last Wednesday. Mr. Swope, who is the advertising manager of Hollywood Theaters, Inc., said that the film committee's slogan, "Make the Best Pictures Pay Best," had been successfully carried out, as shown by records at the box offices of the nine theaters in his corporation. Five of these nine theaters are holding junior matinees every Saturday, at which the feature picture and all short reel subjects are those recommended by the women's clubs.

Mr. Swope said that Mrs. A. B. Huntington of the Woman's Club of Hollywood was the first to co-operate with him when he started his work with children's matinees several years ago.

Barrett C. Kiesling, associated with Cecil B. De Mille in the production of "The King of Kings," told of the making of this picture. Mr. Kiesling traced the development of the motion picture from its earliest stages to the present time when it has entered a moral and ethical period. Twelve beautiful "stills" from "The King of Kings" were on display. Mrs. Robert L. Gilliam, film chairman of the club, presided, and introduced the honor guests, Mrs. Cecil B. De Mille, Carl Brueckner, Julia Faye, Welford Beaton, editor of the Film Spectator; George Blaisdell, Nils Olaf Chrisander, Miss Mayme Ober Peak, Mrs. Harold S. Muckelston (E. M. Wherry,) author of "The Red Lantern," and J. W. Graves of London, who spoke to the Browning section in the morning.

One thousand of Charles Wakefield Cadman's friends welcomed him home at the afternoon program, when he told the story of his opera, "The Witch of Salem." Mr. Cadman played the themes of the different characters and accompanied Margaret Measer Morris, Rosalie Barker Fry, Ivan Richards and James Murry, who sang the roles.

Audubon Society

"Summer Birds of the Big Basin" is the title of an illustrated lecture on birds of the Redwoods to be given by Joseph Ewen at the next indoor meeting of the Los Angeles Audubon Society to be held in the State Building, Exposition Park, Thursday.

Mr. Ewen is an enthusiastic naturalist and has spent many hours among the redwoods studying birds.

DIET and HEALTH by Dr. L. Mont Pike

THE FEVER DIET

When there is a fever there is an extra amount of burning going on in the body. Unless the proper food is furnished for fuel for the burning, then the patient's own tissues are going to furnish it. This not only causes a great weakening and loss of weight, but also causes a starvation acidosis. (If the stomach is very much upset and will not retain food, then naturally an enforced fast must ensue until it recovers. Chipped ice is usually given very frequently, and small amounts of plain carbonated water may be tolerated.)

Now, what must be supply the system "to keep up the strength" and prevent acidosis?

(1.) Energy food in the most easily digestible form.

(2.) Vitmins.

(3.) Mineral salts in good proportions, for there is a great loss of these in fevers; iron and calcium particularly.

(4.) Protein in easily digestible form if the fever is prolonged. Fats and protein are not well cared for when the system is deranged. So the fats and proteins must be given carefully when given.

(5.) Pure water in liberal amounts.

The best forms for these foods are:

(1.) Fruit juices, fruit purees, fruit soups (except plums, prunes and cranberries. They leave an acid reaction.)

(2.) Vegetable purees, juices and broths—especially of spinach and other greens, and dates for their iron.

(3) Gruels sweetened with malt sugar (it contains iron, calcium and vitamins) or milk sugar. Can beat an egg yolk in them later.

(4.) Milk, buttermilk and other fermented milks, and wheys.

Give the fruit and vegetable juices and purees for the short fevers, then if the fever continues the gruels and milk should be added because of the need for more protein.

Washing Rubber Panties

One Mother Says:

It is easy to wash Baby's rubber bloomers, but the trouble comes when drying them. If the two sides come together anywhere they will stick, weakening the rubber when one pulls them apart. After wiping the bloomers as dry as possible, insert a Turkish towel, pulling a corner through each leg. Pin these towel corners to the line. The towel will absorb the excess moisture and there will be no "stuck folds."

fruit juices, broths and purees of vegetables, which contain vitamins, mineral salts, carbohydrates and some protein, and a minimum of combined fat. If the fever continues more than a few days milk should be added to the diet for its extra protein and its mineral salts. Perhaps at first it had better be peptonized, skimmed and boiled. The cream should be added gradually. Sometimes the milk makes it more easily digested because the curds of boiled milk are soft and flaky, while those of fresh milk are larger and more solid. The vitamins will be supplied by the fruit juices and vegetables.

How much should one gain during a prolonged fever here is the answer: as many calories as though he were well and engaged in moderate activity.

This would necessitate very frequent feedings when the patient is on fruit or vegetable juices—every hour or oftener, perhaps, depending upon the patient's needs.

For constipation in fevers Dr. Peters advises bran or granulated sugar, but only in sufficient doses to promote a daily emptying of the bowels. Enemas, he says, is not irritating, as many persons suppose, for it is thought to be softened by the intestinal mucous. He also advises mineral oil. The diet, of course—and the diet alone, he says, in the matter—would be regulated by the physician in charge of the case.

Don't forget the liberal use of pure water. It can be flavored with the fruit juices.

found tried and true recipes. She always has a friend at hand to help her with the never-ending problem of "What shall we have for dinner?" Another.

Burned Enamel

White enameled kitchen pots and kettles seem pretty hopeless when food has been burned in them. However, put a quantity of soap powder and boiling water in them and let them stand for three or four days. The blackness will wash off with a dish cloth without injury to the enamel.

City Buying

If you live in the city it is not necessary to buy in large quantities of rice, raisins, spaghetti and other nonperishable foods. Stores are so handy to most of us nowadays that the few cents gained on buying these things in bulk are not worth the worry they have in keeping away the mice and bugs.

Better Roasts

When the roast is in danger of becoming too brown, while in the process of roasting, place a small dish of water in the oven. The steam will prevent its scorching and the meat will not be dry.

Much Easier

Some of us have distinctly disliked offering pie-paste from the board to the pie plate. Lately I have been rolling it lightly around the rolling pin and unrolling over the pie plate and find it fills a long-sought need.

Ink Spots on the Paper

Ink spots on the wall paper will frequently yield to a weak solution of oxalic acid and water. Apply with a paint brush, pressing with soft paper immediately after, as the paper is apt to affect the color of the paper. Two or three applications may be necessary. Any subsequent blottings may be necessary.

More Table Room

If the kitchen is small and you rarely need more table space, have a drop leaf shelf attached to a wall cupboard by hinges with a brace beneath the board. When not in use the shelf is lowered and lies flat against the wall, entirely out of the way. Extra shelves can be purchased made of porcelain or wood.

...ds Coolidge Against Imperialism Charge

...ver Brings Patriotic Demonstration

BY MYRA NYE

...ong plea for the people to ...e ultimately behind President ... and Mr. Kellogg in their ...gua policy was made yesterday ... Nye Harvey speaking before the ...man City Club in the fourth of ... series of lectures on the general ... of "International Peace."

...ose contenders who object to ... Coolidge's stand on the ... that it is imperialism do ...ver the facts or will not face ... said Mr. Harvey. "No ques- ...of imperialism arises here. It is ...ply to be determined whether the ... States shall protect property ... to which provided by treaty ... when the United ...ounded land for a canal, ...other in the chaos existing in ...South American country the United ...States shall copiously allow prop-erty of great value and honestly purchased to be taken."

BRINGS DEMONSTRATION

Mr. Harvey's vigorous defense of the administration brought forth a marked patriotic demonstration which was also in the way of protest against certain anarchistic and Communistic statements made by a minority group from the floor. One woman said that Mexico had as much right to prevent Californians from holding land in Mexico as California had to prevent Japanese from holding land in California.

To this Mr. Harvey replied that the two cases are very different. He stated that the United States government most surely should protect the property of Americans in Mexico that was bought before 1917. All international law, he said, was in favor of such protection; for not until that year, 1917, was the law made in Mexico that only surface rights to land owned, by foreigners in Mexico could be claimed.

"It is manifest that all oil or minerals below the surface shall be exploited by owners of land in Mexico if they owned that land before that erratic law was made," said Mr. Harvey.

CALLED TO ORDER

Another member speaking from the floor, was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. T. Anderson, when the member in an excited manner told Mr. Harvey he was following the example of Germany before the war when he advocated that capital and industry of one country might with value to both be carried across the borders.

With serenity and composure in face of several interruptions from the same member, Mr. Harvey maintained his point that those people who advocate the blotting out of capitalism are anarchistic and only a little less than traiterous.

"There is no country in the world where the laboring class fares better than in America," stated the speaker. "This is because there is capital here to make conditions right for labor. More and more is capital distributed until now it may be said that every man in the United States is a potential capitalist. And this is the ideal status—every man a capitalist. The United States is the one nation to lead the way in this very thing. Statistics show that the working man is benefitting here much more rapidly by capital and wealth than is capital and wealth itself. Imperialism and autocracy are only a little less dangerous than absolute and direct rule by the people. Do you know the word democracy is never once used in our Constitution? It is about time we were putting on the scrap heap the word democracy. Its meaning has become perverted until it means to many people lawlessness and anarchism.

RUSSIAN ROADS BLIND

"In Russia they have said and they are beginning to say it here, that there are only four roads to liberty: Anarchism, Communism, paternalism and Socialism. But I tell you these are blind roads. They will lead only to grave danger. The United States has proved that capitalism liberates the people. Why go back on a road that has led to success and prosperity?"

In dealing with his specific subject of the day, "The Great Economic Transition," to world peace, Mr. Harvey said that there is a new thing taking place in the United States that is, the extending of capital to all men and the tendency now apparent to remunerate spiritual leaders and talent as well as manual workers.

"This new American revolution confers benefits upon America's masses," he said. "Only as these benefits are extended to the old world and to neighboring nations can we expect stability," he stated, and added that those who try to attain world peace are divided into two classes: Sentimentalists who are really destructive and the group trying to promote causes of peace. Among the sentimentalists he classes those who talk of the outlawry of war without telling how to outlaw it and those who are for peace at any price. He said that Jesus Christ was not a pacifist as so many claim.

"He said he came not to bring peace, but a sword," said Mr. Harvey, "and the sword was not a material sword of warfare, but something that would cut deep and take out those things that hindered peace with progress, which, he said, is the only true peace."

So popular have these lectures become that each one is given twice each Monday in the Morosco Theater under the auspices of the club. His subject next Monday is "Adjusting the Far East to a Progressive World."

CHURCH WILL GIVE BENEFIT PROGRAM

An entertainment for the benefit of the Rosewood Methodist Episcopal Church will be given at the church on the evening of the 28th inst. Artists to participate will include Carrie Jacobs Bond in original selections, Carl A. Bundy in a monologue, "The Old Cobbler;" the Optimist Quartet; Glenn M. Tindall, organist, and Dr. Alfred Cookman in an address on "California Birds."

Suspect Given Probation in Burglary Case

Jack Boyd, 20 years of age, yesterday was granted probation of three years on a charge of burglary, to which he had pleaded guilty before Superior Judge Stephens.

Boyd and Chris Stafford were accused of entering the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Smith, 131 South Avenue Sixty-three, and of taking away several hundred dollars' worth of personal property. In his statement to probation officers Boyd declared he was under the impression at the time that he was assisting Stafford in moving property belonging to Stafford's wife. It was not until the day after the asserted burglary that he knew the goods were stolen, Boyd stated.

Stafford comes before Judge Stephens the 27th inst. on his plea for probation.

BANDITS CARRY OFF LUNCHROOM SAFE

Rather than leave tell-tale fingerprints on the safe at the Club Lunch Restaurant, 709 West Sixth street, bandits took the safe with them. They forced the rear door and moved the safe out through the kitchen, thence to a waiting truck. The safe contained approximately $180, according to S. G. Hillis, proprietor, who discovered the theft and reported it to the police.

AUTO DRIVER BOUND OVER IN ACCIDENT

Chinn Held to Answer as Asserted Victim Lies in Precarious Condition

While the life of his asserted victim still is hanging by a thread at the General Hospital, Leonard Chinn, 31 years of age, yesterday was held to answer to the Superior Court by Municipal Judge Blake on charges of driving while intoxicated, driving a car without the owner's consent and failing to stop and render aid after an accident.

Chinn was arrested on the 6th inst. by Detective Lieutenant Condaffer, following investigation into an accident at Twelfth and Los Angeles streets in which Georgorino Uribe was struck and seriously injured.

The driver of the car figuring in the accident led officers a wild chase through downtown streets, but later was apprehended. It was found that the driver, identified by officers as Chinn, was driving a car belonging to Ralph E. Williams.

Uribe was rushed to the General Hospital, where his condition is said to be critical.

In holding Chinn to answer to the higher court, Judge Blake fixed bail in the sum of $1500.

McNab Appears at Hearing as Witness for Actor

Wife's Counsel Asserts Next Move Husband's

the Chaplin holdings here was filed by counsel representing Chaplin in the State Supreme Court in San Francisco yesterday afternoon. The writ asked that the receivers be restrained from following out the orders of such receivership. It was denied.

WIFE IN COURTROOM

The action to show cause filed against Charles Chaplin was the thirteenth on the docket in Department 29 of the Superior Court and was called by Judge Walter Guerin at 10:30 a.m. yesterday. Lita Grey Chaplin, her mother, Mrs. Lillian Spicer, and their four attorneys, William K. Young, Lyndol Young, Milton K. Young and Edwin L. McMurray, appeared, but no one answered when the court asked if the defendants were ready.

In answer to the court's question, Lyndol Young declared the defendants have been served in every case possible and then asked that the judge order the vaults and safes in the Chaplin studios opened. Mr. Young explained that the receivers have been unable to obtain the studio books because of their inability to open the vaults. The order was signed by Judge Guerin.

"Is Charles Spencer Chaplin in the courtroom?" This question, which brought no answer, next was asked by Mr. Young, and then a member of the firm of Loeb, Walker & Loeb addressed the court with the information that he is representing the United Artists and Sam Goldwyn, both named in the complaint.

Loyd Wright, Chaplin's personal attorney, who also was named in the complaint, was the next person sought by Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys, and when he could not be found in the courtroom the hearing was continued until 2 p.m.

McNAB ON STAND

During the morning session, Gavin McNab, San Francisco attorney, who arrived in this city Sunday with the announcement that he has been retained by the Chaplin studios, sat in the courtroom, but made no move to represent the motion-picture star in the court proceedings.

With the opening of the afternoon session McNab was called to the stand by Lyndol Young and asked if Chaplin had left any funds with him for the support of his wife and children. Mr. McNab replied that he has none of the comedian's money but would be glad to tender a personal check for the support of the two children. He also declared, over the objections of Young, that an offer had been made to support the children but that it was met with an effort on the part of Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys to bring about Chaplin's arrest on a charge of non-support.

Mr. McNab, after his brief visit to the witness stand, lolled back at ease in a chair at the side of the courtroom as an "amazed and interested spectator at the screening of the second Gold Rush," in his own words.

"There is only one thing they failed to ask for," he commented lightly, "and that is an order to have Chaplin get out of bed and complete 'The Circus.' The reason Chaplin is not represented here at this time," he explained, "will come out in the subsequent action. Mr. Wright had to go to a dentist.

QUESTIONS FUND USE

"I was serious about wanting to sign a check of my own for the maintenance of the children," he added, "but I have yet to see two children able to spend $4000 a month."

Mr. McNab indicated that he will represent Chaplin in the divorce action but that this is not yet definite. A formal statement on this point probably will be forthcoming shortly. He insists that the receivers have no power to use funds of the Chaplin corporation to pay temporary alimony.

"That is waiving the Constitution of the United States since it deprives stockholders of their property," he declared.

Mrs. Chaplin's testimony occupied only three or four minutes. She was called by Mr. McMurray, one of her attorneys and her uncle. She testified that during her residence with Chaplin in the Chaplin mansion in Beverly Hills it required $3000 a month to run the house. Then she pointed out to the court that she had no rent to pay.

RENT $1000 A MONTH

"I have rented a house at $1000 a month and I believe that I could get along on $3000 a month now," stated Mr. Chaplin.

When questioned by the Judge Mrs. Chaplin stated that she could not remember when she left her husband but believed it to have been on November 30 of last year. She also testified that the "Gold Rush," Chaplin's last picture, was started two months before they were married.

When questioned by the court as to money received by her since she left her husband she declared that he paid a milk bill amounting to $27 and sent her $50 through her attorney. Then she left the witness stand.

Before Mrs. Chaplin was called, Lyndol Young and McMurray took the stand. McMurray testified to a financial statement given him by Lloyd Wright Mr. Chaplin's personal attorney. The document was read into the court records and showed that during his married life the famous comedian received $435,000 as salary. His personal income tax for 1925 and 1926 was listed at $107,415.58. Personal expenses $65,261.27. Mrs. Chaplin, his mother, $45,360.74. Care of mother, $10,020.80. The balance was listed as $266,932.63. Under the Charles Chaplin Film Corporation, was listed $836,949.98 as return from the "Gold Rush." The cost of "The Circus to date went into the account at $623,415.35 and income of 1925 at $81,181.08 and 1926 as $106,250. A total of $1,647,795.41 was shown and a balance of $913,550.23.

RECEIVER TESTIFIES

Young in his testimony stated he had received a letter signed by Lloyd Wright containing a check for $50, which was forwarded, the letter stated, for the support of the children. The letter was read into the records.

Following Mrs. Chaplin to the stand, Herman Spitzel, one of the receivers, was called and testified that with W. I. Gilbert he still is searching for property and bank accounts and gave a list of bank accounts and property discovered none of which is listed as Chaplin's personal property. Mr. Spitzel stated they have taken over the Chaplin home, the studio, two bank accounts in the Hollywood Security Bank belonging to Chaplin companies and a number of safety deposit boxes, which have not been opened.

After Spitzel left the witness stand, Judge Guerin announced he should sign the various orders and gave Mrs. Chaplin custody of the two children. The hearing then was continued to Thursday afternoon, at which time, according to Lyndol Young, an attempt will be made by him to show that all of the Chaplin companies are, in fact, "one-man affairs" and that the famous comedian owns all of the stock. According to Mr. Young, if this can be established, then the receivers can be ordered by the court to pay the various amounts due Mrs. Chaplin from these accounts.

At the conclusion of the hearing, attorneys for Mrs. Chaplin issued a statement putting the next move directly up to her comedian-husband.

"The court's action speaks for itself," they stated. "It has judicially determined the proper and reasonable amount necessary for Mrs. Chaplin and her children, and that Mrs. Chaplin is the proper person to have the custody of her children. Now, if Mr. Chaplin's statements that he will provide for the maintenance of his children are sincere, the amounts fixed by the court will be paid immediately. If the money is not paid without delay, the public can draw its own conclusions."

Both Mrs. Chaplin and her mother remained in the courtroom during the entire hearing and announced that they will be on hand again Thursday. Both of them refused to answer any questions regarding the case and instructed every one to "talk to our attorneys."

Mrs. Chaplin came to court in a green dress, trimmed in mole. She wore a green coat and a small tight-fitting green felt hat. A scarlet flower was pinned to her coat with a silver clasp.

CHAPLIN CONFINED TO SOLITUDE OF HIS ROOM

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Charles Chaplin is being kept on a rigid silence diet in an upstairs room in the home of his lawyer, Nathan Burkan, at 1136 Fifth avenue. Outside of Mr. Burkan and his personal representative, Arthur Kelly, the comedian has seen no one, it was said at the lawyer's home today.

"Is Chaplin still in bed?" was asked of a servant who opened the door of the Burkan home this morning.

"He is sitting by a window," was the reply.

In spite of Chaplin's nervous condition he must prepare his answer to his wife's divorce suit within the next few days. Under the law he has ten days to file his answer and this is the ninth day. It is believed he will ask for an extension of time to file his defense.

The answer will be prepared by Mr. Burkan and his staff and forwarded to Los Angeles. The lawyer said today that he undoubtedly will appear in the trial in behalf of Chaplin. It is probable, too, that the lawyer will be a witness, since he was present at the Chaplin wedding ceremony in Mexico.

A bruised nose was added yesterday to Chaplin's troubles. He fell out of bed in the Burkan apartment. A nose bleed involving a severe loss of blood followed but afterward he was able to sleep better.

The comedian will have to remain in bed about ten days, and will be allowed to see no one, his physician announced. He is described as suffering a mental and physical collapse as a result of his domestic troubles, though he is reported a little better.

EDNA PURVIANCE IN SUDREN RETURN TO PARIS

PARIS, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Edna Purviance, Charles Chaplin's leading woman in many of his productions, for reasons she declined to discuss today, suddenly returned to Paris from the Riviera where she left a picture she has been making for a French producer unfinished.

She went immediately to a hotel where she denied that she is sailing for America. However, she refused to explain the purpose of her visit to the capital or whether she intends to return to the Riviera to continue her film work.

"TAPE-MASK" BANDITS TALK

Youthful Pair Confess Engaging in Many House-Party Hold-ups During Past Year, Say Police

Two youthful bandits whose only possible claim to criminal distinction rests on the use of adhesive tape for masks to conceal their identity are reported to have confessed to Highland Park police of complicity in a number of "house-party" hold-ups. Efforts are being made to link them with forty robberies and the theft of approximately fifty automobiles occurring chiefly in Hollywood during the past year, as well as disturbing many "petting parties" in roadside automobiles.

One is Edwin Albright, 21 years of age, arrested last Thursday night by a citizen, Ralph Glover of 419 Lewis street, who left his automobile parked on Avenue 56 near Pasadena avenue and discovered Albright tinkering with it on his return. Glover started Albright to the police station when the latter struck him over the head with a wrench. But Glover clung to his man until Officer Irwin arrived. Albright was booked on a suspicion of grand larceny and when questioned by Detective-Lieutenants Lloyd and Kopytek, is said to have admitted having a part in ten robberies.

The arrest of his asserted accomplice, Herman Boernge of 524 Redfield avenue, took place yesterday in Pasadena, the officers report. He, too, it is said, has confessed to a number of hold-ups. Boernge celebrated his twenty-second birthday yesterday in the Highland Park Jail.

Included in the asserted confession is the robbery of hosts and guests at a house party on August 23, last, given by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Berry of 2746 Agnes street. Dr. E. H. Noe, optometrist for the May Company, his wife, and Charles and Milton Bernstein, were guests. The two bandits entered the home at 11 p.m. took $60 and a watch from Dr. Noe, a watch from Milton Bernstein and a small amount of money from Berry. Mrs. Berry suffered a nervous breakdown as the result of the experience, it is said.

Other victims were George S. Pingry and father of 4706 Eighth avenue, whose game of cribbage was interrupted by the bandits several weeks ago. Jointly, they gave up about $20.

Paul Hayward of 1801 East Glen Oak, Glendale, was another victim whose informal meeting with the pair at 323 Hill Drive cost him $7. Thirteen guests at a house party given by H. D. Winger at his home, 1477 West Forty-sixth street, were assertedly robbed of a large amount of jewelry and money several months ago.

Another house party supposedly visited by the same pair was that given a number of weeks ago by Mrs. C. D. Willoughby of 1823 Browning Boulevard.

James A. Del Dotto of 4102 Clayton avenue is reported to have identified Boernge as the bandit who recently entered his store and robbed him of approximately $20.

SUSPECT IN KEARNS CAR THEFT HELD

Asserted "Straight Eight" Bandit Arraigned on Six Counts of Robbery

Accused by authorities of having perpetrated a large number of daring robberies and burglaries, including the theft of an expensive car from Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, Ray E. Vincent yesterday was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard on two separate complaints charging six counts of robbery and burglary.

Judge Ballard set preliminary examination for the 24th inst., and fixed bail at $5000 for Vincent.

Vincent is named in the two complaints with Edward W. Xander, who, police say, has been apprehended in Salt Lake City and for whom extradition papers are now being sought.

R. G. McCoy, who, court attaches say, is really Vincent, will appear today before Judge Ballard for preliminary hearing on a third complaint charging robbery and burglary.

According to the charges in the joint complaints against Vincent and Xander, the two are asserted to have robbed Jack Kearns of an automobile belonging to Miss Helena McKernan, sister of the boxing manager, December 30, last.

The second joint complaint with Xander, charges burglary of several wealthy homes.

Bessie Erwin and Emily Luther, thought to be the wives of the two accused men, were later in the day arraigned before Judge Ballard on charges of receiving stolen property. The girls were arraigned on a joint complaint charging they had received valuable goods and expensive dresses obtained in the robbery of the Devendorf residence.

Judge Ballard set the 19th inst. for preliminary examination of the women and fixed bail at $1000 each.

White, director of the Manchester playground.

The principal speaker at yesterday's session was E. F. Ryland, president of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Commission. Others on the program were Secretary Charles S. Lamb, who gave a history of the recreation movement in this city; Supervisor Henderson, who told of the growth of the movement, and Supt. Hjelte in a talk on the responsibilities of recreation leaders.

Institute sessions will be continued on Friday morning and Tuesday and Thursday mornings of next week.

Wife Refuses Dictation as to Dance Partner

Mrs. Mary Rehm was ready to admit there are certain prerogatives attached to being a husband, but dictation of dancing partners is not one of them, she told Judge Summerfield yesterday. So when Lloyd Rehm tried to tell her she couldn't dance with anyone else she paid no attention, she said.

Rehm, according to her story, snatched her from the arms of her partner, took her home and locked her and another girl in a garage.

"But he forgot to take the pick handle out with him and we broke out a little later," she concluded triumphantly.

Judge Summerfield gave her a divorce.

CHEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS

ROBERT SAUCE

D. R., Sawtelle, Cal.—Finely mince a large onion and put it into a sauce-pan with butter. Fry the onion gently and without letting it acquire any color. Dilute with one-third pint of white wine, reduce the latter by one-third, add one pint of half-glaze, and leave to simmer for twenty minutes. When dishing up, finish the sauce with one tablespoonful of meat glaze, one teaspoonful of mustard, and one pinch of powdered sugar. If, when finished, the sauce has to wait, it should be kept warm in a bain-marie, as it must not boil again. This sauce, of a spicy flavor, is best suited to grilled and boiled pork.

ESCOFFIER ROBERT'S SAUCE

This sauce may be bought ready-made. It is used either hot or cold. It is especially suitable for pork, veal, poultry and even fish, and is generally used hot with grills after the equivalent of its volume of excellent brown stock has been added to it. It may also be served to accompany cold meat.

CANDIED CITRON

F. R., Fontana, Cal.—Cut the citron in quarters, place in a jar and cover with fresh water. Let stand six hours. Drain, and cover with fresh water. Repeat this every six hours for two days. Drain off the water, place the citron in a preserving kettle, add one level teaspoonful of alum for each three pounds of fruit. Six citron leaves, and enough cold water to cover. Bring to a boil and boil for forty-five minutes. Drain, rinse in cold water, place in the kettle, and pour over a syrup made with half a cupful of sugar to each two quarts of water. Boil forty-five minutes, add a pound of sugar for each pound of citron used. Boil six minutes. Remove the citron and boil the syrup for five minutes. Return the fruit to the syrup and boil seven minutes, repeat this process. Place the drained fruit on trays, fill hollow sides with sugar, and set in the sun until thoroughly dry. Fill the fruit every few days with more sugar.

CANDIED ORANGE PEEL

Select oranges with a bright and thick skin. Peel them and cut the rind into pieces of uniform size, about one-inch long by a quarter of an inch wide. Put the pieces into a saucepan, cover with cold water, bring almost to the boiling point, but do not boil. Pour off the scalding water and repeat this process twice again. Add to peel its own weight in granulated sugar, cover again with cold water, and boil until no syrup shows in the saucepan when it is held to the side. Spread on a buttered platter, and when partly cool roll in sugar.

You can use this same recipe for your candied lemon peel.

CANDIED CHERRIES

Place in a kettle four cupfuls of sugar and one cupful of water. Simmer until the sugar is dissolved, bring to a boil, add two pounds of pitted cherries, cook slowly until cherries are clear. Pour off the syrup, spread the cherries on plates, and dry in the sun or a slow oven. When dry sprinkle with sugar, and pack in layers in a tin box, and store in a dry place.

Note—It is impossible for the housewife to make marachino cherries.

NUT AND CHEESE ROAST

H. L. A., Long Beach—Heat one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of chopped onion and two tablespoonfuls of water. Cook until the onion is tender. Add one cupful of chopped walnut meats, one cupful of grated cheese, one cupful of bread crumbs and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Pour into a shallow baking dish and brown in the oven.

SAUCE FOR SPAGHETTI

H. T. S., San Diego—Soak one-fourth of a cupful of dried mushrooms with one cupful of hot water for half an hour. Drain, save the water and chop the mushrooms. Place in a saute pan, four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, one finely chopped onion, two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley, cook until the onion is clear, then add two tablespoonfuls of Italian tomato paste (conserve,) or one cupful of tomatoes, the chopped mushrooms and the mushroom water. One cupful of beef stock, and a seasoning of pepper and salt. Simmer slowly for forty-five minutes. Pour over half a pound of spaghetti that is boiled in boiling salted water and drained in a colander. Serve grated cheese with it. Try this sauce on Tagliarini, which is a far finer Italian paste than spaghetti.

FRUIT BARS

H. M., Pasadena—Beat to a cream three-quarters of a cupful of shortening, beat into it three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, half a cupful of molasses, and three slightly beaten eggs. Sift six cupfuls of sifted flour with one and a half teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one and a half teaspoonfuls of grated nutmeg and six level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add the flour mixture to the first mixture, with three-quarters of a cupful of water, and work to a smooth dough. Add one and a half cupfuls of seedless raisins, one cupful of seeded raisins and one cupful of chopped nut meats. Divide the mixture into pieces the size of an orange, roll out in long strips the length of the baking pan, place on the pans three inches apart and flatten with the hands. Brush with an egg beaten with a teaspoonful of water, and sprinkle with granulated sugar. Bake in a moderate oven, cool and cut in narrow slices.

FRENCH CRULLERS

T. E., Los Angeles—For the French crullers, place two cupfuls of water, half a cupful of shortening and half a cupful of butter in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, and while boiling stir in quickly two and three-quarter cupfuls of sifted flour, sifted two times, with half a level teaspoonful of salt, beat briskly until a smooth paste is formed, and take quickly from the fire. Turn into a bowl, cool slightly, and beat in two cupfuls of whole eggs, and beat five minutes after the eggs are added. Place the mixture in a canvas decorating bag with a small star tube, one-third of an inch in diameter at the small end. Cut sheets of cardboard one inch smaller than the diameter of the pot that the crullers are to be fried in, grease the pieces of cardboard, press on these the cruller mixture from the pastry bag, forming small circles, let the formed crullers stand for five minutes and then turn them from the cardboard into the deep, hot fat, and fry a nice brown. Drain on a wire rack and when cold dust with sifted powdered sugar.

RHUBARB AND GINGER JAM

G. C. F., Los Angeles—Place in a preserving kettle one pound of peeled and cut rhubarb, two cupfuls of sugar, the grated rind of half a lemon, half a teaspoonful of ground ginger, one tablespoonful of finely chopped blanched almonds, bring slowly to a boil, stir often and boil until a little will set when tried on a cold plate. Pour into hot jars, seal and store.

MAYFAIR CLUB WILL GIVE DINNER-DANCE

A dinner-dance followed by an entertainment to be staged under the direction of Harry Rapf will be given by the Mayfair Club at the Biltmore next Saturday night. Rapf, who was with Gus Edwards in the years when the latter was staging his "School Days" revue in vaudeville, will present a revue with a cast including several of the former Edwards players who now are in pictures in Hollywood. Eddie Cantor, Lila "Cuddles" Lee and Buster Keaton will be among the principals. The Mayfair Club was organized last fall as a social organization in the screen colony and has held a number of attractive entertainments. Its board of directors includes Fred Niblo, president; Charles Christie, vice-president; Irving C. Thalberg, secretary; M. C. Levee, treasurer, and Joseph M. Schenck, Conrad Nagel, Sid Grauman, Benjamin Schulberg and Edwin Loeb.

IMPATIENT BANDITS TAKE CASH OF STORE

Two impatient bandits entered the Piggly Wiggly store at 4325 Avalon Boulevard during daylight yesterday, covered H. L. Mathews, the proprietor, with their guns and forced him to give them the contents of the till—approximately $78. After ordering Mathews to hand over the money, both bandits made a grab for the open drawer. One bandit, described as an Italian, got the money; the other, described as an American, clutched frantically in thin air.

WILL WORK TOGETHER AGAIN

Paul Stein, So Good, Will Direct Irene Rich in Her Next; That Goes, Too, for Tim McCoy and Van Dyke; Korda's First National Tear-Teaser

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Talk about that professional team the Gold Dust Twins, they have nothing whatever on the combination of Paul Stein and Irene Rich when it comes to splendid teamwork.

IRENE RICH

So successful has been this equation of director and star in their former pictures, say the Warner Brothers, that they have again assigned Stein to direct Miss Rich in her next picture.

The picture will be a film version of Clyde Fitch's "The Climbers," with Graham Baker handling the job of scenarist.

Stein, it will be remembered, directed Miss Rich in "Don't Tell the Wife" and "My Official Wife." At present Stein is aiding in the editing of "Don't Tell the Wife" as well as helping in the preparation for the production of the Fitch play. His gift of satire should stand him in good stead in directing the drama of social life.

Production on the new Irene Rich vehicle is to begin in about two weeks. In the meantime, casting is going forward nicely.

Ditto for M.-G.-M. Team

Now that Tim McCoy has got going, as they say on the range, on his historical dramas for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and now that he has found W. S. Van Dyke keen for that sort of thing, he and M.-G.-M. see no reason why Van Dyke shouldn't train right along with him as director of his next historical picture.

COL. TIM McCOY

That, indeed, is exactly the logical plan which M.-G.-M. have in mind, therefore, when McCoy starts work on his next production, an original story by Peter B. Kyne, it will be Van Dyke who will direct, according to announcement by Bernard Hymann, studio producer.

Van Dyke, well known for several years as a director of western pictures, directed McCoy in "Winners of the Wilderness" and in "War Paint," both of which promise to be successes. "Winners of the Wilderness" was an original story based on a romance which had a French and Indian War background. Joan Crawford and Roy D'Arcy appear in it with McCoy.

Production of the new story, as yet untitled, is scheduled to begin within the week.

Madge Bellamy Wanted

While I understand nothing definite in regard to the matter is yet settled, still we hear that Herbert Brenon very much wants Madge Bellamy as his leading woman for his next Lasky picture, "The Woman," from William De Mille's stage play.

MADGE BELLAMY

Miss Bellamy naturally very much wants to play the part, too. She is just finishing a picture with Fox Films, however, this being her last under her Fox contract; and whether she will get through her present role in time to do the other picture is not certain.

The star's popularity both with the theater-going public and the critics has lately gone ahead by leaps and bounds, until she is now considered a splendid box-office asset.

"The Woman" is to be made at the Paramount Long Island studio, and Miss Bellamy will be leaving for the East within a day or two in case she plays the role.

Call It "Stolen Bride"

The first work as a director for First National Pictures to be performed by Alexander Korda will be the making of a picture rejoicing in the hectic title of "The Stolen Bride."

This fact was announced yesterday by John McCormick, general manager of West Coast production, who also told us that the story is an original by Carey Wilson, who will also produce the picture for First National.

"The Stolen Bride" has a European setting, and is said to be dramatically of the quality which made Korda noted in Europe, where he was one of the most successful of the UFA directors.

Accompanied by his wife, Maria Korda, the director arrived recently from Europe, where he has already signed a long-term contract with First National.

Production on the picture will commence about the middle of February.

Eddie Lowe in Training

Working in the films gives one a liberal education, according to Edmund Lowe. As proof he cites the fact that not long since he studied to become a hard-boiled fighting man of the Marine Corps, viz, Sergt. Quirt of "What Price Glory," and now he is deeply engrossed in learning all about managers of prize fighters for his role in "Is Zat So?"

Edmund Lowe

To which end he is spending much time with Tom Gallery at the American Legion headquarters in Hollywood, getting a close-up of pugs weighing in and the other activities connected with the squared ring. When he is not with Gallery he is an interested visitor at Jack Dempsey's training quarters, where he is absorbing atmosphere which he will apply to his delineation in "Is Zat So?"

Raymond McKee Will Travel

Raymond McKee is planning a world tour with his wife, Marguerite Courtot McKee and Junior McKee. The journey is not to be undertaken for several months, however, as he is still working under contract to Mack Sennett.

The actor means to take a year for the trip, visiting both Europe and the Orient.

T. Roy Barnes in It

T. Roy Barnes, cut-up of many a musical comedy, is now going to romp through a drama for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. He will have the role of the postman in "The Branding Iron," which Reginald Barker will direct.

T. ROY BARNES

The Kathryn Newlin Burt story of the Swiss Alps is to be interpreted on the screen by an all-star cast which will include Lionel Barrymore, Aileen Pringle and Ralph Forbes.

Most of the story will be filmed among the highest snow-covered peaks of the Great Divide in Colorado, to which point Director Barker went last week in search of proper locations.

Warners Sign Writer

Another writer was added to the Warner Brothers' contract list yesterday, according to an announcement from that studio. He is Johnnie Grey, well known as a veteran scenario writer and comedy constructor.

Grey was immediately given his first story to adapt. It is "Tracked by the Police," Rin-Tin-Tin's next starring vehicle, which will be directed by Ray Enright.

Grey has been in the motion-picture writing game since 1913, when he wrote the Arthur B. Reeve Craig-Kennedy serials. He has been an independent producer and has written stories for Paramount, Sennett, Roach and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Otto Matieson Signs

Otto Matieson has been signed for an important role in Mildred Davis's Paramount picture, "Too Many Crooks."

SEASON OPENS WITH FLOURISH

San Carlo Company Proffers Excellent "Carmen"

Gentle Renews Success in Title Role

Tenor Gains Fine Ovation for Flower Songs

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The San Carlo Grand Opera Company is with us again, and judging by a spirited opening performance that met with enthusiastic acclaim this now justly famous touring organization that has done valiant service for fully a decade, is going to afford no end of satisfaction during their three weeks' engagement.

"Carmen" was the opening bill last night at Philharmonic. Alice Gentle, who has appeared here many times in the title role, gained plaudits once again for a splendid dramatic and singing performance, and shared approval with an unusually excellent company. Particularly noteworthy was the success of Franco Tafuro in the role of Don Jose.

Fortuna Gallo has seldom offered a more adequate presentation as a premier of a season. With minor exceptions the voices all seemed notably good, and there was unity of effort in the production that was exceptional.

The San Carlo has become veritably an institution, and outside of the one matter of repertoire, maintains if it does not enhance the standard of its opera-giving from year to year.

Insistent applause was frequent throughout the work. Miss Gentle gained much of it for the familiar "Habanera," "Seguidilla" and Card Song, but probably the primary ovation went to Tafuro for his beautiful rendition of the Flower Song. Only Lucien Muratore has, perhaps, sung this with more fervor here in recent years. Tafuro has a voice of attractive quality, dependable power, and shades more than effectually. His climax to the aria was superb, and deserved an encore. The audience was so destrous of this repetition that they broke in for a few moments on the succeeding music, it having been surmised that Director Carlo Peroni was on the point of conceding to the wish expressed in the hand-clapping and bravos.

To say that Alice Gentle has individualized the Carmen role, and made it entirely her own in a popular way, is at this late date almost to reiterate an axiom. With only a very few exceptions, she has invariably triumphed in this portrayal, since she first gave nearly a dozen seasons ago, and attained an immediate success.

Her performance last evening was according to the best traditions that she has established for herself. She imbued the character with vigor and meaning, and above all a down-to-earth naturalness that had victory with her most of the time, and was only surpassed in vocal success by Tafuro.

Loreno Conati can be reckoned an acceptable Escamillo. His voice was clear, if not remarkable in volume in the Toreador Song, and he appears in the class of dependable singers, whom Gallo seems especially successful in bringing together.

A new bass, Andrea Mongelli, made his debut here in Zuniga. His voice sounded fairly promising within the limited opportunities of that role. In quality and resonance it was notably fine. Interest should surround his singing of the High Priest Ramfis tonight in "Aida."

Alice Homer as Micaela pleased with her clear-cut singing, marred only by the slightest tinge of throatiness. She sang with both sentiment and intelligence. She won bravos for the third act aria.

Good old Natale Cervi, veteran buffo of the troupe (at least, he must be a veteran buffo,) was on the stage as one of the smugglers, and took part in the quintet which was given at a lively tempo. In addition to Miss Gentle and Cervi, Francesco Curci, Philine Falco and Beatrice Schaiker were two others in this ensemble. Their association together in its presentation, which goes back a season or so, seems to have added unusual animation to the rendition of this effective concerted number.

Incidental dances during the production were done by the ballet headed by Norma Wilson. She took the place of two principal dancers programed, who were indisposed. Feroni gained approbation for his conducting.

A varied and popular selection of operas will be presented during the season, which this year will be a week longer than usual. It is evident that the San Carlo company, as always, is welcome.

Comedy Team in "Loose Ankles" Refuse Vaudeville Offer

Proudly displaying a telegram from a big eastern vaudeville circuit offering them a fifty-two week engagement, Ken Browne and Art Miner, two wise-cracking gigolos in Louis O. Macloon's comedy hit, "Loose Ankles" at the Playhouse, yesterday spurned the tempting theatrical dish to remain on the Pacific Coast, to continue entertaining appreciative audiences with their team work.

Both Browne and Miner have toured various circuits and in spite of the fabulous salaries of the vaudeville stage, they are not so keen on returning as long as Macloon can keep them busy, they say.

Macloon has decided to send "Loose Ankles" to San Francisco for an engagement at the Columbia Theater starting the 31st inst., and both Browne and Miner have signified their eagerness at making their first appearance there in a comedy farce The final performance will be given here the 29th inst.

SCHOOLMATES WILL HONOR FORMER CHUM

Several of the upper classes of the Huntington Park High School will attend the Orange Grove tonight in honor of their former classmate, Parmelia Vernon, who plays an important role in "One Man's Woman."

Miss Vernon, said to be a graduate of the 1925 semester, has been engaged in screen and stage work since her high-school days and her role in Michael Kallesser's play at the Orange Grove is reported as being one of the most important engagements of her career.

Headed by Madge Smith, Ruth Lawrence and other former classmates, the delegation of high-school students will come to Los Angeles in a body and will present several large baskets of flowers to their former chum.

Miss Vernon is supporting Mabel Forrest and Harland Tucker in the play.

From Factory to Consumer

Jobyna Ralston and Harold Lloyd, Who appear in "The Kid Brother" which will open at the Million Dollar Theater Thursday.

"AUCTIONEER" IS MERITORIOUS

Another stage play is making its debut as a motion picture this week.

It is the Belasco success, "The Auctioneer," which was made famous in New York by the David Warfield, in the leading role, interpreted on the screen by George Sydney.

"The Auctioneer" had its first showing as a screen play at the Pantages Theater yesterday afternoon. A clever mixture of comedy and pathos, and exceptional acting on the part of the entire cast made the production one of unusual merit.

As the sly but wholly lovable "auctioneer," George Sydney scored a new triumph. His performance proved the highlight of the entire afternoon's entertainment.

Charming Marion Nixon and Gareth Hughes, provided the romantic interest in the plot, while Sammy Cohen and Doris Lloyd added much to the film in their roles.

Little 3-year-old Carmencita Johnston, who took the role of the child in the first part of the production, proved herself to be a splendid little trouper.

Headlining the vaudeville entertainment was "Pirate Treasure," a review of songs and dances, and "Miss Norma and her Golden Violin," an instrument that to all appearances played simply at the request of its mistress any tune desired by members of the audience, and without being touched by a bow.

Beautiful lighting effects, elaborate costuming and unusual settings characterized the act "Pirate Treasure."

"The Golden Violin," proved a mystery. Miss Norma, not content to simply astound her listeners from the stage, brought the instrument among the audience and permitted sceptical parties to hold it while it performed.

The comedy sketch on the program was offered by Eddie Carr and Company in an act entitled "The Big Oil Man." As an oil shark salesman, Mr. Carr provided plenty of laughs in his endeavor to dispose of innumerable banana-oil wells, cod- liver oil wells, and, in fact, wells of every description.

"Dashington's Dogs," "Aaron and Kelly" and "Labonati, the Musical Fiend," provided the remainder of the vaudeville entertainment.

Short film offerings completed the bill.

Many Parties Arranged for Opening Night

Notable among those who will attend the premiere of Wilkes's Vine-street Theater tomorrow night is a party of six who will be the guests of Patrick Kearney, the dramatizer of Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy," which will be the opening play of the new showhouse. This party includes Pola Negri, Prince Divani and Baron von Koczin.

Mayor Cryer and his party will be a conspicuous figure for this event, and a partial list of the others, with their parties, include M. M. Mines, C. E. Toberman, J. J. Costello, Roscoe Arbuckle, Mrs. J. Elsner, Mrs. M. P. Illitch (Kathleen Clifford,) Mrs. Eugene V. Brewster (Corliss Palmer,) Carl Laemmle, Priscilla Dean, Ned Sparks, Ruth Roland, Mabel Julienne Scott, Emmett Corrigan, Jetta Goudal, Cecil B. De Mille, Arthur Lubin, W. H. Houser and Otto Matiesen.

Dedicating the new theater as the home for the production of legitimate drama, Frank K. Galloway will act as master of ceremonies for the opening night.

FRIENDS WILL BE THERE FOR OPENING

When Tom Wilkes, theatrical manager, reopens the Majestic Thursday night with "The Ghost Train," a New York and London success, many of his friends throughout Southern California will be in the audience.

In his new production Mr. Wilkes will feature Charlotte Treadway and Percy Wood in the leading roles. Others in the cast include Hal Livingston, Stuart Ervin, Percy Challenger, Harry Jardan, Malcolm Moulder, Myrtle Vane, Katherine Prather, Virginia Stone and Richard Carter.

Among the recent plays handled under the direction of Mr. Wilkes were "Topsy and Eva," "Nervous Wreck," "The Fool," and "In Love With Love." Rehearsals for "The Ghost Train," are being conducted under the direction of Virginia Brissac and Max Pollak.

COMMUNITY HAS FANTASTIC PLAY

Pasadena Theater Houses Wierd Fable of the Cruel Lady "Turandot"

"Turandot," presented this week by the Pasadena Community Players under the direction of Gilmore Brown, is a diverting hodge-podge of the ancient and the modern.

Carli Gozzi, an Eighteenth century Italian playwright wrote "Turandot" from an extravagant tale appearing in "The Thousand and One Nights." In this he followed the style of improvised comedy, with references to his Italy in a story of old China. The community players have brought the entertaining and nonsensical fantasy farther up to the minute with allusions to various local characters of the day.

"Turandot" is a tale of a cruel princess averse to matrimony who compels her royal suitors to solve three riddles or be beheaded. It is the Prince of Astrakhan who solves the riddles and wins the heart of the flint-like maiden.

The very informality of the play is its most commendable feature. The cast acts in the aisles of the theater, in the balcony, and, in fact, from every part of the theater. Friends are greeted in the audience, and personal remarks are directed to them from the stage itself.

Settings of the play are elaborate and fanciful in the extreme. There are seven scenes in all.

If there is a fault to be found with the production it is in the somewhat blatant manner of reading of lines. If there was any subtlety to the play, a moot question, it was lost in the general din raised throughout the production.

Beatrice Prentice achieved the one true oriental characterization of the cast in the role of Turandot, the cruel princess. She was the personification of the beautiful, cold, inscrutable lady of the legend, capable of turning into a warm-hearted woman only when at last she found lover capable of solving her three riddles. Miss Prentice's costumes were exquisite.

Calaf, Prince of Astrakhan, was excellently portrayed by Jerome Coray. Mr. Coray finds his particular forte in romantic roles. Daniel Acosta was impressive as the Emperor of China, and Leslyn MacDonald showed dramatic skill of a high order in the brief role of a slave girl.

Ralph Freud as Truffaldino, chief eunuch of Turandot's harem, very nearly stole the honors of the evening with a delightful comedy performance.

With a cast so large it is impossible to mention all those who appeared but among those who scored were Curtis C. Arnall, Louis Courell, Keaton Arnett, Dr. William Edler, Harriet Coleman and Leslyn MacDonald.

Settings and costumes were designed by James Hyde.

The final performance of "Turandot" will be given Saturday night.

COMONT TRANSLATES COMEDIES

Mathilde Comont, vivacious comedienne who will soon be seen 'n "The Wrong Mr. Wright," has undertaken the translation of several old French farces. Among these are some comedies in which Mme. Comont played when she was a Parisian star, several seasons ago.

REMARKABLE CHARACTERIZATION

David Butler, who plays the role of Gobin in Fox Film version of "Seventh Heaven," is said to present a remarkable character study of the French street washer.

INTERMISSION

"Flesh and the Devil" Bertha Kalich Monday Wilkes's New Thriller

by Herbert Moulton

John Gilbert and Greta Garbo—a combination that will doubtless cause many heart palpitations—will be seen at the Forum soon in what is hailed as the most sensational picture of the year, "Flesh and the Devil."

GRETA GARBO

Announcement was made yesterday that this film version of Herman Sudermann's "The Undying Past" would follow "Beau Geste" at the Pico-street house. The contract between the Forum and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, where the picture was produced, calls for an elaborate presentation on a two-a-day policy.

When Clarence Brown undertook to make "Flesh and the Devil" it was intended that it should be a program picture, according to studio officials. Long before it was finished, however, there were indications that it would, like "The Big Parade," turn out to be a special. The scope of the story was "enlarged and additional money expended on its production. Brown was told to go the limit. He did.

JOHN GILBERT

The picture exceeded all expectations at the studio and instead of releasing it as a program film, to have a continuous showing at the weekly-change houses, it was decided to release it as a road show.

Preparations are now under way at the Forum for the most elaborate presentation in the theater's history. The first-night showing, which probably will occur early next month, will be a pretentious affair—tuxedoes, lights, limousines, etc.

Sudermann's story is based on sociological conditions in Europe. From a directorial standpoint it is said to be unique. Brown has created in celluloid—with the capable aid of Miss Garbo and Mr. Gilbert—some of the most exotic love scenes of cinema history.

In fact, I understand it was difficult at times to keep the celluloid from bursting into flame . . .

Another dramatic creation of Herman Sudermann's will be given here soon.

This time it is a spoken presentation, the famous "Magda," with that most capable of tragediennes, Bertha Kalich, in the star role. It will open at the Biltmore Monday night.

BERTHA KALICH

"Magda" has been something of a sensation wherever produced. It was staged by the Potboilers here last year.

Although a favorite of long standing, its theme remains ultramodern, dealing with the familiar problem of a young girl's revolt against parental control and her efforts to marry the man of her choice instead of a hand-picked hubby.

With Miss Kalich will come the cast of players who appeared with her in New York.

What else but a hair-raising melodrama could anything be with a name like "The Ghost Train?"

CHARLOTTE TREADWAY

With the current flair for sex plays, theological dramas and the girly-girly shows, Tom Wilkes evidently thought it would be the psychological moment for a real thriller.

Accordingly, he is making plans to reopen the Majestic with one of London's greatest melodramatic successes, "The Ghost Train," which will have its premiere here Thursday night.

Charlotte Treadway, formerly of the Morosco, and more recently in the Arthur Freed production of "Rain," will play the leading feminine role. Percy Wood will appear opposite her.

Grauman Goes Back Century for Prologue

"One hundred Years Ago," tentatively selected by Sid Grauman as the title of the prologue with which he will usher in "Old Ironsides," the production on which Paramount spent $2,000,000 and two years of effort, gives the first indication of the nature of the stage spectacle to greet his first night audience be staged in Grauman's Egyptian Theater the night of the 28th inst.

In line with his custom of reserving the features of his stage creations for the first glimpses of his premiere audiences, Grauman is not revealing the exact nature of his spectacle.

The prologue artificer is holding daily conferences with batteries of scenic artists, electrical lighting experts and stage technicians in addition to holding continual tryouts of artists summoned from all parts of the country to appear in the stage spectacle.

The glory of the American Navy at the beginning of its career being the theme of the James Cruze production, Grauman is sparing no expense or pains to make his latest prologue creation transcend in brilliance and beauty the previous spectacles that have attended film productions big enough to have a showing in his picturesque Hollywood playhouse.

PAPERS MISSING IN BRIBE CASE

Entire File Removed from Clerk's Office

Appeal of Convicted Attorney Will be Delayed

San Diego Officials Continue Search

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 17.—Disappearance of the principal original records of the Kempley?Selleck bribe case from the County Clerk's office here is a serious blow to his hope of a reversal of the jury's verdict by the higher courts, Chester Kempley convicted former District Attorney, said today.

The files of the bribe case, containing the indictments, affidavits, motions, etc., of the case have been missing from the Courthouse since January 3, officials have admitted.

"Not only will it delay our appeal indefinitely," Kempley said, "but it will be extremely difficult to replace many of the affidavits on which we are basing our appeal." The theft of these records is aimed directly at us, first time, Adam Thompson, chief not at the prosecution." For the counsel for the defense, admitted that an attempt was made during the process of the famous trial to have Judge Edwin Hahn direct the jury to acquit the former District Attorney and his chief aid.

"Among the thirty or more written instructions which the defense submitted to Hahn at the conclusion of the taking of evidence, was one asking for a directed verdict," the attorney said, "and on this instruction we listed a large number of California cttations."

That this instruction and the others, with notations by the judge, were included in the missing files and would be extremely difficulty to replace, was stated by Thompson.

"It probably will be necessary for us to write to Judge Hahn in\Los Angeles and depend on his memory for the notations made by him on our instructions, some of which were accepted, others given to the jury as modified and others rejected," Thompson said.

The fact that the files are missing will delay the appeal for at least a month, it was admitted.

Although the files have been missing for twelve days, a futile search was still being made today by the County Clerk to see if some one could possibly have placed them in the wrong filing case.

Tourists Pour Into Pasadena Winter Hotels

PASADENA, Jan. 17.—The present influx of easterners into Southern California, which promises to swell the population of the Southland to unprecedented proportions, continues to be manifested by large daily arrivals at the leading Pasadena hotels.

Harrison B. Riley, president of the Chicago Title and Trust Company, and Mrs. Riley, who is prominent in the National Drama League, are among the latest arrivals at the Hotel Maryland, where they customarily spend the winter.

Charles C. Cook, president of the Hartford (Ct.) Chamber of Commerce, is again at the Maryland after an absence of two years.

P. D. Stimson, prominent shipping magnate and capitalist of Seattle, is expected at the Hotel Huntington in a few days. Mrs. Stimson arrived today.

W. J. Carney of Chicago, head of large coal interests, is another new arrival at the Maryland and plans to remain for the season.

Another visitor is T. D. McGraw, prominent business man of Toronto, Can., who went to Santa Monica today to congratulate his youthful fellow-yournaman, George Young, on conquering the Catalina Channel.

TELEPHONE WORKMAN KILLED AT REDLANDS

REDLANDS, Jan. 17.—Burl Wood, 213 Brookside avenue, was almost instantly killed in the Southern Pacific yards west of the freight house when caught under a load of telephone poles today.

He was assisting other employees of the Southwestern Home Telephone Company in unloading the poles. When the side poles began to snap and the warning call came to get from under he started for the end zone of safety. His foot tripped on a rail and he went sprawling. Either his head struck and he was stunned or there was not time for him to get out of the way and he was caught under the poles that crashed to the ground.

Workmen frantically lifted the poles from his body and found his head terribly crushed. It was known that he was badly injured, but he was rushed to the hospital. He died on the way. Probably his back was crushed by the load of poles also.

LARGE CROP COMES FROM COTTON GINS

CALEXICO, Jan. 17.—Cotton ginnings in this district passed the 60,000 bales mark Saturday, according to figures made public by the five local gins today.

The reports show that 3198 bales were turned out during the week, the largest production being at the H. H. Clark gins, where the cutput was 1579. Field men estimate that there are from 10,000 to 15,000 bales still in the fields to be harvested. Reports from the Yuma district show that 25,573 bales have been ginned to date.

GIRL SWALLOWS POISON

VENICE, Jan. 17.—A reproof given by her mother today caused Catherine Seabill, 15 years of age, of 1023 Tracy street, to swallow poison, according to a police report. Police Surgeon Salyn treated her at Venice Receiving Hospital and she is expected to recover.

MICE ON THE MARCH

Rodent Army Continues to Invade Towns and Ranches on Retreat From Lake Bed

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 17.—In close-packed herds, in tiny bunches, in straggling columns, singly and in pairs, Kern county's mouse army is marching toward Bakersfield. The vanguard had reached Belleview ranch this morning, two miles west of Stockdale ranch and just seven miles from this city.

A survey of the mouse migration today developed the following facts:

No great damage has been done by the invaders. The situation is well in hand at Taft, according to C. H. Bowen, deputy county horticultural commissioner, though small bunches of mice are said to have broken through the lines of poisoned grain to invade houses at Maricopa.

The mouse hordes have swarmed onto Buena Vista ranch, ten miles north of Lake Buena Vista. They have besieged Canfield ranch after moving east along the Taft highway toward Bakersfield.

Using inadequate mouse traps and all the poisoned grain they can get, farmers between Bakersfield and the stampeding mice are making every attempt to stop their advance.

Scurrying from their burrows in the dry bed of Lake Buena Vista, the mice have fled from the lake bed apparently to escape the floods from heavy rains and travelled the following distances in their migration to higher grounds: Lake, west to Taft, eight miles; to Maricopa eleven miles; north of Buena Vista ranch, ten miles and northeast to Belleview ranch, fifteen miles.

Court's Delay May Liberate Accused Man

SANTA ANA, Jan. 17.—Guadalupe Salcido, styled the "bicycle burglar" because of his asserted nefarious exploits in several homes at Villa Park last summer, may go free because of delay in pressing his prosecution. His attorney, Joseph Marquette, has moved dismissal of two burglary charges hanging over the Mexican.

Marquette's motion was based upon the assertion that the cases had not been brought to trial within sixty days after the informations were filed in court. Such a lapse of time constitutes a bar to further prosecution, it is said. The motion was made when Dep. Dist.-Atty. Roy V. Shafer asked that the two cases be set for trial. Judge Homer Ames took the motion under advisement while the court records are being examined. A decision was promised next Friday. Should it be found that the delay had taken place at the request of the defense, the dismissal motion would probably be denied, it was predicted.

Salcido was accused of committing burglary at the home of John S. Allen and two other near-by dwellings. He was placed at the County Hospital after his first trial for observation as to his mental condition. He escaped from the hospital, but was subsequently recaptured.

Loses in Long Fight Against Facing Trial

VISALIA, Jan. 17.—Dist.-Atty. Leroy McCormick and Deputy Sheriff Ben Gurr of Tulare county returned to Visalia this morning from Salt Lake City with C. Francis Osborne, formerly of Tulare, in custody, who will face charges of fraud, including embezzlement and forgery.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in securing Osborne's extradition, Gov. Dern of Utah refusing to sign the first requisition papers which were sent to the Utah capital by Gurr the last of December. Other papers were prepared last week and taken personally to Gov. Young of California and then to the Utah Governor by McCormick.

Osborne is accused of having accepted payments from contract purchasers of pump machinery after he no longer represented the company and of appropriating these sums to his own use. Date of his preliminary hearing has not been set and he is held in the Tulare County Jail. Officials of Tulare city and county had sought him since last April, the trail leading over several States. He was arrested in Salt Lake City.

BANQUET IN HONOR OF COUNTY OFFICER

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 17.—More than 150 persons are expected to attend a banquet to be given Thursday night in the Garden Grove Women's Civic clubhouse in honor of T. B. Talbert, returned chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

John Mitchell, Talbert's successor, and William Schumacher, also a Supervisor, will be in charge of invitations. The affair will be strictly a Garden Grove event, according to George R. Reyburn, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who is in charge of the dinner. A program of speaking and music will feature the banquet. F. R. Fitz, superintendent of Garden Grove elementary schools, will be toastmaster. Charles Hollis is chairman of the entertainment committee.

BURNS PROVE FATAL

HANFORD, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Benito Gomez, wife of Jesus Gomez, a farm laborer employed on the Thomas Peterson ranch near Delta View, died at a local hospital late last night from burns received when her clothing caught fire from an explosion of coal oil with which she attempted to start a kitchen fire several days ago.

With Mrs. Gomez at the time were her 6-months-old babe and friend, Mrs. Eva Rodrigues, another Mexican woman, who was caring for the child. The husband was at work in the field.

With her clothing in flames, Mrs. Gomez ran out of the house and plunged into an irrigation ditch, but not until she had been so badly burned that she failed to make recovery.

Pay Taxes to Keep Schools From Closing

FRESNO, Jan. 17.—Prospects are very bright for obtaining sufficient money to obviate the necessity for closing of the San Joaquin grammar school and the grammar and high schools at Tranquillity, it was announced today by Dr. Herman Janss, head of the San Joaquin Valley Farm Lands, following a conference with county officials and school authorities.

Failure of the Farm Lands Company to meet tax and reclamation-district levies has placed the schools and Reclamation District 1606 in straitened circumstances financially, and closing of the schools for lack of funds was imminent. The Farm Lands Company was approximately $75,000 in arrears, it was said by county officials. It was said that the company has agreed to make a substantial payment of delinquent taxes, provided the money is turned solely into educational channels, the sum, it is understood, being sufficient to cover school costs for the remainder of the school year. While declining to reveal any of the details of the plan, Janss said he expected that the matter will be satisfactorily adjusted tomorrow.

CADDIE HOUSE IS LOOTED BY THIEVES

CAHUENGA PARK, Jan. 17.—Valley division police today record a new kind of theft in which all sorts of golf equipment, including a large number of balls were the objects of the burglars. According to their report a thief or thieves broke into one of the large caddie houses of the Hollywood Country Club near here, and made away with $500 in all kinds af paraphernalia. In the loot were a number of golf coats, several score of golf bags and clubs, several gross of balls and other articles left in the caddie house by members who use the grounds. It is the belief of the police that an automobile was used to cart away the things that were stolen. There is no clew to the burglars.

TO BUILD ADDITION TO GLENDALE CHURCH

GLENDALE, Jan. 17.—Plans for the construction of an addition to the First Methodist Church, Kenwood and Wilson streets, are under consideration by the official board of the church, and specifications and plans will be submitted by a special committee at a meeting with the board tonight.

The proposed addition, which is estimated to cost $200,000, will house the Sunday-school plant of nine departments and will also include a large gymnasium and other features. It will be erected on two lots adjoining the church and the architecture will harmonize with that of the present structure.

MERCHANTS ELECT OFFICERS

GLENDALE, Jan. 17.—Albert G. Cornwell, hardware merchant, and head of the firm of Cornwell & Kelly, was elected today as president of the Glendale Merchants Association, succeeding Lyman P. Clark, at the annual meeting of the organization. J. Ray Bentley was elected vice-president and George H. Thomas, treasurer. Walter P. Potter remains in office as general manager of the association. The board this year will consist of W. G. Lauderdale, Ed Nisle, J. Ray Bentley and George H. Thomas with Mr. Cornwell and H. M. Buttes holding over from last year.

DEATH IS RESULT OF SHOOTING

Infuriated Ranch Worker Said to Have Killed Mexican Near Bakersfield

Roberto Cobla, 35-year-old farm hand at the Di Giorgio ranch in the Ervin district, southeast of here, was shot to death late last night at the ranch by an infuriated gunman, and Mrs. Concha Roja, victim of a stray bullet, was painfully injured. Late today deputy sheriffs still were seaching for Antonio Jaurigue, 25, commonly known as Marino, as the asserted killer, who fled after firing three shots into the defenseless man. Jaurigue also is a worker at Green fruit ranch.

According to Deputy Sheriff Vance Brite, who together with Deputy Bob Prewitt and Tom Hildreth of the District Attorney's office, were called to the scene of the killing, there had been trouble between the two men, and frequently they had quarreled while at work.

Information obtained by the officers indicated that Cobla was visiting with friends at a little cabin on the Di Giorgio ranch. Jaurigue, armed with a .38-caliber revolver, went to the house, it is said, and demanded entrance. It is said that Anita Rodriguez, who with her husband, Cassias, was an occupant of the house, went to the door, grabbed the man's hand in which he held a leveled revolver, and then succeeded in shutting the door in his face.

The infatuated ranch hand attempted to break the door, and Cobla volunteered to go out, saying, "I'll go out and talk things over with him." As the man stepped out the door he closed it behind him, three shots shattered a momentary silence, and when the occupants of the house opened the door, Cobla was lying dead on the front steps, his head and body riddled with bullets, Jaurigue, it is said, was running from the scene of the killing.

Set Date for Bond Election in Beach City

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 17.—The $500,000 harbor bond issue will be voted on at a special Newport election February 14, it was announced today by Dr. Conrad Richter, president of the City Board of Trustees. The necessary steps to change the date will be taken tonight at a regular session of the Trustees.

Trustees were influenced to change the date by Kennedy & Sutherland, bond buyers, it was reported today by Dr. Richter. The bond buyers expressed themselves as willing to purchase the city bonds immediately. Trustees decided to call the election for an earlier date to accommodate the bond buyers, so that they would not have to keep money tied up for an additional two weeks.

Interest on the bonds will be cut from 6 per cent to 5½ per cent, according to a report given the Trustees by bond buyers. The Kennedy & Sutherland firm purchased the city bonds of $350,000 on the water system.

A mass meeting has been called for the 20th inst. at the school auditorium to discuss the bond issue. The mass meeting was called by the City Trustees, who appointed a representative committee from each section of the town to arrange the program. Members of the committee include H. O. Ensign, S. A. Meyer, F. R. Aldrich, A. H. Wilson, R. C. Bell, Glen Helms, Frank D. Lewis, H. Cardoza Sloan, Ben Cope, G. W. Kitzmiller, W. L. Jordan and C. H. Way.

FOG RESPONSIBLE, SAYS AUTO DRIVER

ALHAMBRA, Jan. 17.—Injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile on Huntington Drive Saturday, proved fatal to D. M. Stonecypher, 50 years of age, of 5137 Temple street, Los Angeles.

Stonecypher, who sustained a fractured leg, broken thigh and four broken ribs, died today in the Alhambra Hospital. He was a night watchman for a construction company. Date for the inquest which will be held at the funeral parlos of F. A. Utter & Son, has not been set.

Stonecypher was crossing the street when he was struck by a car driven by Paul Moore, 103 North Fourth street, this city. Moore ran his car over the curb in attempting to avoid the collision, he told police, and said that dense fog was responsible for his not seeing the man in time.

SYNDICATE SPENDS MILLION

Hotel Company Announces Building of Two Apartments in Pasadena

PASADENA, Jan. 17.—Construction of two new height-limit apartment buildings and other improvements in the vicinity of the Hotel Green is being planned by the Hotel Green Syndicate of which Frank C. Waterbury is president. The improvements, as planned, will cost more than $1,000,000.

The first large structure to go up will be a $500,000 apartment building at the southwest corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Dayton street, facing Central Park, Waterbury said today. Plans are being prepared by Postle & Son, Los Angeles architects, and construction will start as soon as the current widening of Green street is completed, which will not be for several months.

After the first apartment, which will be designed to accommodate 100 families, is completed, the syndicate plans to erect another of the same type between it and the Castle Green Apartments at Raymond avenue and Dayton street. This also will cost approximately $500,000, Waterbury stated.

At the completion of these projects, a row of low arcades on Raymond avenue between Dayton and Green will be built. Plans for these are in only a tentative state at present, but are being prepared by Postle & Son. The arcade row will be topped by a promenade which will enter the second story of the Castle Green.

Permits for the structures have not yet been taken out, but Waterbury said that the work will go ahead as soon as the Green-street improvements are completed.

TRAGEDIES TAKE LIFE OF THREE

Group of Week-end Accidents Have Fatal Termination in Ventura County

VENTURA, Jan. 17.—Three persons were dead today following a series of tragedies in Ventura county over the week-end. Morris Caddell, 11 years of age, son of Mrs. Hazel Balles, 402 N street, Santa Paula, was burned to death in a midnight fire which destroyed the family home. An unidentified man, apparently 70 years of age, ended his life by turning on the gas in a cabin at the Wilson Auto Camp. Carl Laven, 3666 Cimmarron street, Los Angeles, was fatally injured in an automobile accident on the Conejo grade.

When fire broke out in the Balles home firemen were not aware that anyone was in the house. The charred body of the Caddell boy was found near his bed, where he apparently was overcome as he attempted to escape from the flame-swept room. When the fire department arrived the house was in flames.

J. B. Morrison and family, who occupied part of the house, escaped uninjured. Firemen were informed that there was no one left in the building. When the fire was gotten under control, Mrs. Balles arrived frantically shouted, "Get Morris—he's inside!" Firemen rushed the house, fighting their way through smoke and flame and found the body burned beyond recognition on the floor near the bed.

Carl Laven was fatally injured and Emil Edwards, 1242 West Thirty-eighth street, Los Angeles, was seriously injured when Laven went to sleep at the wheel as they were coming down the Conejo grade. The sedan in which they were riding ran off the road, plunged over an embankment and turned over three times. Laven died in the County Hospital early this morning without regaining consciousness.

County Joins in Observing Thrift Week

VISALIA, Jan. 17.—National Thrift Week, the 17th to 22nd inst., will be observed more extensively in Tulare county this year than ever before, according to Charles L. Crumly, county Y.M.C.A. executive secretary and ex-officio secretary of the various thrift week campaign committees. Not only will this year's celebration be featured by the customary addresses to school students, advertising and poster campaigns, but parades will be given, adding something of a festive note to the week's events.

Tulare county has won special recognition throughout California in years past for her observance of thrift week, but this year indications generally point to even greater interest and a more successful program.

H. C. Carr, Porterville banker, who last year acted as county chairman, is acting in that capacity again this year.

ARGUE CLUB CASE

Orange County Sportsmen Hope to Reverse Lower Court

SANTA ANA, Jan. 17.—Argument commenced today before Superior Judge H. C. Ames in connection with appeals in the gun club cases by which attorneys for the Blue Wing Shooting Club and the West Shore Gun Club hope to upset convictions and fines for asserted waste of water.

Attorney L. A. West of Santa Ana, who opened argument before the court, was associated with George P. Adams, Los Angeles attorney, in the defense of the gun clubs. Dist.-Atty. West and Chief Deputy L. W. Blodget were in court to present the prosecution's side of the question when their turn came. Among the small group of spectators in the courtroom were members of a committee from the Orange County Farm Bureau. Justice Andrew H. Wilson of Newport Beach, who heard the trial of the Blue Wing Club, while presiding temporarily in Santa Ana justice court last fall, was also a spectator. In launching his argument Attorney L. A. West attacked the complaint against the gun clubs on technical grounds and devoted exhaustive discourse to proving what he declared to be defects in the formal charge against the clubs. The complaint, he said, was defective because it failed to negative exceptions contained in the statute defining waste of water.

Seven Listed in Reports of Accidents

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 17.—Automobile and industrial accidents in Kern county Sunday resulted in the serious injury of seven persons, reports from Bakersfield hospitals show. Six of those injured were victims of automobile crashes caused by slippery highways and mountain roads, made wet by drizzling rain.

Those injured are J. A. Boggie, Bakersfield, bruises and cuts on head and face; Mrs. J. A. Boggie, broken wrist, possible fracture of skull; Mrs. Mary Martin, Glennville, fractured skull, condition critical; Lita Buschman, Los Angeles, ear and head lacerated; J. H. McKim, Long Beach, bruised; H. T. Wedgeworth, Bakersfield, ankle fractured; L. E. Kimble, Bakersfield, collarbone broken.

Lita Buschman and J. H. McKim, both of Southern California, were injured when their machine skidded on the Los Angeles highway, fifteen miles south of Bakersfield, and overturned. According to Traffic Officer Fred Payne, who brought the injured woman to Kern General Hospital, the highway was slippery and wet when the driver attempted to stop. The woman's left ear was almost cut off by broken glass, and her face was badly lacerated, while the man sustained only minor bruises.

AGED WOMAN DIES

Injuries in Auto Accident End in Death

LONG BEACH, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Anna B. Worley, 76 years of age, of 909 Atlantic avenue, died at St. Mary's Hospital here early this afternoon, the result of injuries sustained Saturday night when she was struck by an automobile near her home while crossing the street. Her injuries, thought at first to have consisted of a fractured leg and minor contusions, proved fatal because of her age, physicians said.

According to police, the woman was struck by a car driven by F. L. Davis, 1050 Atlantic avenue, as she essayed to cross the street in the middle of the block. The accident was declared by police to have been unavoidable. The body was taken to the Holton & Son morgue by order of the Coroner. An inquest will be held some day this week.

SHERIFFS BREAK UP PASTIME

Orange County Officers in Raid on Well-Attended Cock Fight

SANTA ANA, Jan. 17. — An old-fashioned game cockfight with ten dead roosters at the side of the ring, two others fighting for their lives in the circle and ninety-two Mexicans as interested spectators was the scene that greeted the eyes of four deputy sheriffs who were called to Brea Canyon at noon, and who arrested five men and one woman.

Charged with possession of liquor, Adolph Salazara and C. Mesa, both of Los Angeles, said to be the ringleaders of the "convention of cock fighters," were fined $500 each after they pleaded guilty before Justice Kenneth Morrison today. Neither was able to pay the fine.

Ambrizo Santago and Albert Ramirez charged with game-cock fighting, were each given thirty-day jail sentences and Rafael Monterubio was given a term of sixty days in jail on the same charge. The woman, Guadalupe Merelis, Los Angeles, held on a vagrancy charge, pleaded not guilty and her trial was set for the 26th inst. at 9 a.m.

As the officers, Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, and Deputies Jimmy Smith, Jack Comb and Don Mosely approached they were seen by the crowd which beat a hasty retreat. All were rounded up, however, after several shots were fired in the air by the authorities. Ten dead cocks lay at the side of the huge ring indicating that the fighting had been going on for some time before the officers arrived.

Heart Attack Brings Death to Duck Hunter

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 17.—John A. Hunter, 69-year-old retired capitalist of Los Angeles, died Sunday while duck hunting at the Zeroleme Gun Club in the Pond district northwest of here, and about an hour later his lifeless body was found in a concrete duck "blind" by Dan Higman of Los Angeles, one of his companions. Death followed a heart attack, officials believe.

According to information received here, Hunter and his wife drove to the gun club Saturday evening with a group of Los Angeles sportsmen. Early Sunday morning the men stationed their decoys in the ponds surrounding their blinds.

About 8 o'clock in the morning Hunter was seen shooting ducks from his blind near Pond but there followed a long silence, beginning about 9 o'clock. An hour later the man's companions noticed scores of ducks flying near Hunter's blind, many of them alighting among his decoys and when no shots were fired, they feared something was wrong.

When Higman waded to the blind Hunter was sprawled in the bottom of the concrete structure. It is believed he had been dead for about an hour.

The Los Angeles capitalist is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hunter and a daughter living in Pittsburgh, Pa. The body is at Pickinger mortuary, where Coroner, N. C. House will conduct an inquest late today. Following the inquest the body will be forwarded to Los Angeles for interment.

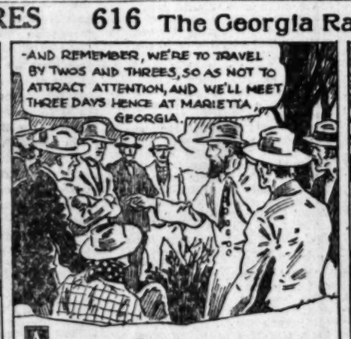
OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES — 616 The Georgia Railroad Raid (Part Two). — by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE TWENTY-FOUR MEN TO ACCOMPANY ANDREWS, THE FEDERAL SPY, ON HIS SECRET BRIDGE-BURNING EXPEDITION INTO GEORGIA WERE TAKEN FROM THE 2ND, 21ST AND 33RD OHIO REGIMENTS OF GENERAL BILL'S BRIGADE AND WERE AT FIRST IGNORANT OF THE NATURE OF THE HAZARDOUS UNDERTAKING THAT WAS BEFORE THEM.



AT SUNDOWN ON APRIL 7, 1862, THE MEMBERS OF THE RAIDING PARTY, DRESSED IN ROUGH CIVILIAN GARB AND ARMED ONLY WITH REVOLVERS, MET IN THE WOODS NEAR SHELBYVILLE, WHERE ANDREWS OUTLINED HIS DESPERATE PLAN AND GAVE THEM THEIR ORDERS.

LEAVING SHELBYVILLE, THE RAIDERS, TRAVELING AFOOT OVER ROADS SODDEN WITH RAIN, PASSED THE CONFEDERATE LINES ON VARIOUS PRETEXTS AND MADE THEIR WAY TO CHATTANOOGA, WHERE THEY WERE TO BOARD SOUTHBOUND TRAINS FOR MARIETTA AS ORDINARY PASSENGERS.

AS THE RAIN CONTINUED, ANDREWS BELIEVED THAT THE MUDDY ROADS WOULD DELAY THE ADVANCE OF MITCHEL'S ARMY UPON HUNTSVILLE, AND PASSED THE WORD AMONG HIS FOLLOWERS THAT THE ATTEMPT WOULD BE POSTPONED UNTIL SATURDAY, APRIL 12.

CONTINUED TOMORROW.

(Suggests the Magazine of Wall Street)

THIS leading financial publication says: "During each day of this month make it a fixed rule to watch every expenditure 'like a miser.' Don't be half way about it either, but spend your money like a real honest-to-goodness story-book miser. Wherever you avoid spending even a few cents unnecessarily, make a note of the amount saved and how you accomplish it. If you get the habit of saving pennies and dimes, you will find yourself saving dollars without effort. Of course, the real purpose of this plan is to obtain a basis for a new and revised budget based entirely on your own experience."

It's a rather bold idea—but whether you favor it or not we suggest that you open a Bank of America savings account any way.

You needn't be a miser—but we can help you to be a thrifty saver.

SOCIETY PLANS TO LOCATE HERE

Spanish-American Alliance Opens Convention

May Remove Head Office to This City

Mayor Welcomes Delegates as Session Begins

The advisability of removing the headquarters of their organization from Tucson to Los Angeles will be one of the important subjects to be discussed at their meeting by the 300 delegates to the twelfth annual convention of the Spanish-American Alliance, international fraternal society, which opened its session at the Alexandria yesterday.

"Our society is organized under the laws of Mexico and we are finding the laws of Arizona less favorable to our form of operation than we believe the California laws would be," said Dr. J. A. Samaniego of Los Angeles, a prominent member of the society and chairman of the local entertainment committee.

STATES REPRESENTED

The delegates represent the States of California, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Texas and also the Northern Mexican States of Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila and Guanajuato and the Mexican Federal districts. The organization numbers about 10,000 members.

The convention, which was opened by Samuel Brown of Los Angeles, supreme president, at 10 o'clock, was addressed by Mayor Cryer, who welcomed the delegates to Los Angeles. Most of the business transacted yesterday was devoted to the naming of committees.

"The real work of the convention will not start until tomorrow," said Dr. Samaniego. "Aside from the discussion of matters pertaining to the progress of the society, we will give some time to the discussion of plans for the establishment of a home for orphans and disabled members.

"It is the wish of a large number of our members that this home be built in Los Angeles. We already have a nucleus of $17,000 in the treasury for this purpose, and, if possible, will get the project launched at this time."

FINANCES STABLE

During yesterday's proceedings a message was received from Abe Landis of Nashville, the society's actuary, and a prominent member of the American Actuarial Society, with which the Spanish-American Alliance is affiliated, congratulating the organization on the excellence of its financial condition, the message stating that the alliance at this moment is 100 per cent solvent.

Last night the delegates participated in the society's annual ball, which was given at Odd Fellows' Temple, and tomorrow night the annual banquet will be given at the Alexandria.

The international officers attending the convention, aside from President Brown, are A. S. Celaya, supreme secretary; M. Cervantez, supreme treasurer, and J. S. Serrano, supreme vice-president, all of Tucson. The convention will conclude next Saturday with the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Saving Time At the Dentist's

PEOPLE with little time to spare can get their dental work done promptly in offices using the E. R. Parker System. The old idea that you had to do a lot of waiting, make a lot of visits and go through a lot of professional red tape, is all wrong. That is what makes old style dentistry so costly and unsatisfactory.

E.R. PARKER SYSTEM

Under the E. R. Parker System your teeth are examined without delay by an experienced dentist, who tells you at once what work your teeth need and what the price will be for doing it. If you decide to have your teeth cared for, the work can be done immediately. The work then proceeds without a single postponement, and is completed as soon as good dentistry can possibly be done and at the lowest price. The result is not only a saving of time, but money also. HAWAII TO GET FLOWER GARLANDS

Honolulu Girl Would Like to Establish Welcoming Custom in Southland

Virginia Bollman of Honolulu is responsible for the change. When the steamer Calawali sailed for Hawaii yesterday, Miss Bollman appeared at the dock wearing strings of California flowers which she had fashioned into garlands much like those bestowed by the islanders upon arriving visitors.

"There's no reason why California, with its profusion of flowers, should not have a similar custom," said Miss Bollman. "It may seem like carrying coals to Newcastle for me to be wearing leis to Honolulu, but I'm going to do it just the same in the hope of starting the custom here in California."

CINEMATIC STARS TALK CLUB PLAN

Louis B. Mayer Sponsors Move for Meeting Point of Film Industry

Formation of a cinema club to serve as a magnet to centralize social and educational activities of the motion-picture colony in Los Angeles was seriously discussed at a meeting of more than a score of actors, directors and producers at the home of Louis B. Mayer, studio executive, it was learned last night.

The meeting was held Sunday night. According to Mayer it began as an informal gathering that once a month visits his home, but the idea of the proposed club, once broached, monopolized interest.

Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford and a number of others well known in the picture world listened to an outline of the plan as it originated from Mr. Mayer, Fred Niblo, Conrad Nagel and Milton Sills and are said to have been enthusiastic about its possibilities.

"We need some place for the motion-picture people to gather," said Mayer in explanation. "Other industries have their own organizations, why not we? The club, as we plan it, would be educational as well as social and would be operated somewhat along the same lines as the Steele Institute. At present we have to go to hotels for big gatherings Of course, the idea has only been discussed so far and no direct action taken as yet, but I, for one, would welcome it."

Gen. Strong, Ill, Will Visit Here After Recovery

Gen. Frederick S. Strong, widely known retired army officer and artillery expert, who has been ill at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, O., plans to visit Pasadena soon, accompanied by Mrs. Strong, according to advices received by friends yesterday. The trip will be made as soon as physicians attending Gen. Strong advise that he is able to travel.

According to the reports received here, Gen. Strong believes he will recover his strength during a sojourn in Southern California.

Gen. Strong, who is 71 years of age, retired from the Army on August 17, 1919, at his own request, after thirty-nine years of active military service.

Graduating from the United States Military Academy in 1880, he was commissioned second lieutenant in the Fourth Artillery in 1880 and served in the Spanish-American War. He was made brigadier-general in 1915, major-general in 1917 and commanded the Fortieth Division from August 25, 1917 to April 20, 1919, during its service in France throughout this country's participation in the World War.

How Union-ETHYL Stops Motor "Knocks"

Perhaps you have been puzzled by annoying knocks in the motor of your car. That jerky uneven pull on hills, in traffic, when shifting gears has made you wonder how this knocking comes about.

The answer is detonation.

Let us illustrate with an example of smokeless powder in the big guns of the army and the navy.

What is Detonation?

Detonation is a powerful explosion, always accompanied by a sharp, quick report. It tears, jerks, pounds and knocks, if not properly controlled.

Whether in a cannon or in an automobile engine, detonation causes a rending, rapid frictional wear. It is the most destructive force known to explosive engineers.

Without smokeless powder modern big guns would not be practical, for after only a few shots with a charge such as dynamite they would be unfit for further use.

The damage would result from detonation—all the force of the explosion being expended in one crashing blow against the projectile.

Dynamite would be a detonating charge.

But "smokeless" powder is non-detonating.

Its explosion (burning) and the power from it are sustained against the projectile throughout its entire movement through the gun. A tremendous force is thus unloosed under good control.

Here is greater power with less recoil. And projectiles are thrown several times as far with less harm to the guns.

Union Gasoline has always been an outstanding non-detonating fuel for motor cars, acting against a motor's piston as smokeless powder acts against the projectile in a gun. It exerts greater power with less "knock" and vibration than ordinary detonating gasoline.

And now comes the Ethyl compound, a highly effective agent that science has developed after years of tests and actual use to still further control detonation in a motor fuel.

In combination with Union Non-Detonating Gasoline it represents the smoothest, swiftest and most powerful of fuels now known for use in motor cars.

It stops the "knocks" by completely ending detonation—by causing the gas to keep on delivering its expanding power throughout the entire length of the piston's stroke.

Heavy "knocking" in a motor's cylinder is like the detonation of a high explosive in the old-time, short-range gun.

Union-Ethyl's action is like that of "smokeless" powder in the modern long-range rifles, now used on the dreadnaughts of the world's great navies.

It completely ends the detonation and so completely ends the "knock."

Thus lack of power, sluggishness on hills, sputtering pick-ups, and the kindred motor ills that detonation and knocking cause, are entirely eliminated.

Strains on your motor are reduced. Repair bills come less frequently. A new joy, a new thrill in driving soon becomes your prime delight.

Try Union-Ethyl today. Put it to the hardest tests you know.

Then note the difference.

Search Widens for Young Girl Missing Month

Police search widened last night for Estella Lemingwell, 17 years of age, missing from the home of her father, Tujunga Canyon real estate dealer, for the past thirty days.

According to Policewoman Estelle Hamm, in charge of the investiga- tion, no reason for the girl's pro- longed absence can be learned and the present theory is that she may be a victim of amnesia. An unfor- tunate termination of a love affair shortly before she disappeared may have affected her mind, the police declare.

The girl was last seen downtown November 21, when she wrote a note to her parents saying she wanted to be alone for a few days. She is de- scribed as being pretty with dark hair, weighing 110 pounds. She wore a gray plain coat with opossum col- lar, gray stockings and black velvet

"Prices slightly higher on Pacific Coast"

Easy terms—a little down and the balance monthly—every model at the lowest price in history.

The Measure of Success is Value

As every good product gains recognition and increasing popular demand, its price naturally becomes lower. When it reaches that point where its success is unquestioned, it establishes a new mark for value—and sells for the lowest possible price consistent with its unequaled quality.

Kelvinator is a success. And, true to this standard for judging its position, now sells for the lowest price in the history of electric refrigeration.

Startling price reductions take effect today!

No other system offers you all the advantages of Kelvination. To the comfort, convenience and healthfulness of electric refrigeration—plenty of dainty ice cubes and easily made frozen salads and desserts—Kelvination adds the correct engineering and proved service that contribute so much to its supremacy and guarantee your own continued satisfaction.

Only with Kelvinator can you get the Zone of Kelvination, a CONSTANT temperature zone between 40° and 50° in which food keeps perfectly. This is the Zone of Health.

It is under Kelvinator thermostatic control—an exclusive Kelvinator development operated by the temperature of the very air it governs. The Kelvinator freezing unit supplies a storage of "COLD THAT KEEPS"—for a full twenty-four hours even though the electric current may be interrupted temporarily. Less moving parts and fewer starts and stops secure for it exceptional quiet and durability.

The oldest domestic electric refrigeration, Kelvination has been tested by thousands upon thousands of women in every State of the Union since 1914. It is the system of longest proved efficiency and lowest service record—less than one service call per unit per year.

Kelvinator is an unquestioned success in every country where electric power is available. And today it is offering even greater service as a result of the wonderful new building and expansion program just completed. This development brings Kelvinator within the reach of every home at exceptionally low prices for quality unsurpassed.

IN CASE NO ONE HAS BBOUGHT THIS WON-DERFUL BARGAIN SINCE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON, THE PRICE DROPS $500 TO-MORROW.

After weeding out all my prospects, who are waiting around for me to get to the bottom of what I will take for this house, there are three who are sure they are going to get it. They'd be stealing it at today's price, $10,- 000, but they are waiting. Tomorrow the price drops to $10,000. I am not prepared to say whether it will be cheaper on Thursday or not. Have just sent wire to New York and the answer determines what I will do next. This is an honest house and worth $13,000 of the hardest money you ever earned. My opportunity in a lifetime. I am willing to lose some real cash, as my today's price shows. I am NOT in a panic. Everything is paid upon on this house until next July & the paper against it is 7% annually. Call owner, Mr.
Bennett, at Gladstone 8350, for complete description & appointment to buy. Any attempt interested in owning a fine home. Beat some of those wise people to it.
